SWIMMING POOL SITE IS SELECTED

A party consisting of Mayor Dumble, members of the city council, members of the recently appointed committee, which is working to secure a municipal swimming pool and a number of interested citizens met early Tuesday on the old city spring plot in the western part of the town and inspected lots just below the old reservoir. A great deal of interest is now being manifested in the proposed municipal pool, and it is probable that such a place of recreation will be constructed just below the old reservoir. It is planned to have the pool so built that the water from the reservoir may be turned into it. As soon as the pool is filled the cold water will be turned off and the water in the swimming basin allowed to get warm. Coming directly from the old reservoir the water would be entirely too cold for comfort.

The municipal swimming pool committee has chosen a very appropriate place for a swimming pool for the boys of the city. A very inexpensive pool can be constructed at the city park. The boys will have plenty of fun, and yet here will not be the element of danger ever prevailing, when they are disporting themselves in the treacherous waters of the Columbia.

A Word About the Hood River Chorus

Hood River Chorus was organized in the middle part of January of this year. It was distinctly understood by all that the organization was un denominational, although the minister of the Riverside church was chosen as director. The outline of the work that the chorus was to do was presented at the second meeting of the chorus, and heartily adopted. Chorus was to do progressive work, beginning with anthems and songs both religious and patriotic or secular and gradually working up to the standard oratorios like Mendelssohn's Elijah.

The first of the public concerts which consisted of a program of patriotic and Colonial songs and anthems was given February 22 to a large, appreciative audience.

The second public concert which was to have been given, according to a previous plan, on March 29, was not given on that date because of a request of the U. B. church that wished to give a musical concert on that date.

The chorus has had a change of date and also, that the oratorio Emmanuel, which the chorus was then rehearsing, be given at a union meeting preferably, the Sunday after Easter. The director has been laboring under the impression that all churches knew of the plan of the chorus and that each church accepted the invitation to the union service. The churches, however, did not possess such an official information until about a week ago and therefore the projected union meeting must be postponed.

A. S. Donat,
Director Hood River Chorus.

F-4 Victim Known Here

F. C. Colwell, an electrician on the ill-fated F-4, the submarine boat that sank last week in very deep water near Honolulu, was known to Postmaster Lucas.

Both the boy's parents formerly were employed by me," said Mr. Lucas, "when I was living at Lone Rock in southern Wasco county. The mother did house work and the father worked on the ranch. They were married at my home."

Young Colwell, who is about 25 years of age, was born at The Dalles.

Stanton Did Not Make Suggestions

It seems the idea is prevalent that the resolutions submitted to voters for approval on road plans were suggested in part at least, by Judge Stanton. The opposite is the truth. Judge Stanton, on being asked by myself if a series of suggestions regarding road work might be looked upon with favor by the court, replied that if such resolutions could be submitted to the people so that they could vote on them, yes or no, the court would place much more faith in them than if they were submitted in numerous petitions, many of the names on petitions being written there because of the friendship of the man presenting the petition to the signer, when the signer had not given serious thought to the matter.

The idea of getting the suggestions was one of the road committee of the Commercial club. Of the committee that drafted the resolutions but one is a member of the Commercial club. The club road committee and the directors approved them as submitted, with one addition, to wit, No. 10 was added.

Students Give Latin Play

The Hood River high school students presented last Thursday night at the library hall, entirely in Latin, the play entitled "A Roman Wedding." The actors were garbed in traditional togas and actual Roman customs were followed. The cast of characters was as follows: Tullia, bride, Miss Della Morton; Gaius Piso, Allen Button; Marcus Tullius Cicero, Clifford McDonald; Terentia, Miss Alice Tomkins; Lucius Pisco F., Chester Papp; mother of bridegroom, Laura Bronner; Marcus Tullius Cicero, Jr., Robert McClanahan; Pontifex Maximus, Walter Nichol; Quintus Hortensius, Arthur Johnson; Pronubus, Miss Mary Sheppard; musician, Courtney Allen; bridesmaids, Misses Castner and Helen Carson; Marcia, Beatie Aisms; Philotima, Mary Winans; Tiro, Lee Spaulding; Anna, Marie Bartness.

Bowly List Changed

Instead of $50,000, as had been recommended by Major Bowly, who was recently deposed as state highway engineer, having been succeeded by E. I. Cantine, of Portland, Hood River will receive $50,000. A new apportionment was made by the State Highway Commission in session at Salem Tuesday. Other counties will receive the following sums: Douglas county, $20,000; Clatsop, $35,000; Jackson, $30,000; Josephine, $5,000. Twenty thousand will go toward caring for miscellaneous items, and the Rex Tigardville road near Portland, $7,231.

Peter Mohr Says Prospects Fine

Peter Mohr, one of the East Side pioneer ranchers, declares that he looks for an exceedingly heavy yield of pit fruit this year.

"If we just do not have a frost in the next few weeks," he says, "we are going to have such a peach and cherry crop as was never seen here before."

Mr. Mohr, however, says he looks for a comparatively light yield in a number of apple orchards.

Grand Jury Recommends Jail Baths

The grand jury, the members of which finished their work Tuesday afternoon, have recommended the installation of sanitary lavatory and toilet in the city prison. Such a recommendation has been made by numerous grand juries in the past. However, the last body went a little further and stated that a compulsory bath tub installed in the jail might prove to be of general good.

The books of the county officials were found to be in good condition, and the grand jury declared that the public grounds should be a source of pride.

A warning was registered against too much leniency in the case of granting widows' pensions. The grand jury also issued a warning against the reckless driving of motor cars and urged that laws governing motorists be strictly enforced.

The members of the grand jury were: J. H. Shoemaker, foreman, Rocece Miller, Frank Chandler, E. C. Miller, Fred G. Coe, J. P. Hillstrom and L. F. Collins.

N. Tostevin Passes Away

Nico Tostevin, who has been a resident of the valley since 1899, passed away at the Cottage hospital Tuesday night, after suffering from a stroke of paralysis.

Mr. Tostevin, who was 74 years of age, was a native of the island of Guernsey. In 1847 he came to the United States, settling first at Racine, Wis. He went later to Chicago where he was employed for many years.

M. Tostevin is survived by his widow and three children, N. Y. Tostevin and Mrs. E. N. Benson, of Hood River, and C. L. Tostevin, of Portland.

The funeral services will be conducted Friday morning.

Driscoll Gets New Shoer

L. V. Driscoll has at his Cascade avenue horshoeing shop a new horse-shoer, V. C. Jackson, whom he says is one of the best men of his profession in the state. Mr. Jackson, who was formerly located in Denver, Colo., has been at Oregon City for several months. He will bring his family to Hood River and make his permanent home here.

Nunamakers Expects Big Cherry Crop

J. R. Nunamaker, who on former years has shipped more cherries than any other valley grower, says the bloom on his place is very heavy this year, and that he looks for an unusually large crop. Mr. Nunamaker, whose cherry orchard is in the Belmont district, shipped 82,000 pounds of fruit last year.
