ODELL

C. M. Sheppard left Hood River Saturday evening for Walla Walla, Wash.

Mrs. Geo. W. Ward went to Hood River Monday for a few days' visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Shearson went to Portland Tuesday. They expect to remain for a few days' visit with friends. Saturday they expect to board one of the big ocean liners bound for San Francisco, where they will visit the exposition. They expect to spend the winter in California.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Rodamar, of Waterloo, Ia., are here for a visit at the home of their son, Henry Rodamar. The Merry Matrons and their husbands were delightfully entertained at the cozy home of Mrs. D. P. and Mrs. H. D. Emery last Tuesday evening.

Aubrey Davis had not been enjoying his usual good health and Monday it was thought advisable for him to go to Portland for treatment at the sanatorium that is conducted under the auspices of the Adventists, the treatment and nursing at that institution having proven beneficial to many patients.

The next meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, sharp, at the school house. One of the speakers who will address the teachers' institute in Hood River next week will be secured, but a definite announcement as to which one, cannot be given at this date. Something worth while is promised.

Mrs. F. A. Masee and her son, Merlin, expect to leave here Friday, going direct to Astoria, thence to Flavel, where they will go via a big ocean steamer to San Francisco, the exposition and a winter in California.

Vacation all next week in Odell school on account of Hood River county teachers' institute, which will be held in Hood River the first days of the week and Thanksgiving Day the latter part of the week.

Rev. W. E. Klostler, of Dufur, Ore., will exchange pulpits with Rev. G. E. Heineck next Sunday, preaching at Odell Sunday morning at 9:45 and in the evening at 7:30. Rev. Klostler is well known as a very entertaining and forceful speaker and large and appreciative audiences should greet him at both morning and evening services.

The members of the Epworth League of Pine Grove will unite with those of the Odell Epworth League for the evening service.

Remember Odell 172 when you hear news of interest.

A very interesting meeting is being planned by the program committee of the Parent-Teacher Association for Monday evening, Nov. 22, at 7:30 o'clock. A speaker from the University of Oregon, special musical numbers and other features will make this a meeting which you will not care to miss. Come and help your child's room get the picture.

Temperance Sunday will be observed the fourth Sunday in this month with a short program under the direction of Mrs. S. R. McDonald.

In Memoriam

In the death of Mrs. D. H. Thorn the community has lost one of its strong characters. Mrs. Thorn was a woman of rare mental endowments, and with all possessing the qualities of heart that enabled her to help those who needed her assistance. Her husband, son and daughter have a full measure of sympathy in their great bereavement. If they can but look beyond their grief, their lives will be richer. In the sudden passing of this worthy woman she has joined the dear ones on the other shore, where the sorrows and trials of life are over and tears and fears are unknown.

OAK GROVE

Mrs. H. M. Francis returned home from the hospital Saturday.

Mart Horn has been laid up for a couple of weeks with a lame back, caused by heavy lifting.

Tarva Annala has gone to Portland to work in Meier & Frank's store until the first of the year, when he will go to Corvallis for the short course.

Miss Anna Mae Chipping, of Odell, visited over Sunday with Iia Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Skinner and daughter, Kathryn moved to Hood River Saturday, where they will occupy the Fording house on the Heights, for the winter.

Eino Jakku is attending school in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hayt and Miss Anderson, of Pine Grove, spent Sunday at W. L. Nichols'.

Mrs. J. H. Suttthoff and daughter, Helen, have left their ranch to spend the winter in Hood River.

The steam roller was brought out from town last Saturday to be used on our lately graded roads.

There will be no services at the church next Sunday. Rev. Heineck could not be here, so it was thought best to suspend Sunday school also.

The program of the Parent-Teacher Association last Friday was well rendered. It consisted of a talk on Mendelssohn by Mrs. Geo. Gladen, followed by illustrative selections from that composer's works by Mrs. Kanaga and Miss Stanton, Mrs. D. L. Pierson and Mr. and Mrs. Wedemeyer. The musical part of the program was followed by a talk on "Food Values" by Dr. E. D. Kanaga, which was very instructive.

Mrs. Frank Byrd went to Hood River last Wednesday, where she will visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stone, and also have some dental work done.

W. D. Copper sawed several cords of wood for one of our neighbors last Wednesday. Mr. Copper owns a gas-line saw and is kept quite busy sawing people's winter wood.

Delbert, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas, was burned quite seriously last week when he fell against the stove. The flesh on one arm was burned almost to the bone.

Luhr Jensen has been busy all week grading and packing the apples of the Eccles ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Davenport were Hood River shoppers last week.

and part of Sunday in Parkdale.

Our school teacher and several of her pupils drove to Hood River Saturday.

CENTRAL VALE

The Central Vale school will give a shadow social Friday evening. The ladies are asked to bring a box with lunch for two. The shadows will be sung and men will have the opportunity of getting a big bargain, a lady and a supper all for one price. All are cordially invited. The proceeds will be used for apparatus for the play shed, picture for the school, etc.

The evening will be spent in playing games which all may take part and enjoy.

CASCADE LOCKS.

At a special election held here Tuesday a tax of 84 mills was voted to complete the Columbia highway from the west end of the county and through the village of Cascade Locks. The vote stood 16 to 15.

Monday, Nov. 8, Allen O. Adams, Jr., son of Postmaster Adams, and Miss Olive Hon, daughter of C. C. Hon, both of Cascade Locks, were united in matrimony at 11 o'clock, at their honeymoon in Prineville. Will be at home to their friends after the 22nd of November.

The mill is idle and will be all winter. This will make hard times for those depending on the mill for work. A few are leaving town.

James Garlen and Postmaster Elliott, of Wyeth, reached the Locks too late to vote on the special tax and returned home with their feathers turned the wrong way.

We hear our railroad agent is to move up on to the hill. Good.

Wonder why Vera Olin was absent from Sunday school Sunday.

UNDERWOOD.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cash went to Vancouver Thursday for a visit, returning Monday. Miss Isabelle Haynes was "Hello" girl in their absence, giving us excellent service.

Engineer R. A. Kietler is in Stevenson for a short time, working on profiles and specifications for our Columbia highway. Bids are to be opened Nov. 20 for building a bridge across Wind river on this road.

Mrs. R. A. Klein is spending a few days in Portland.

Hard luck seems to follow George Hewett. His horse in some manner broke his leg while the stable last week, and had to be shot. This makes three horses and two cows Mr. Hewett has lost in the five years he has lived here.

Frank Hogue is our champion pedestrian. He challenges any youth of his size to a foot race underfoot on the hill. Nothing said about time coming back. Any girl that can induce a young man to walk five miles and back through the mud these dark nights, certainly possesses many attractions.

Miss Margaret Mears and Miss Dorothy Mann entertained the one Nominie club at a six o'clock dinner Friday evening of last week in honor of Miss Hazel Holmes and LeRoy Childs, who are to be married December 16. Dinner was served at Miss Mann's. The guests were seated at three tables, which were lighted with candles and beautifully decorated with roses. After the dinner came a shower of all sorts of kitchen utensils for the bride to be. Then all repaired to the Mears home, where progressive games of hearts were played until a late hour. Good nights were said, everyone declaring they had had the best time ever.

TROUT LAKE.

Mrs. C. H. Pearson entertained the young people Friday evening in honor of Miss Bessie Coste. It was Miss Bessie's birthday and the party was a surprise to her. She received many pretty and useful remembrances. A bountiful lunch was spread and games indulged in until a late hour.

Trout Lake grange held their regular meeting last Saturday. The new officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: W. C. Gault, president; N. N. Hawley, A. S., A. B. Rosentiel; Chap. Rev. E. M. Landis; Treas., C. A. Pearson; Sec., B. R. Richter; G. K., J. M. Fillion; C., Miss Moe; F. S. Miss Fichtner; F. Miss Pearson; L. A. S., Mrs. Thompson.

Dr. R. M. Andrus, dentist, of Woodland, Wash., has been spending a week here working at his profession, hunting and visiting friends made last summer.

The Doctor seems to please the people of this neighborhood, both personally and professionally. It is expected that he and his family will be numbered among the campers here next summer.

Several head of beef stock have been taken out lately. J. E. Reynolds going outside for that purpose. In the meantime, C. Guler held down the "Hello" station.

Mrs. Wm. Coate's many friends are glad to see her at home again.

Mrs. Alida Shoemaker left for California last week. She will visit the fair and spend some time visiting at different points with relatives and friends.

The Heights literary society will soon hold a basket social.

Miss Florence Carson is taking the Spanish course of study.

Don't forget the contest at the Baptist church between Class 4 and Class 5.

A party consisting of Mr. Volstorff, K. C. Bucklin, A. V. Bucklin, Mr. Paddock and Mr. Gilmore, went to Arlington last week goose hunting. They were unsuccessful in getting any geese.

Mr. Stewart, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin, visited them over Sunday. Mr. Stewart was a former resident of Hood River.

AT NEW ELECTRIC

Thursday and Friday

"When We Were 21," introducing to the motion picture public William Elliott.

As the wayward boy whom the Trinity, the three friends of his dead father, have so much trouble in saving from the consequences of his folly, William Elliott is admirably cast, and his denotement of the reactionary emotions of youth is always convincing and often touching. In all the action of the screen version of this noted play realism is dominant but there is always underlying it a pure sentiment, wholesome and inspiring and an impressive moral lesson that never intrudes upon the progress of the drama but rather that issues naturally from the development of the plot.

Saturday

A five reel mixed Mutual program.

Sunday and Monday

"The Spanish Jade." Few films have a stronger and more gripping plot than The Spanish Jade. If the production had no other merit than the strength of its plot, it would deserve to rank high, but the strength of the plot is not its only point of merit. The types and the atmosphere in the film story measure up to the highest expectations. One cannot run through 100 pages of Spanish literature without encountering the very types and the very atmosphere which made this film so different from the general run of film plays. There are many of the exterior scenes which are obviously "faked," and though the imitation is always clever, and through all the artificial exterior in a film, we must admit that the designer worked with a good original before his eyes. Nor are all the exterior artificial. Some are wonderful; fine; so much so that one regrets that there is any necessity for artificial props anywhere in the film.

The elements, mystery, adventure and paths have been most skillfully woven into a story which is bound to hold the interest of the spectator every part of the way from start to finish. The visualization of the characters is perfect in every detail. This means first that the spectator is able to understand the character almost the very instant it appears on the screen. The Spanish grangees, feasting on dry bread and an onion and spicing the frugal meal with recollections of past glory, the cringing faithful servant, the unbridled youth scorning discipline and flattering impulses of passion, the blond Spanish beauty (there are such beauties), graceful with womanly dignity all her own, the Englishman disappointed in love and traveling in Spain to forget his disappointment—all these are figures that might have stepped from the pages of any old Spanish book of fiction. It must be noted, too, that the minor characters—and there are many of them, are as finely drawn and as true to life as the leading parts. In this perfection of detail lies one of the great charms of the picture; the other is the powerful, well developed plot, which never lags nor halts nor digresses for a moment.

Tuesday and Wednesday

"Anthony and Cleopatra." Dramatically, spectacularly and photographically, George Kliehne's production of the Cines version of Anthony and Cleopatra is the premier photo drama of the world. Nothing equal to it has ever been produced. It suffices to say that it begins where Quo Vadis left off, follows Quo Vadis and is supposed to be the last word in photo dramatic art. This is the consensus of opinion of everybody who has seen Anthony and Cleopatra.

Pine Grove Parent-Teacher Ass'n

The Parent-Teacher Association of Pine Grove met the second Monday evening of this month with a large attendance. Six new members were added to the already large membership.

Local and instrumental music followed the business meeting, with a paper on "Hygiene," by Dr. Thrane, which if lived up to would give health, wealth and happiness.

Mr. Fertig gave a talk on cooperation of school and home, with a closer relationship between teachers and parents. He brought out the helpfulness and importance of a live Parent-Teacher club which would be in creating closer ties among parents, teachers and pupils.

Refreshments were served and an opportunity to inspect maps, basket weaving and drawing, with and without water colors, completed the evening's entertainment.

Neal Acquitted

Roy Neal, who was tried on a charge of larceny by bailee, having been accused of selling a horse, the property of Mrs. Fred Grove, was acquitted last week by a jury in circuit court.

Bank Advertisement No. 67

"The Nature of the Banking Business."

By H. S. McKee

(SERIES TWO)

"A savings bank is not so much a bank, in the broad sense, as it is a standard public investment; and in reality, a savings deposit should be classified as an investment rather than as a bank account. The wise investment of money is an art which few live long enough to learn. The average investor has to deal with small sums, in odd amounts, and at irregular intervals. He is without experience or education in the selection of investments and, too, there are almost no suitable investments for such sums.

"The savings bank affords him an immediate investment for any amount, large or small, and it bears interest from the date of deposit. It is a safe investment, requires no investigation or study, pays about the same income that the very highest grade of investments pay the world over, and can be converted back into money upon reasonable notice, and without loss or shrinkage."

(The next article of this series, appearing at an early issue, will take up the subject of commercial banking.)
