MEMORIAL DAY

ONCE more our sons have gone forth to battle.

Once more the fight is being waged for American life, liberty and honor.

This is the accepted day of homage to those who have already laid down their lives that our Nation might live.

It is also a fitting time for us to pledge anew our heartiest support to those who today are facing the supreme sacrifice.

Let America to the last man, woman and child stand solidly behind the boys who are keeping aloft the banner of freedom.

REGISTRATION ON JUNE 5TH

MEN 21 SINCE JUNE MUST REPORT

Registrations Will Be Conducted by Draft Boards at Voting Precincts the Same as Last Year

Wednesday, June 5, is a date of great importance to every man in the United States who has attained the age of 21 years since registration day June 5, one year ago. For on this coming June 5 will be held another registration day, on which every man who has passed his 21st birthday since last June 5 must register with his local draft board.

This applies to non-citizens as well as to citizens. No man who comes within the age limit is exempted from registering, unless he is already in the military or naval service of the United States. And men 21 years old who for any reason have been discharged from the military or naval service must register June 5.

The registration will be conducted by the local draft boards throughout the United States. Each draft board is required to post publicly the location of its registration place, and men 21 years old must present themselves there June 5 for registration. The registration places will open on registration day at 7 o'clock in the morning, and will be open until 9 o'clock that night.

No excuse will be accepted for failure to register. The burden of informing himself of the time and place for registration is by law placed on the registrant himself. Failure to register is punishable by imprisonment up to one year in jail.

Attempts to evade registration will bring disaster to the evader. All city, county, state and United States peace officers have been specifically directed to assist in bringing about a complete registration of men 21 years old, and to examine the registration lists and report immediately to the federal authorities the names of any persons liable to registration known by them to have failed to register.

Men who are too ill to appear at the registration place in person must send some competent person to the local board to obtain a registration card with authority to fill it out. This card when filled must be mailed to the person to the local board in time to be filed on registration day, June 5.

Provision is also made for registration by mail of men 21 years old who will unavoidably be absent from their home jurisdictions on registration day. All such persons should proceed immediately, without waiting for registration day, to the local board nearest to the place in which they happen to be, and have their registration cards made out by this board. The card must then be mailed by the registrant, together with a self-addressed and stamped envelope for return of a registration certificate, to the registrant's own local board. As this registration card must reach the local board by June 5, men 21 years old who will be absent from their home jurisdiction on June 5 should make haste now to have their registration cards filled out so they can mail the cards without delay to the proper board.

The War department has issued the following official warning to all men coming within the 21 year old age limit:

"Caution—All male persons, citizens of the United States, and all male persons residing within the United States who have, since the 5th day of June, 1917, and on or before the day set for registration by the President's proclamation (this coming June 5), attained the age of 21 years, must register. The only exceptions are persons in the military or naval service of the United States, which includes all officers and enlisted men of the regular army, the navy, the marine corps, and the national guards and naval militia, while in the service of the United States, and officers in the Officers reserve corps and enlisted men in the Enlisted reserve corps while in active service."

CLASS OF 1918 GETS DIPLOMAS

The members of the class of 1918 of the Hood River high school participated in their graduating exercises Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium. The program was as follows:

RANCHERS BUILD TEMPORARY BRIDGE

E. R. Claxton, whose orchard home is less than a quarter of a mile south of the city, because of the earth fill being made to replace the wooden trestle across Indian creek, finds it necessary to travel a distance of more than two and a half miles each way on shopping errands. After Mr. Claxton had figured that he would have to travel a distance of 200 miles before the new fill is completed, he interviewed neighbors with the result that 16 of them have set to work to build a temporary bridge across Indian creek and temporary roads connecting with the main highway.

Mr. Claxton says that not one of his neighbors refused assistance with the temporary work.

"Dr. J. Williams, Civil war veteran," says Mr. Claxton "didn't have any team but we pressed him into service escorting workers back and forth from their homes with his automobile."

MERCHANTS WILL MEET FOOD MEN

The merchants of Hood River will meet tomorrow evening at the Commercial club with County Food Administrator Gibson and representatives of the State Food Administration for a discussion of the plans of putting Oregon on an absolute wheatless basis. The plans were launched last Sunday, when the state was put on a five day trial period in which merchants were to sell no wheat flour.

During the five day period Food Administration officials will meet with merchants over the state in an effort to work out the plan for a total abstinence. While the plan is urged by the National Food Administration, it is not a compulsory one. It is a volunteer plan of the Oregon Food Administration.

Mr. Gibson says that a number of families of Hood River have volunteered during the past several weeks to abstain from all wheat flour. More than five barrels of flour have been returned to merchants.

WULLE WILL BUY EXCHANGE BUSINESS

Stockholders of the Fruit Growers' Exchange by unanimous vote Friday night accepted a proposition from Dan Wulle & Co. for the purchase of the cooperative agency's storage plant, valley receiving warehouses and all other properties. The Exchange for the past five years has been affiliated with the Northwestern Fruit Exchange, of Seattle.

The Exchange will be operated throughout the strawberry season with F. W. Buff, who has been with the organization for the past 11 months, in charge of sales. Mr. Buff will also close up all business of the agency.

The acquisition of this property will greatly augment the growing business of the purchasers, as heretofore they have been unable to store or load in the town of Hood River. Last year they operated their own plant at Odell, and received and loaded in four other warehouses operated under their management in the valley, besides their

The following resolution was unanimously passed at one of the Odell schools last Sunday: "We, the members of the M. E. Sunday school of Odell, do unanimously endorse and heartily agree with Dr. Lewellen in all that he said against cigarettes for our soldiers at the Pine Grove county Sunday school convention. Also we do heartily endorse the action of the delegates who acted on the resolution committee in condemning the distribution of cigarettes to the soldiers."

PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

November 19, 1863

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war; testing whether that Nation, or any Nation so conceived, and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow—this ground. The brave men living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it cannot forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

BERRIES ARE RIPENING VERY SLOWLY

Strawberries are moving from here now at the rate of from 10 to 30 crates, express shipments, daily. C. W. McCullagh says he does not expect a carload of fruit before June 10. The cool weather is delaying the ripening of the berries.

Myron S. Smith, prominent grower of Underwood, Wash., here Monday, says that the crop of that district, while late, will be of excellent quality this year.

The harvest of strawberries began in earnest Monday, when a free employment office was opened here by E. B. Green, of the United States Immigration Bureau.

The first express shipment, a half crate of fruit grown by J. L. Peasley, was forwarded Wednesday last week by the Fruit Growers Exchange. This concern will inaugurate a new method of handling berries this season. Growers will deliver their packed fruit to central assembling stations in the different districts, and it will then be called for by motor trucks operated by the agency. Thus berries will be shipped the same day they are picked. Where growers do their own hauling, it is said, many delay getting their fruit to shipping stations in time to be loaded out.

BELL EXPRESSES THANKS TO LADS

"The fire boys of Hood River deserve the greatest praise for their good work," says C. A. Bell, of the Mount Hood hotel, whose hostility was without doubt saved from destruction last week, when the fire boys, despite their decimated numbers, 12 members having gone to war, rushed to the scene of the blaze in the old American boarding house.

"I want to express my sincerest thanks to the firemen," continues Mr. Bell. "As a result of their efforts my hotel sustained only minor damage instead of going up entirely in smoke."

Mr. Bell's son, Fred, now in France with a light artillery regiment, was formerly a member of the fire department.

Planer Workman Insane

John Matson, an employe at the Wind River Lumber Co. planer, brought here from Cascade Locks by Deputy Sheriffs Long and Hunt, was committed to the Eastern Oregon insane asylum Tuesday.

Matson rested under the hallucination that an enemy was constantly attacking him. At frequent intervals he would slash the air with fist or open knife. The man also would stop by the roadside on the street, or at his work to remove his shoes and take off his socks, turning them wrongside out before returning them to his feet. He is said to have repeated this trick several times an hour.
