JUDGE DERBY DIFFERS WITH JUDGE MORROW

In discussing the recent decision of Judge Morrow in the case of Wadhams & Co. vs. the San Francisco & Portland Steamship Co. Judge A. J. Derby local prosecuting attorney is prone to disagree with the Portland jurist in the application of the case of The Adams Express Co. vs. the State of Kentucky. Judge Derby says that according to his opinion of the law the Oregon case and the Kentucky case are materially different. The Web-Kenyon act says Judge Derby did not apply in the case in Kentucky, since it did not appear that the delivery of the liquor on the part of the carrier was not in violation of the statutes of the state.

"In Oregon," says Judge Derby, "the question is not one of possession or use on the part of the manufacturer, Wadhams & Co., but on their receipt of liquor. The law states explicitly that no one may receive from a common carrier a greater amount of spirituous liquor than two quarts each 28 days. This clause of the statute applies as much to a manufacturer as to any individual.

The manufacturer is not limited by the law in the use of alcohol in his business. His supply must be received on the affidavit of licensed druggists."

The Portland case involves the refusal of the steamship company to refuse delivery to Wadhams & Co. of two barrels of alcohol. Asserting that they had a right to the alcohol the manufacturers brought suit for its recovery by replevin. The case was on for hearing before Judge Morrow.

The case has been appealed and will soon come on for hearing before the Supreme court.

BILLY SUNDAY WILL GO TO CANADA

When a delegation of temperance workers from Victoria, B. C., called in the Valley last Thursday to see Billy Sunday and undertake to secure his assistance in fighting Demon Rum in the province, the evangelist and his family were away on an automobile tour of the White Salmon and Trout Lake, Wash., country. The visitors, however, camped at the local ferry landing and met the evangelist on his return to the Oregon shore. Following a short conference Mr. Sunday made a tentative agreement to comply with their wishes. Truman Butler accompanied the party including Mrs. Sunday and L. C. Heizer, on their Washington tour.

According to the present plans of Mr. Sunday, as announced by Mrs. Sunday, the evangelist left here yesterday on a four or five day tour, including Portland, Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver. Mr. Sunday in addition to his temperance lecture in Portland addressed the Portland A. C. Club, yesterday. The temperance lecture, Mrs. Sunday thinks, will probably be given at the White Temple.

"But according to our ideas," says Mrs. Sunday, "the place is rather small."

INDIANS CALL PHONOGRAPH A HOODOO

Members of Hood River's Indian colony, located on a high point jutting into the Columbia river just north of town, declare a discarded phonograph presented several weeks ago to George, ninety year old patriarch of the tribe's remnant, by an admiring white friend to be "bad medicine." Old George visited local music stores and commanding needles and a few records was taught how to play his new possession. In the past week he has been giving continuous concerts. The ragtime airs were pleasing to his fellow tribesmen and tribeswomen, but were worrisome to the dogs of the village.

Aroused by the instrument's rhythmic noise the dogs have gathered at a short distance from George's hut, where they joined in a chorus of weird howls. Saturday Marshal Carson was asked by Indian Peter to visit the village and investigate. Peter says that three of his favorite dogs died sudden, horrible deaths. He thinks they were the victims of the phonograph.

Mr. Carson thinks the dogs ate poisoned bait placed around a nearby slaughter house to exterminate rats.

Honeymoon Trip Over Highway

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Uptegrove, whose wedding occurred Wednesday of last week in Portland, accompanied by Mr. Uptegrove's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Uptegrove, and sister, Mrs. Mason, of Brooklyn, N. Y., arrived to day from Portland over the Columbia River Highway en route to the bridegroom's Upper Valley home, where the couple will make their home. Mrs. Uptegrove was formerly Miss Mabel Ellen Starbird, of Portland. Rev. W. G. Eliot, pastor of the First Unitarian church of Portland, was the officiating minister.

Mr. Uptegrove, who has resided for the past five years in the Upper Valley, is a graduate of Princeton University.

Klickitat Road Map Distributed

C. C. Hutchins, secretary of the White Salmon Commercial Club, was here Saturday distributing, in conjunction with local hotelmen garages and ferry-men, seven thousand folders and maps of scenic roads in Klickitat county. Routes from Hood River and White Salmon to Glenwood, Trout Lake, Lyle and Goldendale are shown on the new maps, which also give the tourist a comprehensive idea of the Klickitat county portion of the proposed road that will be constructed between Hood River and Yakima, Wash., connecting that portion of the neighboring state with the Columbia River Highway. The Glacier printed the maps of Klickitat roads.

Despondency Due to Indigestion

"About three months ago when I was suffering from indigestion which caused headache and dizzy spells and made me feel tired and despondent, I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets," writes Mrs. Geo. Hon. Macdon, N. Y. "This medicine proved to be the very thing I needed, as one day's treatment relieved me greatly. I used two bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and they rid me of this trouble." Obtainable everywhere.

289 Autos in County

Automobiles owned by Hood River valley residents, according to County Clerk Kent Shoemaker, who has just made a canvass of the motor owners of the county, now reach the number of 289. Local automobile dealers during the past five months have sold 92 machines, almost four times as many as were ever sold on any former season.

Complaint at Non-Payment of Toll

July 25, 1916.

Editor Glacier:

Lat week a seven-passenger automobile from Hood River came up to the turn-around at Cloud Cap Inn. The members of the party came up to the inn and spent the day on the glaciers. One lady and a boy remained at the inn, where they were entertained while the party was on the mountain. They used our toilets; accepted our hospitality; partook of our candies, etc., but when we asked the gentlemen for $2 toll, they claimed they did not know they had to pay toll, afterwards claiming that several parties had then claimed that they did not know whether we were entitled to collect toll at all, which, of course, was ignorance on their part, for we keep up our payments to the United States government; we have the forest reserve, and we certainly would not undertake to collect toll unless we were authorized by the government to do so.

Early last season we voluntarily reduced the authorized toll to $3 on seven-passenger machines and $2 on five-passenger machines, and this voluntarily reduced toll rate was given to Judge Stanton, and also to your Commercial Club.

The road maintained by Cloud Cap Inn within the forest reserve is in excellent condition, and is in this condition only because we have spent and do spend a great deal of money on it each season.

We hope every automobile owner in Hood River and Hood River Valley will use the road and come to Cloud Cap Inn, either as guests at the inn or as picnic parties, with luncheon and camping outfits, where we will be glad to grant them the use of our camping grounds, with free access to our water works, which we pipe down to the camping ground from a spring on the side of the mountain.

Considering the amount of money we spend each year and have spent in the past, in keeping up this road, we must insist upon having this little toll, and we are respectfully asking you to try to put this matter before the Hood River people in such a way that they will appreciate our position, and we hope no automobiles will use this line unless they expect to pay the toll.

We spend all of our money in the Valley; we are under contract with the Stettin Bros. to operate the stage; we purchase all our supplies in Hood River; our eggs, berries, milk and vegetables up in the valley, and we feel that no Hood River people can claim we are other than a strictly Hood River Valley proposition, and we deserve the support of the Hood River and Hood River Valley people.

Yours truly,
Dorsey B. Smith.

Shippers Refused Reparation

Railroads operating out of Portland, and in fact from the Northwest generally, have a right, if so disposed, to charge and collect $5 per car per trip for the use of refrigerator or insulated cars, when furnished on shipper's order, in the transportation of deciduous fruits from the Northwest during the season when protection from frost may be necessary and when such protection is, by his choice, furnished by the shipper at his own risk.

This is the gist of a decision rendered recently by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the complaint of the North Pacific Fruit Distributors and the Northwest Fruit Exchange. But the force of the decision was lost because the railroads discontinued this charge after the complaint was filed, but before the Commission could come to a conclusion on the complaint. In view of the Commission's holding, the shippers are not entitled to reparation, which was one of the things they sought.

At the time the complaint was filed the Northern Pacific, O. W. R. & N. Company and other roads were imposing a charge of $5 per car for refrigerator and insulated cars for the shipment of apples and other fruits from Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana points East.

J. W. Ingalls Deputy Sheriff

When John Woodard, of Cascade Locks, yesterday failed to take the eastbound morning local of the O. W. R. & N. Co. one day last week in answer to a summons to appear before District Attorney A. J. Derby and testify in behalf of the state, Sheriff Thomas F. Johnson deputized James W. Ingalls, a local garage man, and sent Mr. Ingalls to Cascade Locks for the witness. Proving himself an efficient deputy sheriff as well as an adept driver, Mr. Ingalls returned in few hours with his man.

Woodard was wanted as a witness in a case involving alleged violation of the Prohibition law by Cascade young men.

Railway Men Visit Valley

Piloted by E. O. Binchar, the following prominent railway officials and J. B. Yeon, of Portland, toured the valley and inspected the local highway last Thursday: Oregon Manager Dyer, and General Passenger Agent J. M. Scott, of the Southern Pacific Co., and Superintendent B. E. Palmer, of the O. W. R. & N. Co.

Mr. Yeon congratulated Hood River county on the excellent condition of the West Side roads constructed of gravel.

JOLLY ENTERTAINERS ARE HERE SOON

"The Jolly Entertainers," twenty five children from the Des Moines, Wash., orphan's home, a self supporting institution run by H. M. Draper will be here next Sunday and Monday evening. With a different program on each night the boys and girls of the children's home will render programs at the Bellincher hall.

Not only are the traveling children singers and musicians but they are skilled actors, according to press reports from points where they have already shown. Their performances are said to be meritorious. The boys of the orphan's home have a full brass band.

Helpful Words

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form. Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building-tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.
