

Orchard Brand

Atomic Sulphur
Arsenate of Lead, paste and powder

The weather conditions of the past week have been such that no grower can afford to "take a chance" that he will not have an infestation of Apple Powdery Mildew or Apple Scab. The safest and most efficacious material to use, under certain conditions, for the control of Apple Powdery Mildew or Apple Scab is "Orchard Brand" Atomic Sulphur, which should be in combination with arsenate of lead at the time of the codling moth treatments as follows:—

- Calyx Spray for scab, mildew and codling moth control
- "Orchard Brand" Lime and Sulphur solution 4 gallons
- "Orchard Brand" Atomic Sulphur 12 pounds
- "Orchard Brand" Arsenate of Lead Paste 8 pounds
- Water to make 200 gallons

Fruit growers who expect to use Atomic Sulphur at any time during the season should begin to use it not later than the Calyx Spray, and combine it with Lime-Sulphur solution and Arsenate of Lead in order to start stimulation while the new growth is tender to prevent an over-stimulation and sulphur injury later in the season.

Ten day Spray; weather conditions will govern, to some extent, the materials to be used about ten days after the petals fall as an additional control for Scab. If cool rainy weather prevails at this time use lime-sulphur at 1-50, or 4 gallons to each 200 gallon tank of spray. If the weather is reasonably clear and warm use Atomic Sulphur 24 pounds to each 200 gallon tank of spray, as this material is less likely to cause injury to the foliage and fruit than lime-sulphur solution under these conditions.

Second Codling Moth Spray; This is the fifth spray for Scab, the second for Codling Moth, and, under normal conditions, the final spray for Mildew control. Use:—

- "Orchard Brand" Arsenate of Lead paste 8 pounds
- "Orchard Brand" Atomic Sulphur 24 pounds
- Water to make 200 gallons

If the weather is very hot at this time use Atomic Sulphur at 20 pounds to each 200-gallon tank instead of 24 pounds.

We have in stock a complete line of the General Chemical Co.'s "Orchard Brand" Arsenate of Lead, paste and powder and Atomic Sulphur which we are selling at the same prices asked by other distributors of spray materials.

Clothing and Dentistry

Is this a queer combination? You may think so, but listen— When you need a new suit of clothes, do you go to Portland? At least you shouldn't do so, for you can get your shirts and other wearing apparel just as good and just as cheap, or cheaper, at home.

The same is true of dentistry. Why should you go to Portland to have your teeth taken care of?

I take a personal interest in your work. I am one of you, and my professional reputation is at stake. Except for the money you spend what interest does the Portland dentist take in you? Even though you may get good work, there is that element of personal service lacking.

And then when you have your dental work done here at home, you leave your money at home, and thus help the other fellow.

I ask you as a Hood River citizen just to think this over.

And remember that I guarantee my work. And my prices are no more than you will have to pay in Portland.

NEW RAIL AUTO IS GIVEN TRIAL

The new railway automobile of the Mount Hood Rail Road Co., equipped with flanged wheels and with a seating capacity for 30 passengers, was sent on its first trial run from this city to Parkdale Wednesday of last week. The following men were the guests of Ashley Wilson, superintendent of the line, on the trial trip: Henry Serr, C. H. Vaughan, J. B. Canfield and E. O. Blanchard, all of this city, and L. Littlepage, a representative of the White Company, makers of the car, and Frank Sheppard, of Portland.

It is proposed by the valley rail line to inaugurate a schedule with the huge gasoline driven machine that will not only accommodate local citizens and traveling men desiring to visit in the Upper Valley, but that will enable the upper country ranchers to shop in Hood River and return home the same day. The steam train of the line, mixed passenger and freight, makes one round trip daily from Hood River to Parkdale.

Another trial trip was made Sunday, when Mr. Wilson had as his guests Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bell, Mr. Wilson's wife and daughter and Miss Clara Partis also made the trip to Parkdale. The car is being operated by Stanley Shere, a chauffeur of six years' experience.

Snow in Upper Valley

While a third of an inch of rain fell last Thursday in the Lower Valley, according to the records of Cooperative Weather Observer Birge, a snowfall of two inches fell in the Upper Valley. The snow caused no damage in the upper community, where fruit trees are several weeks later in budding than in the Lower Valley.

The rains may damage the cherry crop, however, the cloudy weather preventing the working of bees, which aid in the pollination of the fruit. Orchardists, however, state that a half of the cherry blooms can be faulty from lack of pollination and the coming crop will still be a bumper one. Frost prevailed over the Hood River valley last Friday night, but with no resulting damage, according to reports from different centers.

FISH, FURS AND FEATHERS

The swimming season was opened rather early last week at Koberg's place, when two youngsters braved the chilly waters of the Columbia and swam from Bingen to Mr. Koberg's sandbar. The owner of the Twentieth Century truck farm, when he beheld the youngsters, thought his place had in the night been transformed into a stock farm, for the youngsters proved to be two three-month-old calves. John Wynn and a bunch of cowboys came across the river in rowboats, lassoed the two calves and returned them.

"You see, my place is pretty popular," says Mr. Koberg.

A young collie dog belonging to the family of E. R. Bradley now wears a muzzle. The dog, considered a valuable one, enhanced his worth to the extent of $30 one night last week. The collie has a mania for gnawing things. After eating rubbers and small toys belonging to his master and neighbors, chewing off the tender sprouts of young garden truck, the dog, to prevent further depredations, was fastened in the barn.

On entering the stable the next morning Mr. Bradley discovered that his collie had literally chewed to pieces a set of new double harness, the stirrup leathers and girth of a saddle. Mr. Bradley lost no time in coming down town and purchasing a muzzle.

Members of The Dalles Rod & Gun club are on the warpath against the crow, raven and other predatory birds that destroy the eggs and young of game fowl.

J. J. Ward was seen Monday walking through town with a bamboo fishing pole about 40 feet long. He stated that he had line and tackle in his pocket. "When I get them assembled," he said, "I am going to take J. H. Gill out fishing. Mr. Gill declares that he will never venture again on the river by himself."

Dr. P. F. Hawkins is so impressed with the need for him to go fishing these beautiful days that it is with difficulty he can resist the impulse. He came from Hood River, where the fishing is convenient, and tells of Dr. C. H. Jenkins, who caught a steelhead nearly three feet long right in the town and only two blocks from his office.—Newberg Enterprise.

Youngsters Skilled in Fire Drill

When L. G. Morgan, chief of the Volunteer fire department of the city, accompanied by Frank A. Cram, chairman of the city school board, visited the schools Monday afternoon and watched the children in fire drills, the youngsters in the Pleasant View building on the Heights left the structure in just 30 seconds after the alarm was sounded. The building is two stories. At the Park street school, it required the youngsters 45 seconds to vacate the two-story building. The high school pupils left their building in a minute and two seconds.

SWIMMING CLUB MEETING CALLED

To make arrangements for the coming season and to elect officers for the ensuing year, a meeting of the Hood River Swimming Club will be held Friday evening. For the first time people took advantage of the opportunities for aquatic sports on sand beaches of the Columbia here last year, and more than 100 men and women became affiliated with the swimming club. Bath houses were built and a safe place provided for children. The club was managed last year by Frank E. Haener.

Tomorrow night's meeting will be held promptly at 8 o'clock at library hall. Mr. Haener urges that all interested in swimming the coming summer be present.

Robert Service Visits City

Robert Service, of Baker, Republican candidate for Public Service Commissioner for eastern Oregon, who arrived Saturday morning from The Dalles, has probably done more traveling than any other two of his five opponents. When Mr. Service returned to The Dalles Friday he had completed a 500 mile automobile trip, which consumed five days. He left The Dalles last Monday and in the five days' time visited 21 towns of eastern and central Oregon.

Mr. Service, who proclaims himself as the candidate of the common shipper and the people, characterizes the existing primary laws, which allow, he states, anyone to get on a ballot, as a farce.

"While I believe in fighting for the rights of the people," says Mr. Service, "I would do nothing, if elected, that is unfair and that would harass the railways."

Child Sleeps During Search

While 18 months old Evelyn Jane, little daughter of Judge and Mrs. A. J. Derby, quietly slept on a screened-in sleeping porch at the Derby home Sunday, members of the family and neighbors searched the west end of the city, thinking the tot had wandered away. The little girl had been playing on the lawn with other children. Suddenly she was missed and the alarm was given. Just when it was beginning to look as though the child had disappeared as suddenly and entirely as "Little Orphan Annie," when parents and friends were becoming more and more worried and trying to console themselves with the theory that little Evelyn Jane had been kidnapped for a joke, her nurse, Lena Hjerpe, found her on the sleeping porch on the second floor of the house, where she had gone for a nap.

School Blossom Festival Planned

A blossom festival program has been planned as an institute feature of the Pine Grove school for Saturday by Prof. L. B. Gibson. Luncheon will be served and the Pine Grove teachers will serve a luncheon of hot cocoa with Jersey cream and Louisiana sugar. The children of Pine Grove will sing. Miss DeGraff, a Portland teacher who participated in the Ford peace party trip to Europe, will be one of the principal speakers.

Others who participate in the program follow: Miss Mary Sheppard, Miss Ina Eimlund, N. E. Fertig, Mrs. Elizabeth Curtis, J. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. E. W. Dunbar, Mrs. Ed Hawkes, Mrs. W. W. Rodwell and Miss Aldine Bartness. Both morning and afternoon sessions will be held.

Veteran Keyman Comes Here

J. F. Holder, a veteran at the key, who for four terms of the legislature in past years handled the press wire at the state capitol at Salem, arrived here Friday to succeed C. E. Burns in charge of the local office of the Western Union Telegraph Co. Mr. Bunnell will spend the summer as relief man for the company, filling in at offices during the two weeks' vacations granted respective operators.

WOOD SELLS FOR LESS

PRICES are rising higher and higher. Almost everything on the market, not only in the grocery line, but in every line, is rapidly advancing in price. It is almost impossible to buy imported goods at any price. It has come to the point where people must buy where they can save, not only for the satisfaction of gaining financially, but because it is an absolute necessity. Look over the prices we offer you here, compare them with the prices your grocer charges you. Remember our "Money-worth of Money-back" policy. We guarantee our goods to give satisfaction. Would it pay you to buy of us? Judge for yourself.
