S. E. BARTMESS FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND PRACTICAL EMBALMER HOOD RIVER, OREGON

HASTY RESOLUTIONS ARE DEPRECATED

(From the Portland Evening Telegram) Hood River's county commissioners have locked horns with the state highway commission over that part of the Columbia river highway in that county. The state highway commission thinks the county should be responsible for the upkeep of the highway and the county thinks not.

The Pine Grove grange passesd resolutions asking the county court to notify the state commission that if all other means fail to bring the desired state aid, the road shall be closed to public travel during the summer. The grangers who adopted these resolu-tions, look upon the Columbia river highway as "Portland's side show" and object to being taxed for its main-

This is a very narrow and short-sighted view and fortunately for the state as a whole is not wide-spread, even in Hood River county. On the other hand, this great highway, connecting as it will the Willamette Valley with Eastern Oregon, is one of the most important of roads to the whole state, and there should be no question of its being entitled to state aid, out-side of this county, which asks none.

There was, however, one drawback in connection with Bordeaux mixture wherever used; namely, the tendency under certain conditions to cause russeting of the apple fruit. It was thought at first the mixture was being used too strong, but experiments demonstrated the fact that injury would occur when weak dilutions were used and it was found that this could not be prevented by any change in proportions of the ingredients. It that moist weather following the application of Bordeaux mixture provides the most favorable conditions for the appearance of russeting.

Pomona Grange Fight Looms

While the Pine Grove Grange, of this county, has been so radical as to adopt a resolution urging the county court to close the Columbia river highway in the county, in case the State Highway Commission does not assume responsibility for upkeep and maintenance of the road, strong opposition to such a movement prevails in other granges. The granges of Odell and the Park Grange of the West Side have both refused to adopt such resolutions. It is expected that the matter will be one of the cheef topics at a meeting of the of the chief topics at a meeting of the County Pomona grange here on Saturday, February 5.

'I understand," says Roy D. Smith, a member of Park Grange, "that members of the Pine Grove Grange are going to attempt to secure the adoption of a resolution similar to that cassed favorably at their recent meeting. But they will never carry out their plans
