WOMAN'S CLUB NEWS

The regular meeting of the Woman's Club was held Wednesday and an unusually large attendance of the membership was present. Following the business meeting Mrs. J. O. McLaughlin was chairman of the afternoon and presented a patriotic program replete with good features. Miss Jessie Lewis, representing the Goddess of Liberty, appeared on the platform while the audience sang the "Star Spangled Banner" and gave the National Flag salute.

Three interesting papers on the topic of the afternoon, "The Patriotism of Woman," were enjoyed.

Mrs. O. B. Nye told of the unending activities of the women of England in the present war. She said, "Something of their clear vision has come across the seas inspiring us to work on."

Mrs. V. R. Abraham paid a splendid tribute to the heroic women of France and Belgium, reviewing the past three years in which they have suffered beyond comprehension.

Mrs. J. W. Ingalls spoke on the "Awakening of the Women of America," and in the course of her address she said: "When in years to come the story is told of how the last and greatest war of the world was fought and won, it must be related how the women of America gave up luxuries, comforts, necessities even, to cheer and sustain their men and their allies while they freed the world from despotism."

Mrs. W. J. Eschbeck entertained with a vocal solo. She was accompanied by Miss Aldine Bartness.

Mrs. M. L. Hutton's reading, "The American Flag," with accompaniment of patriotic airs played by Mrs. Geo. Slocum, delighted her hearers. The high school chorus with Mrs. Chas. Henney at the piano, contributed three selections which were received with great applause.

The next meeting of the club will be February 27. Business meeting at 2.30. The theme of the afternoon program will be "Oregon's Future," with Mrs. W. W. Rodwell presiding. Several addresses will be given, and Miss Woodcock, a talented pianist of Portland, will play. This will be Miss Woodcock's first appearance before a Hood River audience.

These verses were written by Mrs. J. W. Ingalls for the patriotic program:

Should our blue stars turn to gold
Our earthly hopes in ruins lie,
As down thru time the years unfold
The light they cast will never die.

For down those years a future glows
With peace on earth, good will to men,
And how 'twas gained will oft be told
And yet be told again.

Of how our men went out to save
This world from Hell's estate,
Of how our women freely gave
Their best, their all, that they might make

A world that's clean and safe to tread,
No human monsters here,
The seas no longer stained with red,
A world that's free from fear.

They've carried o'er the Flag that frees
Unconquered yet by any foe,
It flies aloft in France's breeze
And bids our allies onward go.

We'd like to take our place by them,
Our men o'er seas today,
We'd like to march thru Berlin when
The last obstruction's swept away.

But ours the part to cheer them on
To keep them strong and true
To do our best behind their guns
To keep our stars of blue.

Yet, Christ himself gave up his life
To free this world from sin,
So can we make our sacrifice
The cause of Christ to win.

ODELL

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bowerman and family are enjoying a new Chevrolet purchased last week from the Hood River Garage.

Born - To Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pfinghaupt, Wednesday, February 13, a daughter.

Chas. Conking, of Portland, spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Weber.

Horace Gilkerson, who is acting corporal on special guard duty at Vancouver, came home Saturday for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Gilkerson. He returned to Vancouver Sunday afternoon.

Ray Gibson expects to spend the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gibson.

Albert Kollas expects to go to Seattle where he will engage as mechanic in one of the big shipyards.

Miss Eva Boyd substituted for Miss Kitty Braag, of Central Vale school, Monday.

Electric lights were out of commission Saturday night and there was no game, though Stevenson boys arrived before evening and all was in readiness with the exception of a few boys of such importance that the game had to be called off. This was very discouraging for the home team, as no game means no sport and also no receipts, while the stipulated amount must be paid the visiting team. Everyone will be ready and willing to help advertise and provide a record number to attend the game Friday night, Hood River vs. Odell. The last game of the season at Odell.

The girls' game last Friday night at White Salmon resulted in a score in favor of White Salmon.

Members and friends of the Methodist church at Odell expect to meet at the church Thursday and spend the day making several necessary improvements. The water pipe will be carried across the road and connected with the new pipe line which was installed last summer. A sink will be put in and the basement drain replaced with new galvanized pipe. The last named improvement will remove a most unsightly bit of road that has been for more than a year an obstruction through which motors or horse drawn conveyances must drive in order to reach points not joining the county road proper.

Red Cross meeting Friday, beginning at 9 a. m. All day meeting. Work is on hand ready for workers.

Through individuals and the schools Odell postoffice has been kept busy replacing supply of Thrift stamps. Miss Hukari, of the grade school, brought in a quantity of pennies with some silver coin and invested in stamps for the youthful savings depositors who are pupils in her room. There were others ready as supply was received and the schools of Odell, owing to the encouragement and cooperation of teachers and parents, are taking great interest in this fine method of investing small savings and helping supply necessary finance for our own United States.

Service 9.30 a. m. Sunday school 10.30 a. m. Epworth League, 7.30 p. m. at the Methodist church next Sunday.

The Red Cross patriotic rally held in the high school auditorium Saturday was a decided success. Effective decorations of evergreen, flags of the allied nations and Red Cross emblems formed an appropriate setting for the program. Mrs. Muller's talk on the work of the Red Cross should stimulate greater zeal and individual responsibility toward the work of the Odell auxiliary. Incidentally, the fine type of work done by the women of the community was highly commended. In

In Keeping With the Big Thought of the Day

The daily press reflects a sentiment throughout the nation which clearly indicates a new condition.

Men are wanted everywhere. The work of this war is being carried on largely by those who never before have been in public office or in public work. Men who have been too busy, too engrossed with their own tasks, are leaving their work to others and giving their time and ability to the cause which is ours, yours, everybody's.

It is a time when politics in the ordinary sense must not be considered. It calls for all the ability that can be mustered.

Oregon to be a successful part in this unit plan for the defense of Democracy, must likewise place the thought of the times before everything.

In another part of this paper appears the announcement of L. J. Simpson as a candidate for the nomination for Governor on the Republican ticket. Mr. Simpson was urged to become a candidate by his many friends in every part of the state, because of his business record, his understanding and knowledge of Oregon's resources, industries and needs; because of his public-spiritedness, which of recent years has led him to tasks which have been more important to him than his own affairs.

L. J. Simpson is clearly the man who can give Oregon the administration necessary to this plan of National Efficiency.

His campaign will be directed straight to you as voters, as individuals who do your own thinking.

We are firmly convinced that you will not allow politics to influence your decision, and that you will vote for the man who is best fitted to help the people of Oregon, develop the state's vast resources, and to prepare for, and participate in, the great reconstruction that is to follow.

We believe you will weigh issues more closely than ever before, and that L. J. Simpson will be your choice.

What You Can Do

First—Talk over his candidacy with your friends.

Second—If you believe that L. J. Simpson is worthy of your support write a letter to this committee.

Suggest how his cause may be advanced. We, in turn, will tell you how you can help.

some instance the garments made here have been selected as models for other groups. The report of the Red Cross work already accomplished is satisfying and plans for even greater service are being made.

L. F. Harrington's talk on what boys and girls can do for their country in the way of food production was practical and to the point. The keynote of this community rally was, "Translate your patriotism into action!"

FRANKTON.

C. M. Larson was home the week end from his mill work over in Washington.

J. I. Moreland and family left on Wednesday for Portland, where they will make their future home. They will be missed by their many Frankton friends.

A fire alarm gong has been installed in the Frankton school house. This was money well invested.

At the next Parent-Teacher meeting a fine literary program will be rendered, including recitations, songs and a debate. The question to be debated will be selected later. Three ladies will handle one side of the question and three men the other.

Mrs. T. D. Calkins gave a valentine party Saturday evening to a bunch of invited relatives and friends. A fine time was the verdict of those present.

Reports from down the highway around Ruthon hill have been thicker than fleas for the last few days, telling of the big blast that is to be put off when they get it placed. From one keg to two tons of black powder have been put into those coyote holes, so the story goes. We have been laying awake nights to hear it, but so far—well, its like lots of things we hear that we don't hear.

Ivan Scherer, one of Frankton's field artillery boys, came home Saturday from Fort Stevens, returning Monday. He has been transferred from 12th Co. to the 11th Co. and given a position in the quartermaster's department.

The Eastmans the whole bunch were visiting Sunday with Wm. Ely and family.

Wedding bells are liable to ring in Frankton again at almost any time, and if they do and it gets by us like the two last ones did our right and title to scribble a few lines in this column each week will be for sale.

Mrs. L. A. Kerr, wife of Frankton's blacksmith and one of our old residents, had the misfortune to fall Saturday, breaking her leg. We haven't the full particulars at this time, but undoubtedly the snow covering the board walks caused her to slip and fall.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

(By Georgia Lynn)

Last Thursday afternoon the high school girls met and discussed the organization of a Junior Red Cross sewing class. Miss Sheridan, domestic science teacher, displayed an infant's layette which the Red Cross has selected for Belgium and French orphans. Upon suggestion, each girl wrote on a slip of paper just what she could do in making a layette. These slips were taken up and given to Betty Slade, who was elected temporary chairman of the organization. Miss Slade appointed as her committee to help arrange the work: Caroline Seearre, freshman; Dorothy Cram, sophomore; Jessie Lewis, junior, and Ruth Berry, senior. While the girls were engaged with their meeting the boys, also members of the J. R. C., met in another room to discuss military training. Malcolm Hebard, Kenneth Hicks and Lewis Bailey were elected to confer with the male members of the faculty in regard to the proposed system of military training, and also to arrange details for obtaining funds for the girls of the J. R. C.

The senior frolic of February 14 was a great success. After a grown-up business meeting in the senior room, the "children" hurried to the auditorium, where they found prettily decorated tables lighted with red candles. As soon as each one had found his place, by means of the heart-shaped place cards, imported French waiters (furnished by the junior class) served a dainty luncheon of salad, sandwiches, cookies and punch. During the meal Miss Tripp, the nurse in charge, called upon different ones to speak upon such subjects as "The Fair Sex," "Driving Cadillacs," "Fort Stevens," "The Eugene Ordnance Class," "How I Retain my Youth," "The History of my Life," etc. At the close of the meal there followed a very amusing entertainment consisting of a sailor dance by Forrest Carter, Highland Fling by Elda Jaek, son and a recitation, "Spring is Here," by Kathryn L. Baker. The rest of the evening was spent in playing kid games and dancing. Everyone enjoyed the evening to the fullest extent and it was with some reluctance that the last child left for home.

Friday evening the H. R. H. S. boys' and girls' teams played basket ball with Stevenson. Quite naturally, both H. R. teams beat their opponents. The boys' game was scored 35-7 in favor of H. R. and the girls won by 23-8.

Tuesday afternoon the girls of the Junior Red Cross met and began work on six infants' layettes. At the same hour the boys of the J. R. C. began their military training.

Tuesday evening the Firemen played basket ball with H. R. H. S., the score resulting 40-17 in favor of H. S. A second game was played by the freshman girls against other girls of the school. The score showed a victory for the freshman girls, 22-17. This game was the longest game yet played by the girls. The proceeds of the evening will be used for Red Cross benefit.

ODELL HIGH SCHOOL

(By Chas. McIlwraith)

The game last Friday night at White Salmon was a defeat for our girls, 4-8. According to reports, however, they had to walk up the "Thousand Stairs" from the river to the town, which was enough to take the pep out of anybody.

The big game with Stevenson Saturday night was a big fizzle, as the electric light was "the light that failed." Consequently our boys are $15 in the hole.

Everybody should turn out for the game with Hood River next Friday night. This will be the last game this season at home. Come and help the boys make up for last Saturday's fiasco.

Merton Folts has completely recovered.

Elmer Annala has been sick.

Friday Marion Cochran, late O. H. S. freshman, came from The Dalles to visit friends.
