WHEN men are drawn together in the army, you find out a lot about their likes and dislikes. It's always been a great place for the spread of W-B CUT popularity. They show each other why you shouldn't take more than a little chew of W-B CUT. Every shred is chock full of sap; a big chew is too rich. They take to W-B CUT, strong; nothing is too good for our soldiers.

PHONE API RALAL IS NOW UNDER WAY

E. T. Buselle, an efficiency engineer of Salem, arrived here Monday to make a survey and appraisal of the entire properties of the Oregon-Washington Telephone system. Mr. Buselle's first work will comprise an inventory of the public service corporation's field equipment.

For the past several years the net earnings of the telephone company it is stated by J. E. Smithson, president and manager, have not been sufficient to meet interest on outstanding bonded indebtedness.

"Our system has been constructed in a piece-meal fashion," says Mr. Smithson, "and we have no way of arriving at a comprehensive valuation. Our move in securing a competent appraisal is for the purpose of bringing about an adjustment of rates, if such is possible. Of course we cannot increase our earnings if the valuation is found to be less than that estimated in bond issues. But if it is found greater, we will no doubt equalize our rates, raising them in places and perhaps lowering some rates. The earnings in the aggregate, of course, will have to be increased."

EXCHANGE ENDS SHORTAGE SCARE

While he admits that difficulties have been confronted by his organization in making arrangements for a supply of boxes for the coming season's apple crop, Executive Manager A. W. Stone now says the Apple Growers Association members will be able to get delivery of all the fruit containers they need.

"At the present time," says Kenneth McKee, "our members are well protected on boxes for the coming apple crop. Doubts have been felt, however, on the part of independent shippers who have no organized means of getting their box supply. We have negotiated for a box supply that will take care of these shippers. Hood River will not be damaged this fall by any box shortage. In case of a car shortage, the boxes will be shipped by barges. The mill will turn out 50,000 per day."

Cigarette Smokers Punished

The trial of Milton Jensen, of Seattle, and Robert Lindsey, of Westfield, Mass., two youthful lads charged with smoking cigarettes, were held last week by Judge O. J. Jensen. Lindsey was sentenced to the state industrial school at Salem, while the Jensen boy was paroled.

The lads spent two days in prison. The Lindsey boy first gave the name of Robert Smith, and declared that his home was San Francisco.

Judge Othman last week assessed a fine of $1 and costs against Jack Davis, a 19 year old boy of Hood River, who was arrested while smoking.

Forethought.

People are learning that a little forethought often saves them a big expense. Here is an instance. E. W. Archer, Caldwell, Ohio, writes: "I do not believe that our family has been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy since we commenced keeping house years ago. When we go on an extended visit we take it with us. Obtainable everywhere."

APPEAL IN FRUIT CASE IS PROBABLE

A document of 26 typewritten pages, breaking the local court record for length of such articles, the findings of fact and conclusion in the case of the Hood River Orchards Co. vs. the Apple Growers Association, dissolving the temporary injunction against the defendant in restraining the sales agency from the purchase of the properties of the Apple Growers Union, were received Monday morning by E. C. Smith, attorney for the plaintiff, from Circuit Judge Bradshaw, of The Dalles.

The contents of the defendant organization, alleging that the plaintiff company were upheld throughout by Judge Bradshaw.

The findings and decree cite that 85 per cent of the landed interests of the Hood River valley are devoted to the fruit industry, and that 80 per cent of the growers are affiliated with the Association, a cooperative organization perfected in 1913, when, because of the conflict of numerous sales agencies and smaller cooperative concerns, the industry was in a state of demoralization. It is noted that the plaintiff producing concern is owned chiefly by H. F. Davidson, at whose instance, the findings go on to state, the lawsuit was brought. Mr. Davidson, it is stated, was one of the influences in bringing about the organization of the defendant concern, and that the right of participating in the surplus of the Association had never been granted to members who formerly withdrew from the sales agency.

Mr. Davidson, according to the findings, at the time of his membership on the board's directorate, acquiesced in resolutions looking to the purchase of such properties as would be needed for the successful handling of the sales organization's business. In regard to buying the storage plants of the old Hood River Union, Judge Bradshaw finds that because of the topography of the city, it will be impossible to make substitutions for the properties involved. For this reason and because of the terms of the proposed purchase, itself, he records that the proposed deal is one of vital interest to the Association, its grower members and the general Hood River fruit industry.

While he has been unable to confer with Mr. Davidson, who is out of the city, since receiving the decree, Mr. Smith states that he feels sure that the case will be taken to the supreme court.

FARMERS SAID TO KNOW AUTOMOBILES

As everybody knows, a great many motor cars that sell readily enough in the cities are not as popular in the country. If city people would make it a point to investigate very closely any car that has not been successful among farmers, they would show good judgment according to the management of the Hood River garage, distributors of the Grant Six.

"In the country a car owner usually has to go several miles to the nearest repair shop the city owner finds a garage or repair man within a few blocks. The dependability of a car is therefore a much more important point to the farmer than to the city owner and as a result cars which get out of condition or which need frequent attention soon become known as less desirable and are avoided in people living in the country."

"An extensive sale among farmers such as is enjoyed by the Grant Six and certain other cars, is really the best guarantee that a city car buyer can have of a car's reliability."

Ravlin Has Narrow Escape

C. N. Ravlin had a narrow escape from electrocution Saturday night at the office of the Commercial club, where he was engaged in Red Cross work. Mr. Ravlin, while using the telephone, holding the desk instrument in one hand, grasped the electric desk lamp in an endeavor to move it. In the confusion the lamp had become worn, and so strong was the shock that the Red Cross secretary was unable to free himself.

Walter Kimball, hearing Mr. Ravlin's alarm, rushed from an adjoining room and grasping the stricken man by the clothing hurried him free from the lamp.

"I thought I was gone," says Mr. Ravlin. "Every cell in my body seemed bursting and I was fast losing consciousness."

Stopped His Backache.

George Lawrence, railroad fireman, Kittrell, Miss., writes: "I used three one-dollar bottles of Foley Kidney Pills when I was so sick I hardly could stay on my engine. My back ached all the time; my kidneys acted sluggish; dull headache; felt sleepy all the time; nervous; had to rise six to eight times each night. Foley Kidney Pills cured me. They strengthen the kidneys so they can filter out of the blood the uric acid and other poisons that cause rheumatic pains, backache, stiff joints and sore muscles. Sold everywhere."

Many Sheep Coming

Twelve thousand sheep will be pastured this summer on the ranges around the valley. W. W. Kirby, of Dee, will bring 8,000 of the animals here from eastern Oregon points and run them on the logged off land of the Oregon Lumber Co., while sheep men of Wasco county ship 4,000 sheep to Sonny, from which point they will be driven to the west range and pastured on burned over tracts of the Stanley-Smith Lumber Co. range.

The growth of wild pea vines in all local ranges is very rank, and experienced sheep men say the animals quickly take on fat.

Just What She Needed.

When women complain of weariness, loss of strength and vitality, backache, pains in sides and hips, dull headaches, dizziness, floating specks, and similar ailments, they too often accept these troubles as their lot because they are women, when the ailments may be the results of disordered kidneys. Mrs. Mary V. Bunker, Milton-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., writes: "I am now on my second bottle of Foley Kidney Pills. They seem to be just what I needed." Try them. Sold everywhere.

APPEAL MADE TO MUSICIANS' PATRIOTISM

Except for a band, Hood River is already for the Fourth of July celebration, and Twelfth Company and the Red Cross Chapter are making an appeal to the patriotism of local musicians to revive the old Cornet band, in order that it may not be necessary to import a musical organization for the proposed observation of Independence Day.

Except for a gathering held in April for the purpose of securing recruits to Twelfth Company, band music has been lacking at all local patriotic gatherings.

Motorist Has Narrow Squeeze

En route last week from Heppner to Portland to attend the Rose Festival, N. D. Rood at a sharp turn at the top of the Ruthton hill grade on the Highway lost an instant's control of his wheel, and his car crashed through a board fence and shot out over a 100 foot sheer precipice. Miraculously, several iron rods driven into the rocky cliff to support the fence posts caught the heavy vehicle and prevented it from toppling down the precipice, thus saving Mr. Rood and accompanying friends from possible death or serious injury.

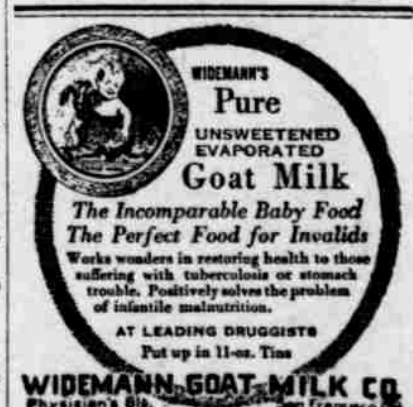

According to spectators of the hair-raising accident, Mr. Rood was more perturbed by loss of time in getting to Portland than by the narrow escape.

"If it had not been for that," he is reported to have said, "we would have been in Portland in two hours."

The car was drawn back to the road and towed to a local garage for repairs.
