Widely Harvested Fine Loganberries D. L. Wyde, of the Barrett district, sold this year from five-eighths of an acre 235 crates of excellent loganberries, realizing a net price of $1 per crate. One hundred and sixty crates of the fruit were shipped to Pendleton, where they brought $1.25 per crate. "I could have sold a good many more berries if I had had them," says Mr. Wyde. No finer loganberries have ever been seen here. The bushes were two years old. As the fruit ripened the long red berries could be seen hanging in orderly rows up and down the stems of the bushes.

Prune Shipments Start this Week From the Mosier Bulletin The local association will begin this week to ship prunes. On Wednesday of last week a small shipment of Tennant prunes were sent out. The Italian prunes will be ready for the express cars the first of the week, followed by the Petite and other varieties. Plums, apricots and early peaches are now winding up, and the association during the past week has been sending out early apples and crab apples.

LIBRARY BOARD GETS DECISION Judge Bradshaw, who was here Monday to take care of cases not requiring a jury, handed down a decision in the county library-board case favoring the library board. The court in its budget session last December cut the salary of Miss Della F. Northey, former county librarian. The court at its budget session last December cut the salary of Miss Northey from $90 to $75. The board bases its action for a recovery on a contract, which was stated to have existed, between Miss Northey and the library board, the contract calling for the full amount of the $90 per month. The case had been presented to Judge Bradshaw in the form of a demurrer by the defendant court. The demurrer was denied, and now an answer to the complaint will be prepared and filed.
