To the editor: In a recent issue I noticed several references to the wonderful profits in growing pears. I submit the following costs of production and prices received. I know that good prices were obtianed for Bosc and d'Anjou, but by far the larger bulk of our crop is Bartletts and other varieties, so I cannot see where the great profit is coming from.

Rains Cause Columbia to Rise

Deceased.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed by the County Court of Hood River County, Oregon, as Administrator of the above entitled estate, and that he has duly qualified as such. All persons having claims against said estate are hereby required to present the same to the undersigned, duly verified according to law, at "The Pastime" cigar store in the city of Hood River, Oregon, within six (6) months from the date of the first publication of this notice.

Dated and first published this 25th day of November, 1915. The rain storms that have prevailed the past week over eastern Oregon and Washington are now showing in the rapid rise of the Columbia river. The local office of the Regulator line reports that the Columbia is about three feet higher than normally at this season of the year, and the stream continues to rise. Up to two weeks ago the Columbia was far lower than normally at this

WOMEN WILL HELP THE LOCAL NEEDY

The Elks' show, "The Mikado," given last week at the neighboring city under the directorship of J. A. Epping, was a great success. Of the show The Dalles Chronicle says:

"Those who did not go to the Vogt theatre last Monday night to hear 'The Mikado' missed a remarkably good entertainment which was presented by home talent under the suspices of the Elks, and under the personal direction of J. Adrian Epping, better known as 'Dad' Epping, to whom much of the credit for the splendid performance is due. He is a decidedly capable director and gets the very best out of the persons with whom he works. The management of the show is delighted with the work of Mr. Epping.

"But those who failed to take advantage of The Mikado Monday night had full consolation in store for them, for the opera was repeated Tuesady even-idol and his scene with Yum Yum left nothing to be desired.

"The chorus sang with snap and precision. The girls were dainty and pretty and their kimonas were as gay as the stage director would permit. The men's chorus was interesting and altogether melodious. The stage action, under the skillful direction of Mrs. P. S. Davidson, of Hood River, was intricate and very attractive."

Manday and Tuesday

"The chorus sang with snap and precision. All that you may conceive of passion-ate, human longing, of great self-sacrifice, and of all things close and dear, will shrink to infinitesimal proportions when you view this awe inspiring, most intense of picture play productions.

We have learned that some people have erroneously classed this feature as a "western." This is not a weetlern, as the term is applied to motion pictures. The story opens on the western frontier, and is then carried into the homes, and depicts the lives of well to do people. There are no Indians, battles, or rough riding scenes of law-lessness in this feature. The western settings lend most glorious scenes to the production.
