

Grain, Flour and Feed Dealers' Notice to the Public

Owing to high prices on Grain and Feed and higher cost of doing business, we wish to announce that our retail prices are net cash after June 1st. The country is more prosperous than formerly and it will not cause any hardship for a buyer to conform to this condition, while it is daily getting harder for dealers to obtain and carry in stock an ordinary amount of Grain and Feed. Also, we wish to thank you for your patronage in the past and your favorable consideration for the future.

McLaughlin Going to Corvallis

Prof. J. O. McLaughlin, for the past six years superintendent of the schools of this city and for nine years a teacher in the high school, has accepted a call to the superintendency of the city schools of Corvallis. The school board has not selected Prof. McLaughlin's successor.

A dispatch from Corvallis says: "Mr. McLaughlin has two degrees from a Pennsylvania college and comes very highly recommended, both by the school board and citizens of Hood River, as well as educators all over the state."

"He leaves Hood River to accept a wider opportunity and a larger salary. The Corvallis board found the problem of securing a superintendent this year a difficult one."

Appeal for Arens Denied

The local draft board Tuesday declined to heed a petition presented by a delegation of prominent Clackamas county men, who asked that R. W. Arens, assigned as one of the 10 men drawn to fill this county's June draft quota, be given a deferred classification and allowed to continue his work as Clackamas county agriculturist.

The delegation, composed of C. E. Spence, Harvey G. Starkweather, Judge H. S. Anderson and Paul V. Maris, stated that they would accept the ruling of the local board and not make an appeal to the district board.

Mr. Arens' call, however, has been deferred until the next draft, and his place in the current draft has been filled by Leonard Miller, of the Regulator Line. The men will entrain Friday afternoon at 2:55 o'clock.

NOTICE TO TIRE USERS

The importation of Crude Rubber has been restricted and a tire shortage is likely to occur.

The Tire Factories recommend that you save your old tires and have them retreaded.

Look your old tires over. Perhaps you have one or more tires that would pay to retread. No matter if they have a small blowout, we can repair it, and if the fabric is in good condition otherwise, it will pay you to save them and get as much out of them as possible.
