WILSON WINS HOT CONTEST

PECULIAR PHASE ABOUT VOTE CAST
Oregon Remains Western Beacon Light of Republican Party—Biographical Sketches of Local Winners

Last Thursday was a day of great excitement for those of the nation who took great interest in the presidential race, and that meant practically everybody. A dispatch would come announcing a lead for Hughes, and broad smiles of encouragement would greet the face of G. O. P. men; then a message would bring news of success for Wilson, and, metaphorically speaking, the donkey would bray for joy. It was late Thursday night, however, before definite news of President Wilson's reelection came to Hood River. Many waited until the receipt of the Oregonian before the news would be taken as authentic.

All in all, the race was one of the most remarkable ever experienced by the American people. Dope sheets of politicians were entirely overthrown. Oregon alone remains the beacon light of the Republican party on the Pacific coast. Because of intra state jealousies Washington and California were given to Wilson in the western states, where prosperity, more than anywhere else, abounds, the vote of the people went for Hughes. In the middle west, where the indifferent voter prevails for the most part, especially on the issues of the day, Wilson ran his strongest.

Sinnott, Hawley and McArthur, Oregon's three Republican congressmen, were all returned by handsome expressions of the people. In the district composed of Hood River and Wasco counties, the result in the race for senatorship was peculiarly gratifying to Hood River people, who elected their choice for the legislature, Geo. R. Wilbur. For the first time Hood River, in fact eastern Oregon, will have a woman representative. Mrs. Thompson defeated J. L. Kelly by a narrow margin. J. E. Anderson was returned by a large plurality.

Except in the case of the race for district attorney, local contests were not very close. Believing that it will be of particular interest at the present time, the Glacier gives below biographical sketches of the local winning candidates:

Geo. R. Wilbur, senator elect from Hood River and Wasco counties, succeeding R. R. Butler, of The Dalles, one of the five Democrats who will sit in the upper house of the 1917 Oregon legislature, is 37 years of age. Mr. Wilbur is a native of Boone, Nebr. He came to Hood River and began the practice of law in 1909.

Mr. Wilbur for the past two years has been city attorney of Hood River. He is attorney and secretary of the East Fork Irrigation District and was recently retained to organize an irrigation district at Underwood, Wash.

Mr. Wilbur, before coming to Oregon was deputy county clerk and county attorney of Wayne county, Nebraska. During the Spanish-American war Mr. Wilbur was a private in the Second Nebraska regiment. His regiment, however, was never called into active service. Mr. Wilbur was recently elected captain of Company B, C. A. C. O. N. G., organized among local business men and orchardists. He attended the Citizens' Training camp held at Fort Lawton, Wash., this summer.

Mr. Wilbur is a graduate of the University of Michigan law school. He is a member of the Beta Theta Pi college fraternity.

A. J. Derby, elected to the office of district attorney for Hood River county, is 39 years of age. He is a native of Sumter county, Alabama. After a temporary residence in Wisconsin, Mr. Derby came to Portland in 1900. In 1904 he graduated from the University of Oregon law school, and came to Hood River to practice the next year. Mr. Derby was Hood River's first county attorney and served in that capacity until two years ago. He was appointed district attorney by Governor West. In 1908, when Hood River county was established, Governor Chamberlain appointed Mr. Derby the county's first county judge. In 1911 he represented Hood River and Wasco counties in the lower house of the legislature.

Thomas F. Johnson, when he is sworn in next January, will have begun his fourth successive term of sheriff of Hood River county. Mr. Johnson has made an efficient officer, having conscientiously enforced the law, and Hood River county's record has been a clean one under his administration. Sheriff Johnson is a native of Boone county, Ky. He came to Hood River with his family in 1902. Mr. Johnson is owner of a West Side orchard tract. He is 44 years of age.

County Clerk Kent Shoemaker is 25 years of age. Mr. Shoemaker is the only county official native born. When attending the Hood River high school he was offered a position with the Hood River Abstract Co. He accepted the position. A short time later he was made deputy county clerk by W. E. Hanson, former county clerk.

Mrs. Jessie M. Bishop is a native of Minneapolis, Minn. With her husband, the late Frank A. Bishop, she came to Hood River in 1909 from Great Falls, Minn., where Mr. Bishop had been connected with the United States Land Office. Mr. Bishop was formerly county treasurer, and at his death Mrs. Bishop was appointed to succeed him. Mrs. Bishop makes an efficient treasurer, having had a training in the work through assisting her husband.

Dr. V. R. Abraham, reelected coroner, is 31 years of age. He came to Hood River three years ago from Forest Grove, the home of his parents, and began the practice of medicine. Dr. Abraham is a graduate of Chicago University and Rush Medical College. His interne work was done at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland. Dr. Abraham is a native of Iowa.

C. M. Hurlburt, reelected county engineer, is 34 years of age. Mr. Hurlburt, a native of Buffalo, N. Y., came to Oregon with his parents when a small baby. His home before coming to a West Side orchard place with his family, was in Portland.

Mr. Hurlburt is a graduate of the civil engineering department of the University of California. He has had much experience in his line of work. After leaving college he was engaged in reclamation work in Idaho. Later he worked on the Copper River Railroad in Alaska and was with the Alaskan road commission in the construction of the wagon road from Valdez to Fairbanks. Mr. Hurlburt has had experience in road building in Oregon and he has seen engineering service with the O. W. R. & N. Co.

MRS. PERIGO PASSES AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

The funeral services of the late Mrs. J. W. Perigo, who passed away last Friday night on her 62nd birthday, were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Ashbury Methodist church, Rev. W. E. Young, pastor of the church, officiating. Mrs. Perigo has been prominent in local religious circles for many years, having been an officer of the Ladies Aid of the Ashbury church.

Mrs. Perigo's death comes as a great shock to her many friends. She was at a birthday party given in her honor by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. B. Perigo, when fatally stricken with paralysis. Death followed in two hours.

The body, accompanied by Dr. Jesse Edgington and the surviving husband, was shipped to the old home at Booneville, Ind., Sunday night. In addition to the husband and R. B. Perigo, the son residing here, Mrs. Perigo is survived by a daughter, Mrs. H. F. Fulling, of Booneville, Ind.; and a sister, Mrs. J. S. Davis, of Prairie, Mo.

The following obituary was read by Rev. Young at the Sunday services: Pina Taylor was born at Newburg, Warrick county, Indiana, Nov. 10, 1854. She was married to J. W. Perigo May 23, 1875. Two children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Perigo, Mrs. Nellie B. Fulling, of Booneville, Ind., and Robert B. Perigo, of Hood River. Mr. and Mrs. Perigo and family came to Hood River nine years ago and have resided here constantly since. Mrs. Perigo died suddenly the evening of November 10, at the time of the evening sun were fading out of the western sky, on her 62nd birthday, which she had so joyfully celebrated with a number of her friends. She is survived by her husband, her son and daughter, a sister, Mrs. Mary D. Davis, of East Prairie, Missouri, and two half brothers, Lewis and Isham Taylor, of Warrick county, Indiana.

"Only good night, beloved, and not farewell,
A little more and all his saints shall dwell
In hallowed union invisible,
Good night."

"Until we meet around His throne,
Clothed in the spotless robes He gives
His own,
Until we know, even as we are known,
Good night."

BETTY EPPING, HOOD RIVER'S PRINCESS

Miss Betty Epping, member of the Junior class of the Hood River high school is a popular girl of the Hood River valley, as is evidenced by the success with which she won in the election to determine the choice of local people for "Princess Hood River of Apple Land" at the National Spokane Apple Show, which will begin next Monday. Miss Epping will attend the big national event and represent the Hood River valley in the carnival and social features of the apple show. Six other girls from the other Northwest fruit centers will be there, the seven princesses forming the official court of King Pip and Princess Spokane. Mrs. Miles Poindester, wife of the Washington United States senator will chaperon the young ladies during the fair. Their headquarters will be at the palatial Davenport hotel.

Other candidates in the princess contest were: Misses Anna Mae Chippling, Emma Noble, Eva Boyed, Elma Annala and Grace Lovell.

While the attendance of local fruit men will be limited at the apple show, because of the delay of the 1916 apple harvest, a number of orchardists are preparing to be at the growers' congress. Cutler Bros.' grader will be seen in the model packing plant, and 100 boxes of Hood River's finest will be exhibited under the labels of the Apple Growers Association. Numerous individuals will display fruit at the great apple show.

AID IS ASKED FOR DESTITUTE FAMILY

Urgent calls for assistance were sent Tuesday by Mrs. T. J. Kinnaird, president of the Hood River Associated Aids, who in investigating an application for help found a family of man and wife and six children in a little house in the western part of town destitute and freezing.

"The people tell me," says Mrs. Kinnaird, "that they came here from Albany, where they had lived for seven years, to engage in the apple harvest. We found them sleeping on the floor with but three meagre covers for the entire brood. They were hungry and their clothes were in rags. The children needed new clothes from the skin out."

Mrs. Kinnaird is collecting food and clothing for the family, and five of the children, the oldest of whom is 15 years, will be made to enter the city schools.

Minstrel Show Well Received

Reese Bros.' minstrels, the Africaners, were well received in Hood River Saturday night, when they were greeted by a large crowd at the Armory. The troupe consisted of 15 men and women, who during the two hours of performance participated in melodies of the southland, jokes and dances. The show was full of wholesome fun.

The Africaners gave a free street concert here at noon Saturday. They proceeded then to the Heights where a concert was given.

NEXT THURSDAY POST-CARD DAY

TOURISTS WILL BE ASKED TO COME Everybody Urged to Write—Cards Will Be Mailed in Big Box in Front of Commercial Club

Hood River is now realizing that one of its main business assets is realized from the tourist traffic. The work of attracting tourists to the Hood River valley for next season will be commenced next Thursday, when postcard day will be observed.

Every man, woman and child in the Hood River valley is urged to write a postcard, or several, to eastern friends. A big box will be placed in front of the Commercial club next Monday. The cards should be stamped and deposited in this huge letter box. When postcard day arrives, the cards will be counted and then mailed to their respective destinations.

If you have not thought of the wording for your cards, the following is suggested:

"If you have not planned your next vacation, arrange to spend it in the Hood River valley and in the Pacific Northwest where nature smiles the year around. We have the biggest out of doors on the continent."

Postcard day will be observed generally throughout the Northwest in Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, and it is predicted that the combined efforts of all the people of the states and province will swell the tourist traffic next year to record proportions.

The money that tourists spend remains with the communities visited. The funds they leave behind will assist in the construction of the highways that are needed to open more ways in to the heart of the continent's scenic treasures.

RELIEF IN THE CAR SHORTAGE IS SEEN

Although officials of sales agencies were alarmed the latter part of last week and on Monday, relief in the acute car shortage situation was in sight Tuesday. On that day the Apple Growers Association received 20 refrigerators, and negotiations were made for the removal of fruit to Portland by ordinary box cars. For the heating of apple laden cars, the O. W. R. & N. Co. has received here several score of charcoal heaters.

The car shortage was the main topic here the latter part of last week and Saturday afternoon the board of directors of the Apple Growers Association took up the plan of chartering the steamer Bailey Gatzert and probably a barge to remove the apples to Portland. F. S. Kingsbury, representative of the Helgator line, was in conference with the board. Monday the plan of moving the fruit across the Columbia by ferry and loading on North Bank refrigerator cars was broached.

If plenty of box cars and refrigerators are received the use of the river and the North Bank line will be obviated.

With the increased shipments of apples Tuesday the warehouses were again thrown open for receipt of certain varieties, and a double line of loaded wagons was drawn up on Third street all Tuesday morning.

The Heitbrunner building, the warehouse of the Butcher spray plant, L. N. Blowers warehouse and the other local buildings form annexes to the storage plants and are fast being filled with apples.

Mr. Sieg says that accommodations for 100,000 boxes of fruit have been arranged for in Portland. Storage can also be secured at The Dalles.

It is expected that the warehouses of the Association can be opened today for all varieties of apples.

TWO BIG ORCHARD SALES ARE MADE

Through the agency of C. N. Ravlin two of the largest cash sales of local orchard property made in the past three years have just been closed, the total consideration of the two deals reaching $27,000. Through the consummation of one of the deals Ralph Root, who already owns 120 acres of young orchards in the Middle Valley, becomes owner of the 34 acre bearing orchard of the Dr. Stanton Allen estate located on the East Side. Mr. Root, who with his family has formerly spent the summers here, will make the newly purchased place his permanent home.

The other deal involves a 20 acre partly bearing tract on the East Side purchased by C. K. Benton from Mrs. Mary C. Swanson. The consideration in the Allen-Root transfer was $17,000, while Mr. Benton paid $10,000.

"The peculiarly gratifying features of these deals," says Mr. Ravlin, "come from the fact that both tracts are bought by men who are already heavy holders of local orchard property. It displays a confidence in the apple industry, and we are looking for a good movement in apple land with the opening of the next year's season."

Reckers Sells Grapes Here

The larger portion of the supply of grapes consumed in Hood River this fall have been grown by C. W. J. Reckers, whose place is in Klickitat county just across the Columbia.

Mr. Reckers has planted several acres of the sloping countryside along the White Salmon river to grapes, mostly Niagaras. The vines have produced several tons this season, and because of the scarcity of the product in other districts and locally, the fruit has sold extremely well.

Commercial Club Meeting Adjourned

The regular meeting of the Commercial club scheduled for last Monday night was adjourned until next Monday night.
