APPLES PRESENTED TO EXCURSIONISTS

When the 241 happy members of the annual Union Pacific California excursion for wheat ranchers and business men of the Inland Empire and central Canadian provinces and their families arrived here at noon Saturday they were greeted by a large number of business men, and boxes of selected Spitznberg apples were presented the vacationists by the Apple Growers Association.

The party, in charge of W. S. Elliott, district passenger and freight agent of the O. W. R. & N. Co. at Spokane, was met here by R. H. Atkinson, Portland city passenger agent of the rail line. All marching big red apples, the vacationists left here looking forward to the stop made at Multnomah Falls, where the special train was halted long enough to permit the jolly party a view of the great cascades and the stretches of the Columbia river there.

QUESTIONNAIRES ALL MAILED YESTERDAY

The last of the 609 questionnaires to be forwarded by the exemption board to Hood River county draft eligibles were mailed yesterday. Up to Monday Hood River county had but seven men who were classed as slackers, having failed to make a report or return their questionnaires.

The exemption board, because of the loyalty of attorneys and advisory members of the board in assisting eligibles in filling out their reports, have had but little trouble with questionnaires. All attorneys have kept their offices open at all times to the men, and J. F. Batchelder and Judge Glanville have been constantly on duty at the court house.

M. East has rendered invaluable assistance, it is stated by the board, in securing proper reports on questionnaires mailed to the 40 Japanese of the valley whose ages are within the draft.

The committee met to take definite action on the proposal that the visitors deliver their messages at the Asbury Methodist church, the largest edifice of the city.

OLD HOUSES TORN DOWN

CREWS MAKE READY FOR GARAGE

Unightly Shacks to Be Replaced by Fire-proof Structure to Be Occupied By H. T. DeWitt

Crews of men Friday began razing five pioneer frame structures at the corner of Third street and Cascade avenue preparatory to the construction of a fireproof garage for E. B. Clark, of Portland. The oldest of the pioneer buildings was erected in 1881 by John Reynolds. Thirty years ago, Mr. and Mrs. John Gerdes, following their wedding, moved to the structure. Five years later Mr. Gerdes constructed a store building adjoining his home. Another of the old buildings now being torn down by wrecking crews was formerly Hood River's first livery stable, occupied by E. S. Olinger.

SPECIAL MEETING OF GRAND JURY CALLED

Circuit Judge Wilson, here from The Dalles Monday, has called a special session of the grand jury for January 22, in order that the body may make an investigation and act in the case of several men who have recently been bound over. The defendant in one of the cases is Rev. J. L. Allen, who was bound over on a charge of arson, it having been alleged by the office of the state fire marshal, following an investigation of Deputy Geo. Stokes, that he burned a residence at Cascade Locks.

Harry Clark, a half-breed negro-Indian, charged with a statutory crime against an Indian girl whom he is alleged to have lured from the Warm Springs agency, Dave Matheny is held on the charge of the burglary of the country home of Dr. T. L. Elot.

COMMERCIAL CLUB SEES END OF DEBT

Before the spring months arrive the Commercial club, for the first time in more than eight years, will be free from debt, as has been announced by the board of directors. During the last year the commercial organization, in addition to meeting all current 1917 expenses, has reduced an old indebtedness, contracted during boom days, by the sum of $1,448. A balance of $250 remains to be paid off during the next few months.

The actions of the Commercial club the past year have been characterized by lack of ostentation. The members of the organization have lent their support to all local patriotic campaigns, and the club has turned over its quarters to the women of the Red Cross for sewing rooms.

At the organization of the board officers were elected as follows: O. P. Dabney, pres.; W. L. Clark, vice pres.; S. J. Moore, treas.; C. N. Ravlin, sec.

PINE GROVE FOLK SHOW PATRIOTISM

Following a patriotic rally at Pine Grove Saturday night, the members of the grange, one of the oldest and strongest grange organizations of the state, have donated to the Red Cross women of the neighborhood their large hall for sewing headquarters. The grangers have equipped the hall with six sewing machines.

The meeting was attended by a large number of orchardists and their families. Mrs. E. R. Miller delivered a stirring address, and patriotic songs were rendered by Mrs. C. H. Sletton.

The Pine Grove auxiliary of the Red Cross Chapter now has 75 women devoting a part of each week to the manufacture of bandages and hospital supplies for the Red Cross.

NO MORE SATURDAY NIGHT SHOPPING

During the months of January and February there will be no more Saturday night shopping at Hood River stores. W. T. Frasier, of the Blowers Hardware Co., interviewed all lower city merchants Monday and secured the agreement of all of them to close their store at 6 p. m., just as on week nights, on Saturday evenings.

Following his visit to lower city merchants Mr. Frasier visited the merchants of the Heights to secure their agreement to the plan.

COLUMBIA RIVER RAISED 18 FEET

Commodore Dean, who for 15 years has been operating a ferry system between here and White Salmon, says that the recent rise of 18 feet in the Columbia is the record for the winter months.

"I have talked with old timers and Indiana," says Commodore Dean, "and they tell me that three feet is the greatest raise they have ever before seen the Columbia make from rain storms. But of course, these recent warm rains have been causing the snow of the early part of the winter to melt."

The Columbia has begun to fall and is now at the 16 foot stage here.

CANADIAN OFFICIALS HERE FEBRUARY 3

At a meeting of the executive committee of the local branch of the State Council of Defense, called by Chairman W. A. Isenberg last night, plans were made for the mass meeting to be held here on the afternoon of Sunday, February 3, when the people of Hood River will be addressed by Lieutenant Colonel McMillan, Major F. B. Edwards and Capt. E. J. Cook, three Canadian officers, veterans of the great war, who are making a tour of Oregon.

The committee met to take definite action on the proposal that the visitors deliver their messages at the Asbury Methodist church, the largest edifice of the city.

Pythian Sisters Installation Will Be Held

Installation of officers will be held at the meeting of Wauna Temple, Pythian Sisters, this evening at 7.30. A full attendance of membership is urged.

Little Mary Allen, the year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Culbertson, miraculously escaped injury, even a scratch, Tuesday evening, when the carriage in which she was being propelled by her mother was struck by an automobile and dragged for about 150 feet.

Mrs. Culbertson had just met Rev. M. L. Hutton at the northeast corner of Ninth street and Sherman avenue, and the minister had stopped to see the baby, when Ed Barton, deliveryman for the Filz meat market, and J. P. Heaton, a jitney man, came up the grade of Ninth street going south. Barton was accompanied by Glen Loving, a 15 year old boy, who was driving the automobile. As Loving steered his car into Sherman avenue he became frightened, fearing that his machine was going to be struck by the other machine, he says. First he headed the car into the corner opposite Mrs. Culbertson. Then the car was suddenly dashed into the pedestrians. Struck by the machine Rev. Hutton sustained severe bruises on one hip. Before Mrs. Culbertson or the baby were struck the automobile was stopped. Then the boy, in his confusion, instead of reversing his machine shot forward again. Mrs. Culbertson was struck and the machine passed over one of her feet. The wicker baby carriage was struck square on and caught between, the car and a high wall parallel to the sidewalk. Fortunately for the little tot the cab's basket and cover, folded up by the impact like a cocoon, protected the baby, and when Rev. Hutton lifted the debris of the vehicle from the infant she was gleefully laughing, as though the accident had been a great game.

While Mrs. Culbertson's injuries are painful, they are not serious. An X-ray photograph was made yesterday afternoon to ascertain if any bones were broken.

HAROLD TUCKER IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

W. F. Crowe, an associate of the young man's father, Alfred Tucker, in the manufacture of wooden pags for shipbuilding, informed the local exemption board last Friday that Harold Tucker was dangerously injured in a sawmill accident at Walla Walla Thursday. Mr. Crowe, accompanying his letter with the young man's questionnaire, stated that young Tucker, who recently left his West Side orchard place to engage in the Walla Walla plant, was caught in a saw. His body and left arm were terribly mangled and the carotid artery was laid bare. "While the full extent of the injuries has not been determined," writes Mr. Crowe, "it is believed that Mr. Tucker will recover."

Mr. Tucker formerly resided in Portland.

Eastern Star Installs

Officers of the Eastern Star Chapter were installed Tuesday night as follows: Mrs. J. O. McLaughlin, W. M.; Geo. R. Castner, W. P.; Mrs. Walter Walters, A. M.; Mrs. R. H. Coshov, Treas.; Miss Alta Poole, Sec.; Mrs. C. K. Marshall, C.; Miss Ethel Goudy, Donald A.; Miss Ethel Goudy, Adh.; Mrs. V. R. Abraham, Ruth; Mrs. E. L. Scobee, Esther; Mrs. W. B.
