FINLEY PICTURES ARE APPRECIATED
The Gem theatre was crowded to its limit last Friday afternoon, most of the patrons of the popular playhouse being children of the city and valley and the youngsters were an interested lot. They were witnessing the wonderful nature pictures taken by W. L. Finley, state biologist. The children of Hood River learned valuable lessons at Friday afternoon's performances. There is a lesson in every yard of Mr. Finley's reels of moving pictures. The spirit of love for feathered songsters is born into the little boy or girl as he sees the results of kindness and science as displayed by the Finley pictures.
A large number of adults also saw the pictures. The Hood River County Game Protective Association deserves the thanks of the people of the valley for making possible the wonderful show. It would be well if the nature pictures could be shown at every schoolhouse in the Hood River valley.

MASONS PLAN BONNEVILLE PICNIC
The local Masonic lodge has accepted an invitation from Washington lodge, of Portland, to participate in a picnic with the Rose City fraternal organization members and their families on Monday Day, Monday, September 4, and plans are now being made for about 50 local Masons to go with their families to Bonneville, where the picnic will be held.
A baseball game will be played by teams of the two Masonic lodges.
A special fare of $1 for the round trip will be made. If a sufficient number sign for the occasion a special car will be furnished for the picnic.
The committee on arrangements is composed of Thos. F. Johnson, Kent Shoemaker and R. B. Bennett.

INTERIOR PROSPEROUS, SAYS MITCHELL
"The prosperity of the agricultural communities of the middle west," says S. A. Mitchell, vice president of the Hood River State Bank, who returned Monday from a visit in Iowa and the Dakotas, "is going to stimulate the consumption of Northwestern apples there to a great degree, I think. Everywhere I went, with the exception of the country around Aberdeen, S. D., where black rust had all but ruined the wheat, the crop prospects are excellent. The Montana and Dakota ranges are in fine shape with fat cattle everywhere. Idaho, too, is going to see some apples. The crop there is practically nothing because of the late freezes of last spring."
While away Mr. Mitchell visited relatives and friends.
"While I enjoyed my visit," he says, "the hot weather was rather oppressive after the cool temperature of Oregon."

AT THE GEM TODAY
Louise Lovely in "The Grip of Jealousy." A sensational drama of life down South before the war. Replete with startling sensations. Strong, forceful and inspiring. Also a two reel L-Ko comedy, "For the Love of Mike and Rosie."
Friday and Saturday
"Excuse Me." Harry Mallory is ordered to join his regiment for the Philippines. He must take the Overland Limited in order to escape court martial. He persuades Marjorie to elope with him and reserves two berths. They reach the train in time, but haven't time to get married. "Little" Jimmy Wellington, who stands six feet two in his stocking feet and weighs 350, guzzles too much. His wife takes the Limited for Reno. He gets sore and takes the same train for the same place and for the same purpose. Rev. Dr. Temple, tiring of the monotony of Ypsilanti, elopes and takes the Overland through to the coast. There's another girl aboard—a former sweetheart of Mallory's. The happening en route are screamingly funny. Marjorie, not married to Mallory, has her reputation at stake. Dr. Temple knows this, but won't let anyone know he is a preacher. The girl's girl, peters Marjorie and Mallory with a bracelet she received from Mallory, Wellington and his wife fail to meet and everyone does something they should not, leaving the porter to bear the brunt of it all. A hold up relieves the girl of the bracelet, the arrival of a Mormon minister when they get into Utah, frightens Temple into practicing his profession on the young couple. Then a cinder gets into Wellington's eye and causes him to meet his wife, who relieves him of it, and they patch up their differences.
Sunday
"The Nigger," featuring William Farnum. Philip Morrow, a wealthy young planter, is happy in the love of Georgiana Byrd, the belle of his native state and the belief that in his veins runs the most aristocratic blood in the South. Cliff Noyes, political boss and distiller of whiskey, persuades Morrow to run for governor. During the campaign one of Philip's negroes is lynched. The incident makes a deep impression on Morrow's mind, and upon his election to governorship he decides to sign a prohibition bill which would mean the ruin of Noyes' business.
Noyes in rummaging in an attic has found papers proving that Morrow, the aristocrat, the blue blooded land owner and governor of the state, has negro blood in his veins. Morrow faces the blow manfully. He confesses the taint in his blood to Georgiana and determines to do the right boldly as he sees it. With a stroke of his pen Morrow makes the prohibition bill a law, and to make his heroic self sacrifice completed, resigns his office to devote the remainder of his life to the uplifting of the negro race.
Monday and Tuesday
Mabel Tallafiero in "Her Great Price." Retro five reel feature. Full of sensations, romance and dramatic surprises. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew in "His First Tooth."

AT NEW ELECTRIC
Today
Wm. S. Hart, star of "Hell's Hinges," will be presented in his latest and greatest picture, "The Aryan." Greater and more appealing than "Hell's Hinges." Also a real laugh provoker, "His Bread and Butter," a Triangle-Keystone comedy with Hank Mann.
Friday and Saturday
Florence Rockwell, the celebrated stage star will be seen in her latest Paramount play, "He Fell in Love With His Wife," an adaptation of the famous book by E. P. Roe. She is without money, home or friends and the poor house is her only relief. He is a farmer, wealthy, handsome and lonely; knows and worships but one thing, his farm. Becoming discouraged with bald housekeepers, he appeals to his intimate friend, the superintendent of the poorhouse. Out in the storm Alida is discovered, too weak to make her presence known. James Holcroft meets and marries her. As she slowly returns to health she falls in love with her husband, who is so engrossed with his farm that he doesn't notice her interest. Then comes the discovery of her whereabouts by Wilson Ostrom, who, undivorced from his first wife, had married her. The events following this discovery cause Holcroft to come into the full glory of his awakened love.
Also Frank Daniels, the peer of legitimate funmakers, will be seen in one of his latest laugh making comedies.
Sunday
One day only, the Triangle Fine Arts Studios present Lillian Gish, the star of "Birth of a Nation," in a gripping story of the Orient, "Sold for Marriage." Also a Triangle Keystone comedy with Fatty Roscoe Arbuckle entitled, "The Other Man," a real riot of laughter.
Monday and Tuesday
Blanche Sweet, the dainty film favorite in "Blacklist," and also we are presenting for its initial appearance in Hood River the latest Paramount Picture, the last word in picture news and items of vital interest to everyone all of the way from how to carve a duck to the showing of American troops on the Mexican border.
The beautiful Blanche Sweet, since she has been with the Lasky Company, has been seen in many unusual roles, but as Vera Maroff, the school teacher in a small mining town, she is said to portray a role entirely different from anything in which she has heretofore appeared.
"The Black List" is a daring indictment of the working conditions big corporations as they exist in the many states.
Vera is the daughter of a mine worker who is the head of Russian anarchists, contemplating the overthrow of the corporation. How the little school teacher, after her people have been shut down by the mine guards for refusing to work under the terrible conditions of the "black list" changes the entire policy of the great corporation and brings the president to her feet, must naturally, be seen to be enjoyed. This photo drama is said to deliver a lesson to the working classes in a far more graphic and vivid manner than could be told from the pulpit or stage.
Wednesday and Thursday
Frank Keenan will be shown in the "Stepping Stone." Also a Triangle-Keystone comedy with Chester Conklin, "Bucking Society."
V. M. Kolstad at the organ.
Growers' stamps, variety stamps, etc., for marking berry boxes made to order, on short notice, at the Glacier office.

BILLY SUNDAY MAY PREACH IN PORTLAND
Billy Sunday may some day preach in Portland. He is dated up now for about 18 months ahead of time. When the evangelist was in Portland recently the matter was put up to Mr. Sunday by members of the Ministerial Association. The evangelist says that Portland is a hard city, not in the sense that it is sinful but that the people do not stand together in their desires for a spiritual uplift. Rev. Sunday said to the Portland ministers:
"If you will show that you are in earnest and will get behind the movement in a body and get your Chamber of Commerce and other public organizations behind it in a manner that shows that the city is in dead earnest so I can be assured that the meetings will be worth while, I will try to arrange to hold meetings here. The date will have to depend upon several things. One is how soon you can get your organization into shape so as to make sure the meetings will be a success and after that arrangements will have to be made so that we can fit the dates in somewhere, for we are booked ahead many months and we cannot fill the demand as it is."
Mr. Sunday predicted that if the movement is started immediately it would be possible to hold the meetings in a year or 18 months.
The committee will report the result of its conference with Mr. Sunday at the first meeting of the Portland Ministerial Association this fall.

GRANGE WISHES TO STUDY MEASURE
The members of the Hood River Pomona Grange declare that they are not unqualifiedly opposed to the proposed measure, as advocated by C. C. Chapman, to increase the license on motor cars.
"We want to know more about the proposed law," says J. F. Thompson. "As it looked at the matter it would have been poor policy for us to have endorsed the measure."
The following committee of grangers was here Monday to confer with the Commercial club and business men over the proposed campaign of voting on bonds to provide a fund for the improvement of the Hood River county link of the proposed Loop highway passing around the east base of Mount Hood: J. F. Thompson, J. R. Forden, E. F. Johansen, E. H. Bucher, A. I. Mason, Frank Davidson and S. G. Emilio.

Auto and Horse Tolls Reduced
The Commercial club is in receipt of a letter from Dorsey B. Smith announcing the reduced tolls on cars to the Inn to $2 for all sized automobiles and 50 cents for saddle horses. They advise that all toll receipts are spent upon the road, and ask that people who wish to use the road appreciate that the cost of keeping the road open is quite expensive and that, as all the money received is used in maintenance, no one should use the road who does not wish to contribute to its upkeep.
