

For better food at less cost

MAZOLA

BUTTER, lard and suet have been used for years for deep frying, sautéing or shortening—because the housewife could find nothing better. Today the Food Administrator asks her to use vegetable oils.

And Mazola, the pure oil from corn holds first place among vegetable oils. It is the ideal medium for sautéing, deep frying, shortening and salad dressings from every standpoint.

Mazola reaches cooking heat long before it smokes—cooks food more quickly and at the same time more thoroughly. This does away with that soggy and greasy so prevalent with the old cooking mediums.

And Mazola can be used over and over again because it does not transmit taste or odor from one food to another!

That is what makes it so wonderfully economical.

Get a can of Mazola from your grocer today. Sold in pint, quart, half-gallon and gallon tins—the large sizes give greatest economy. Also ask for the free Mazola Book of Recipes or write us direct.

Your money refunded if Mazola does not give entire satisfaction

MRS. CUNNING SUC-CUMBS TO PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Agnes Markham Cuning, widow of the late T. J. Cuning, a Hood River pioneer, passed away at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chandler Sunday forenoon, after a week's illness, from pneumonia. Mrs. Cuning, a native of Wisconsin, was 75 years of age.

Mrs. Cuning was first married in 1860 at Deerfield, Wis., to Wesley Markham. She is survived by one son, Claude Markham, of Long Beach, Cal. Following the death of her first husband she was married to Mr. Cuning at Mount Moriah, Mo., in 1882. Soon afterward Mr. and Mrs. Cuning came here to make their home. Six years ago they moved to Long Beach, Cal., where they lived until the death of Mr. Cuning last year.

Mrs. Cuning is survived by three stepsons, H. A. Cuning, of the Oak Grove district; Arthur Cuning, of Coos, Wash.; and Officer Cuning, of Texas, all of whom were at her bedside when death came. She is also survived by a brother, J. L. Blount, and a niece, Mrs. G. H. Littlefield, both of this city. A stepdaughter, Mrs. Rosa Linthacum, also survives.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon with Rev. H. A. MacDonald officiating. Interment followed at Idlewild cemetery.

W. L. SMITH FUNERAL YESTERDAY

W. L. Smith, aged 57 years, passed away at his home Tuesday morning. Mr. Smith, who was a native of Catawba, O., had spent most of his life in the fruit business. In 1906 he retired from the fruit commission business in Ohio and Michigan, and came here to engage in the production end. He was known as one of the valley's most successful growers.

Mr. Smith was known everywhere among his friends as one of the most genial and cheerful characters and will be greatly missed because of the sunny disposition which he bore. During the Dr. Bulgin evangelistic meetings here some years ago he was converted and joined the Asbury Methodist church.

Besides a host of friends he leaves the devoted companion, two children, three grandchildren, two brothers and two sisters.

The funeral services were conducted at the family residence by his pastor, Rev. Elijah Hull Longbrake, and his old time friend, Rev. J. L. Herschner, at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, interment following at Idlewild cemetery.

OREGON PIONEER AT AGE OF 69 PASSES

J. P. Goodpasture, 69 year old Oregon pioneer, passed away at his West Side orchard home Friday evening, following an illness from a cancer. Mr. Goodpasture was a native of Morgan county, Ill., having been born on March 19, 1848 in Morgan county. After a 28 year residence at Eugene, Mr. Goodpasture removed to Bay Center, Wash., where he was married in July, 1892. The family removed to Hood River in 1901.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home, Rev. Elijah Hull Longbrake, pastor of the Asbury Methodist church, officiating.

Mr. Goodpasture is survived by his widow and two daughters, Mrs. J. E. Gordon, of Portland; and Miss Grace Helen Goodpasture, of Hood River. S. E. Bartness conducted the funeral.

OBITUARY

William Gordon Haskins

William Gordon Haskins was born in Norman county, Minnesota, April 17, 1868. At Christmas time, 13 years ago he with his parents arrived in Hood River valley, residing on the West Side until eight years ago, when they came to Odell, where Will grew to young manhood. He was popular in student life, church and musical circles, a leader in athletics. He was a member of the Christian Adventist church, but attended regularly at the Union Sunday school and C. E. services, and his faith was sufficient for the needs of life while enjoying health, and satisfying when the demands made by intense suffering seemed almost more than mortal man could endure. He, with a party of young people, returned home the evening of August 5 from having ascended Mount Hood, and from that day until November 7, when release came, his suffering was intense.

Three weeks of his illness he was cared for in Hood River hospital, then he was taken to Good Samaritan hospital, Portland, where an operation was performed. After a three weeks' stay he was brought to Hood River, where he remained three weeks, when he was again removed to Good Samaritan hospital for a second operation, but all efforts of the best surgical skill and the care of nurses and loved ones could not stay his going away on the morning of Wednesday, November 7, in Good Samaritan hospital, Portland, whither father, mother and sisters had gone to be near him when rest came.

Funeral services were held in the Methodist church in Hood River, and the large main auditorium was filled with friends who were there because of love for him whose young life was just finished, and for his relatives. M. D. Odell spoke in a comforting, friendly fashion that left a feeling of hope and calmness, a profusion of beautiful flowers testified that loving friends were many.

Because of the fact that this case baffled the surgeons a statement such as the following is permissible: A post-mortem examination resulted in the discovery of an abscess on the brain, edema (swelling of the brain) thrombosis of lateral sinus and multiple abscess of the lungs.

Circuit Court Brief

Without a single jury case, either criminal or civil, the last term of the circuit court for the year was adjourned by Judge Wilson, Tuesday. Jack Baker, who pleaded guilty to a charge of receiving bicycles stolen by small boys, was sentenced to a term of from six months to five years in the penitentiary. He was taken to Salem yesterday by Sheriff Johnson.

AN UNUSUAL SNAP--20 Acres $4500

In the heart of the Pine Grove Apple District.

Ten acres full bearing 15-year-old trees, commercial varieties, in good condition. Orchard in alfalfa cover crop.

Adjoins one of the best known orchards on the east side.

Fine homesite, with sixty full bearing cherry trees. Two houses and barn, but not in very good shape. Four acres suitable for alfalfa or clover, now used as pasture. Three acres splendid pasture adjoining creek which runs through place. Three acres waste land, part of which is taken up by Mount Hood Railroad right-of-way.

This has been acquired on foreclosure by absent owner who prefers to sacrifice rather than attempt to run orchard at a distance.

This snap is so good that I'll wager it will be grabbed within a week.
