HANS LAGE RECALLS HOOD RIVER ARRIVAL

"I recall snowfall just 40 years ago that was this early," said Hans Lage, a pioneer homesteader of the East Side, last Thursday, when discussing the snowstorm that was prevailing over the Hood River valley. "My family and my wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claus Hock, arrived at the Hood River boat landing November 12, 1875. It was snowing then.

"A flag was flying at the boat landing. It had been raised on the day before at the time of the arrival of a colony of settlers from Elmira, N. Y., and points in Pennsylvania. We remained a day or two in Hood River, then a mere settlement, and walked, after ferrying across the Columbia to the farm place, where we were contemplating settling. On the morning of November 18 the thermometer registered a temperature of four degrees below zero at Gilmer and three feet of snow covered the ground."

In addition to his wife, Mr. Lage's family at the time of his arrival consisted of two daughters, now matrons of the Apple Valley, Mrs. W. P. Scobee and Mrs. J. H. Koberg, and a son, Henry Lage. The home place of Mr. Lage has always been conspicuous in the East Side orchard district. While neighbors planted all of their tillable land to apple trees, a portion of the Lage ranch was reserved for grain. While the German pioneer, who came here from Iowa, has engaged in the orchard business, he has consistently practiced diversified farming.

But three surviving members of the Elmira party now remain in Hood River. They are Mrs. Emma Ingalls and her son, J. W. Ingalls, and Chas. Wallace, whose father, J. W. Wallace, passed away last summer. A sister of Mr. Wallace, Mrs. W. B. Perry, now resides in California. But few of the New York and Pennsylvania emigrants remained in Hood River longer than to stop over for the winter. As soon as spring came they journeyed on down the Columbia to the Willamette valley. The late Lyman Smith, whose death occurred last Wednesday at the home of his son, Will Smith, in Portland, was a member of the party.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE HERE NEXT WEEK

The annual institute of Hood River county teachers will be held here next week, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 22, 23 and 24, the Thanksgiving holidays of the county schools lasting throughout the week.

County Superintendent Thompson announces the following speakers for the institute: M. S. Pitman, of the Monmouth State Normal; B. W. de Bask, of the University of Oregon; E. T. Reed, of the Oregon Agricultural College; Frank E. Welles, assistant state superintendent of education; Mrs. E. B. Frazelle, of Multnomah county; Mrs. Leila Aultman, of Monmouth; J. O. McLaughlin, superintendent of the Hood River city schools; F. L. Griffin, of the Oregon Agricultural College industrial club department, and J. Teuscher, Jr., of the Portland Boys' and Girls' Aid society. Prof. L. B. Gibson will have charge of the musical program for the event.

Prof. Thompson desires especially to call the attention of Hood River people to the lecture to be given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Frazelle, who will discuss the work of the Parent-Teacher associations. All people of real interest in this movement are urged to be present.

Tuesday night Prof. Griffin will give an illustrated lecture, showing the past year's work of the industrial clubs. All meetings will be held at Library hall.

P. P. I. E. Notes

(From Oregon Commission Bulletin) The Oregon building now boasts the most remarkable apple exhibit on the exposition grounds—a three box display of Newtown Pippins from the crops of as many years; Benish box of the 1915 crop stands another of the 1914 crop, and beside that is a third box of the 1913 crop. Except for the fact that the 1914 apples are yellow, as a matter of course, there is little or no difference between these and the year's apples. The box of fruit picked in 1913 is a very deep yellow and is not far from decay, but these apples take a splendid polish and are not discredited beside the others. This display occupying a special position and properly placarded is made by H. O. Frobach, of the southern Oregon booth, and attracts a great deal of attention.

The keeping quality of Oregon apples has been impressed upon visitors thoroughly during this fair, placards telling just how long fruit has been on display. While California experts change the fruit in their exhibits every three or four weeks, Oregon's representatives find it unnecessary to make a change under 10 weeks and in many instances boxes of apples are kept on display four months.

Fifty boxes of Spitzburg apples from Ashland, 50 from Medford, 50 from the Willamette valley, 50 from Hood River and 50 from eastern Oregon placed on display in the Oregon building, were on November 15 given to the thousands attracted by Oregon apple day.

The real display of Oregon apples at this time is that in the Palace of Horticulture, this being comprised of the 100 boxes set out for competitive purposes. These apples come wholly from Hood River and Rogue River valleys and are the finest these famed sections can produce. More than 30 varieties are represented, and the display, just now being finished for judgment by the jury of awards is beautiful beyond compare. Oregon has a larger number of competitive entries than any other state and there is confidence that the jury will find that Oregon has the finest fruit being shown at the exposition. The display is set in the center of the Oregon pavilion at the Palace of Horticulture, cannot be passed by the thousands and will not be passed by any who catch even a glimpse, for it is one of those displays that hold the attention and bring out those satisfying "ohs."

How to Prevent Croup

It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases croup can be prevented. Mrs. M. Johns, Elida, Ohio, relates her experience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and when he began having that croupy cough I would give him one or two doses of it and it would break the attack. I like it better for children than any other cough medicine because children take it willingly, and it is safe and reliable." Obtainable everywhere.

POMONA GRANGE ADDS 25 NEW MEMBERS

At the meeting of Hood River county Pomona grange at Pine Grove Wednesday of last week 25 new members were added. The meeting was one of the best in the history of the organization, more than 100 being present. In the absence of Worthy Master Johannsen, who arrived with his wife in the later afternoon, A. I. Mason presided.

The vacancy in the chair of secretary caused by the tragic death of Mrs. Nettie Thorn, was filled by the election of A. B. Gehr.

Interesting reports were read by secretaries of all district granges. A discussion of the unemployed problem was participated in.

The ladies of the district served an excellent dinner. The meeting was decorated with pumpkin jack o'lanterns.

A resolution asking the Mount Hood Railway Co. to inaugurate a Wednesday train from Parkdale for the benefit of the Upper county people was adopted.

The city council was given a vote of thanks for covering Twelfth and Ninth streets with a rough surface, preventing horses from slipping.

Action was taken providing for the appointment of five members from each of the four county granges and a like number from the Pomona grange to act as a committee to appear before the county court and its advisory board on budget day.

J. H. Mohr, secretary of the Pine Grove grange, read a paper on success of the organization in supplying its members with supplies.

A. I. Mason delivered a talk on the effectiveness of grange insurance. The next Pomona meeting will be held at Park grange in the Barrett district on the second Wednesday in February.

The following resolution of condolence was adopted:

Whereas, Our Divine Master has deemed it wise to call our sister, Mrs. Nettie E. Thorn, to the realms of everlasting peace and

Whereas, Sister Thorn was one of our earnest workers and our Worthy Secretary at the time of her death, Therefore, Be it resolved, that the Hood River County Pomona grange extend to her husband, H. H. Thorn, and her children our heartfelt sympathy in this their time of bereavement. Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to Bro. J. H. Mohr, secretary of the grange, and also copies sent to each of our local granges.

Respectfully signed, H. S. Crouse, Parkdale Grange, 500, F. H. Miller, Park Grange, 501, F. H. Blackman, Pine Grove Grange, 356, A. J. Nelson, Odell Grange, 506.

H. R. GAS & ELECTRIC TAKES OVER HYDRO

Announcement has been made by Albert S. Hall, manager of the Hood River Gas & Electric Co., a subsidiary concern of the Pacific Power & Light Co., that the parent company has taken over the physical properties of the Hydro-Electric Co.

"The properties have been leased to our company," says Mr. Hall, "and hereafter the two plants will be operated under a single management."

The Oregon Railway Commission, in a rate decision rendered July 14, placed the value of the Hydro-Electric holdings at $11,977.08. The plant, built on Hood river about six miles from the city, began operation about February 1, 1912. Patents of incorporation were granted June 5, 1911, authorizing a capital stock of $250,000. The sum of $150,000 in par value was issued as fully paid common stock, in consideration of the transfer by the promoters of the real estate, water rights, and secondary franchises held by them. Of the $100,000 of preferred stock authorized, the sum of $30,000, par value, eight per cent cumulative, was issued to offset credits to the subscribers of such stock for advances made by them in the construction of the plant.

On January 15, 1913, the entire capital stock of the company came under the control of the American Power & Light Co.

Commercial Club Notes

Uncle Charlie (C. R.) Bone stepped into the club office last Thursday afternoon, fresh from a three days' trip to Portland, full of enthusiasm for Hood River. When asked if he had been to the Land show he acknowledged he forgot all about it. He said he had been talking to a lot of people who were knocking Hood River and feeling sorry that the land valuations of five years ago had dropped to so much lower levels. But Mr. Bone said he told them the land was still here, and doing for crops as well as it ever had.

"Why," he says, "I told 'em Hood River was going to take in more money for crops this year than any year in its history—and its so," he said. "Why, Hood River is going to take in over a million dollars this year for her soil crops alone, besides making most of her own butter and raising a sight more of her hay than she ever did before. It's too bad we have some of our citizens who can't stand the pressure left from 1910; but the future never looked so good to me for Hood River as it does right now. Whenever a man wants to buy an Oregon orchard from now on he isn't going to look any place else besides Hood River, you see if he does."

On the evening of Friday, Nov. 26, Dean Cordley, of the O. A. C., will be in Hood River and hold a meeting in the club rooms, to which business men are requested to come. The financial side of the experiment station will be discussed. What it means in better fruit as a better income producer; the present cost and results. Shall we continue to support it, or shall the station be enlarged, or quit. All are invited.

Schools Get New Books

Prof. C. D. Thompson is busy this week making a distribution of 800 books that have been received for county school libraries. The books will be prorated among the different schools according to student population.

Superintendent Thompson is expecting an additional shipment of 200 books. These were delayed because of a slide in the Panama canal.

Distress in the Stomach

There are many people who have a distress in the stomach after meals. It is due to indigestion and easily remedied by taking one of Chamberlain's Tablets after meals. Mrs. Henry Padgham, Victor, N. Y., writes: "For some time I was troubled with headaches and distress in my stomach after eating, also with constipation. About six months ago I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. They regulated the action of my bowels and the headache and other annoyances ceased in a short time." Obtainable everywhere.

COLUMBIA A. & M. CO. PEOPLE OPTIMISTIC

Among the most optimistic citizens of Hood River are D. H. Drewery and Harry F. DeWitt, of the Columbia Auto & Machine Co., both of whom are expecting one of the best years the valley has ever had in the automobile business next year. The automobile men are receiving many inquiries for Ford and Dodge, both of which have proven very popular in the orchard district and with businessmen of the city.

"We are expecting a number of sales at Cascade Locks," says Mr. Drewery. "The opening of the Columbia river highway has been a great stimulus to the people there. For years they have been unable to reach the outside world, except by train and boat."

Last week the Columbia Auto & Machine Co. sold two second hand cars, one a Studebaker formerly owned by E. R. Pooley, to John Smithson, an employe of the Oregon-Washington Telephone Co. here, and the other, a Ford runabout, to P. H. Holmes, of Salem.

The Ford was shipped from here to Portland. From that city it was driven to Salem by Mr. Drewery, who was accompanied by his wife.

HUMANE SOCIETY HAS ITS ANNUAL ELECTION

The Hood River county Humane Society elected officers for the ensuing year as follows at a meeting Saturday: E. O. Blanchard, pres.; James Stranahan, vice pres.; C. D. Nickelsen, sec.; Leslie Butler, treas.; members of the board of directors: Mrs. L. Boyden, Mrs. L. M. Baldwin, Mrs. Alma Howe, J. E. Andrews, John Otten, Mrs. S. E. Bartmess and C. E. Lovell.

During the past year as a result of investigations begun by the society a number of prosecutions have taken place. A number of injured animals have been cared for.

An effort will be made by the organization to have humane literature placed in the schools of the county. The society asks that any case of neglect or cruelty be reported to its officers at once.

Johnson Secures Judgment

J. L. Johnson, who was suing in a replevin action to restore to the premises a water system, was given judgment against the Pacific Land Co., of which A. Welch was president. It was claimed by the land company that the water system apparatus never attached as fixtures to the realty, and that since it was personal property they had the right of removal. However, they failed to maintain their contentions by the evidence adduced.

Signs of Danger

Should be Heeded by Hood River People

There's serious danger in neglecting any weakness of the kidneys. The warning that Nature gives should not be overlooked. If troubled by too frequent passage of the kidney secretions; burning or scalding; if the secretions are highly colored and contain sediment when left standing—if you have backache, too, with frequent headaches and dizziness, make up your mind that your kidneys are affected and begin using some reliable kidney remedy. Deaths from kidney disease have decreased in the United States alone, 72 per cent in the last 20 years. The risk is great—you can't afford to delay. Hood River people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.
