HOW CAN HOOD RIVER VOTE NO?

After he reaches a comprehensive understanding of the proposed 85,000,000 road bonding act, it is difficult to understand why anyone at any point in the state of Oregon should take a radical stand against the measure. And it is inconceivable that a Hood River citizen, who truly understands the imports of the measure, should oppose it. We know that a number of Hood River men have reserved an expression of their sentiment on the act. They are frank to admit that they do not fully comprehend it yet. That is a proper comprehend it yet. That is a proper course. An intelligent vote on the matter is all that is asked. But we have heard of others who declare that have heard of others who declare that they will oppose it for the simple reason that they are against any bond-rights and national honor. Mr. Lane
