

MAZOLA

Better cooking at less cost with Mazola, the pure oil from corn

Mazola is a vegetable oil from an edible source for deep frying, sautéing, shortening and salad dressings.

Foods fried in Mazola retain all of their natural flavor and are easy to digest.

Mazola does not transmit taste or odor from one food to another—can be used over and over again—a big factor in economy.

And because Mazola is a vegetable oil, it enables you to follow the plans of the Food Administration and save animal fats—butter, lard, suet.

Get Mazola from your grocer in pint, quart, half-gallon and gallon tins. Also ask for the free Mazola Book of Recipes—or write us direct.

Your money refunded if Mazola does not give entire satisfaction.

WILLAMETTE BOYS ARE MAKING GOOD

Willamette University boys in France are making a noteworthy record for their morale and ability.

So reports Carl G. Doney, president of the university in a letter to Amesbee M. Smith, one of the regents of the university, who is also president of the executive committee of the Portland Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Dr. Doney is in France to tell the French soldiers what America wants and why America is in the war. He will then tell the American soldier the viewpoint of the poilu. His letter to Mr. Smith follows:

For almost a month I have been on French soil, two weeks of which were spent in Paris. During that time I was being instructed, was conferring about the work and doing some speaking. Nearly two weeks have been passed in the base section, where I have been going from camp to camp to give addresses. What I have seen and heard already would make a book, and there is enough in the experience to thrill the dullist soul.

Could the people of America know what Uncle Sam has done and is doing here they would not only be patient, but become enthusiastic. I am informed that in some essential features our men have already accomplished more in the past nine months than France ever did achieve. It is preparatory, necessary, but not spectacular, and does not get into print. I do not know how many men are here, but there are enough to surprise the States when the figures may be known. And they are coming while the U-boats dodge and hide.

France is far from being hungry and is not bleeding white. She is tired and would welcome peace, but the spirit of the people is high and determined. The cost of food is high and about the same as in America, perhaps a trifle greater, but that is much more than it is in peace times. One sees mourning everywhere, but there is no weeping. The women have the far-away, meditative look that is more touching than tears. Of course, there is joy also. The French nature turns quickly to pleasure, and the theatres are open, parks filled and some sports in vogue.

"I am amazed at what the 'Y's' is doing, at the demands made upon it and at the discipline it receives. The war would be radically different without it; the morale of the men could not be as it is. I have been in over 20 huts, all busy places where the men crowd at night to read, write, listen to music and address and generally pull themselves together. The canteens are also connected with the 'Y's' and managed by the secretaries. Here the men buy tobacco, candy, nuts, gum and a score of things 'made in U. S.'"

I have given about two dozen addresses and never spoke to audiences more attentive or appreciative. It is touching to note the hard hunger of the soldiers for a straightforward talk. One morning I was called from bed at 6:30 to speak to a company before the men went to work. One night I spoke for nearly an hour to 300 men who stood in darkness on a lumber dock. A surprising proportion of the soldiers are college graduates, fine and outstanding men.

I have met half a dozen Willamette boys, and they are making a noteworthy record for their morale and ability. Soon I expect to go where the others are located. You may imagine that they were rather glad to see me and I not less so to see them. The streets are patrolled by U. S. soldiers and open soliciting is checked. It will be still further reduced as certain sections are wholly forbidden to the man in uniform. Wine and cigarettes take their toll, but most of the men are standing out against them, like heroes, except that practically everyone smokes.

Next week I am to leave for this section and go into a French base for a month. There I am to live with the soldier, try to tell him about the American soldier, tell him what America wants, etc., and then I shall take up work with our men again, seeking to tell them something of the French viewpoint. It is an exceptional opportunity given me and I am only anxious about being able to meet it.

I am cared for well, have food and comfort aplenty. The officers are kind and thus far have allowed me to see everything, to count myself fortunate beyond any other 'Y' man in France.

Checks Go By Mail

Mrs. Sherman J. Frank was the first patron of the Hood River postoffice to take advantage of the new postal ruling, permitting young checks to be forwarded by parcel post. Mrs. Frank shipped a carton containing 25 day old chicks to Aurora for a postage charge of only five cents.

The cheer of the hungry little chickens while at the postoffice awaiting their train, created a great deal of interest.

Some Good Advice

"Don't think too much of your own methods. Watch other people's ways and learn from them." This is good advice, especially when bilious or constipated. You will find many people who use Chamberlain's Tablets for these ailments with the best results, and will do well to follow their example.

NEWSPAPER MAN SUFFERS IN FRANCE

(From Fred Lockley's "Journal Man Abroad")

A newspaper man over here must have a strong heart, or he is apt to die of heart failure, or blow up, as most all the "big stories" he gets next to cannot be discussed, for military reasons.

For years, when I was manager of the Pacific Monthly, my constant endeavor was to secure more subscriptions and more advertising. I picked up the London Mail a few days ago and found notices to subscribers to the effect that on account of the shortage of paper, they were going to reduce their subscription list greatly and that only those who would agree to share their copy of the Mail with some other family could take the paper, and that a rigid inquiry would be instituted in the case of new subscribers desiring to take the paper, to determine whether they really needed it. A few days later I picked up another paper and read a notice to this effect:

"We desire to apologize to our advertisers, but, on account of cutting down the size of the paper, it will be necessary to reduce additional advertising, and all old time advertisers will have to be content with half their usual space."

I never expected to live to see the day when a newspaper would urge its readers not to subscribe nor advertise.

Some of the ads in the French papers keep one guessing. I read a twelve line ad the other day which said: "Wanted—A man of imagination. Apply to the undersigned." I have been wondering ever since what kind of a job that was.

Dr. Dumble Gets 'Em

Liberty bond canvassing teams have directed the attention of Mayor Dumble to citizens of doubtful loyalty, and the mayor has not yet failed to bring in a subscription.

Wednesday of last week Mayor Dumble had W. G. Snow make him a replica of one of those gruesome-appearing bun clubs, as are shown in an official Liberty Loan advertisement, used to disgust sound prisoners. Armed with the club, a small American flag, Mayor Dumble called on H. Burmaster, naturalized German, who has been under suspicion. The flag and the weapon held aloft in either hand, Mayor Dumble asked Burmaster which he supported. The latter chose the flag. At the mayor's request the man took the banner and bearing it aloft marched in front of the chief executive to the nearest bank to subscribe for a $50 bond.

Carson Advanced in Grand Council

J. K. Carson, who has been active in Masonic orders for more than 25 years, was elected Grand Captain of the Guard of the Grand Council of R. & S. 639 to whose annual meeting was held Wednesday of last week in Salem. Mr. Carson is Commander of the Hood River Commandery of Knights Templar. Along with Mr. Carson, Past Grand Master Laraway attended the Salem Grand Council.

Benedenelli, Alien, Let Out

The local draft board has been notified by a San Francisco board that Orlando Benedenelli, called two weeks ago to fill Hood River county's first draft quota of four, had been relieved of military service. The man, who has never taken out naturalization papers, made an affidavit to the effect that he did not understand the questionnaire and that he had not intended to waive exemption because of being an alien.

Stanley J. Sherer, agent for the Mt. Hood R. R. Co., and one of the city's prominent young business men, was drafted in Benedenelli's place. He left Saturday for Camp Lewis.

Williams Takes Wyeth Over the Top

Its population made up chiefly of transient employes in the coal bunkers and the treating plant of the O. W. R. M. Co., the little station village of Wyeth has rolled up subscriptions of $7,000 to the third liberty loan. Less than 100 men are employed at Wyeth, and of these 24 are Japanese and 28 Chinese. Both Japanese and Chinese have subscribed liberally. The section crew took $800 worth of bonds. Frank Williams, superintendent of the Wyeth plants, was instrumental in rolling up the big subscriptions.

Billy Sunday is Grandpa

Billy Sunday, arch foe of the kaiser and the devil, is one of the happiest men on earth. For it came to pass that a certain bird commonly known as a stork visited St. Luke's hospital in Chicago last Friday and ere he departed he left a son with Mrs. Mark Haines, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sunday.

This is the first grandson born to the Sundays and explains the happiness of Billy.

Mr. Haines, the father of the boy, owns a newspaper in Sturgis, Mich.

Women Braver than Men

Women often do their daily tasks in home, office or factory while suffering pain and misery that would put a man in bed. However, much of women's suffering can be alleviated. Backache, sore muscles, stiff joints, rheumatic pains, dizziness and like symptoms are caused by disordered kidneys and bladder. Mrs. Thos. Davis, Montgomery, Ind., writes: "I doctored several months without relief, when I commenced using Foley Kidney Pills and got relief. Eight bottles cured me." Safe, harmless, quick results. Sold everywhere.

Nature Cures, the Doctor Takes Fee

There is an old saying that "Nature cures, the doctor takes the fee," but as everyone knows you can help Nature very much and thereby enable it to effect a cure in much less time than is usually required. This is particularly true of colds, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy relieves the lungs, purifies the tough mucus and aids in its expectoration, allays the cough and aids Nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition.

More and more the enclosed motor car grows strong in popular favor. It's natural, especially with Ford cars, which are busy running every day of the year—winter and summer. The Ford serves faithfully and profitably. So for a real genuine family car, there is nothing equal to the Ford Sedan at $605 f. o. b. Detroit. Seats five. Large doors, plate glass sliding windows, silk curtains, deeply upholstered seats, latest type ventilating windshield—a car of refined luxury with the everlastingly reliable Ford chassis.
