YOUR DRUGGIST

SPEAKER PRAISES HOOD RIVER SPIRIT

The spontaneity and enthusiasm of the Hood River audience present last Thursday night at the open air theatre at Chautauqua park and their lively participation in a community sing, completely won the heart of Dr. W. Arnold Lindber, assigned by the Oregon State Council of Defense as chief speaker of the celebration.

"I have never seen a place that displayed a greater interest, a more heartily absorbing in war work," declared the speaker. "I am going to take your chorus to Portland let them show how things are done."

Several patriotic numbers were given by the Liberty Chorus, in training under the direction of Mrs. C. H. Sletton to lead meetings of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign. This chorus lead in the community singing. In addition to Mrs. Sletton, the singers are: Mrs. Truman Butler, Miss Gladys Reavis, Mrs. A. S. Reitz, Mrs. M. L. Hulton, Mrs. E. C. Smith, Mrs. C. O. Huelat, Mrs. C. N. Clarke, W. H. McClain, C. H. Vaughan, J. R. Nickelsen, C. C. Crew, E. L. House, S. G. Osbornow, A. L. Graf and W. T. Price. Mrs. L. E. Taft is accompanist.

The meeting at Chautauqua park followed a parade, headed by Edwin Cram as Uncle Sam, and accompanied by tiny little Miss Leone Cook on a prancing pony. Unsuccessful efforts had been made to have Mayor Baker release one of his Portland bands. With the local band disrupted through enlistments, it was necessary to improvise music. A piano, drums, traps and other instruments were hurriedly placed aboard a huge truck. The musicians were Arthur Kolstad, Miss Orva Wright, E. A. Kincaid, William Wood, Clarence F. Gilbert and J. W. Forbes. The thinning numbers of Grand Army veterans of this county, followed by hundreds of the day's registrants and those of the class of 1917, made an inspiring spectacle. Members of the Woman's Relief Corps, Boy Scouts, students of the city schools and high school boys who are being trained in military drill by R. V. Wright, head of the school's new department of agriculture, were in line.

Mrs. Chas. H. Castner presided at the meeting. Mrs. Castner, who is here visiting Mrs. Castner, delivered a stirring address.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR MANAGING

(From Oregon Voter)

Under the caption of "Ten Rules for Foremen and Others," there is published an interesting and inspiring outline for managing men. It is in a recent number of "Going Some," the organ of the St. Johns shipyard of the Grant Smith-Porter Ship Co. The rules reflect the spirit and, we suspect, the language of Eric V. Hauser, the head of the enterprise that in two successive months secured the honor awards for wooden shipbuilding from the Emergency Fleet Corporation in competition with all other yards of the entire country. They are worth reading in full:

1. Be Fair.
2. Have no favorites and no scapegoats. A foreman has to act as judge many times every day, therefore he must be just.
3. Make Few Promises and Keep Them.
4. A foreman must be exact in this particular. Sometimes a foreman forgets that his job requires a high standard of truth and honor.
5. Don't Waste Anger. Use It. Anger is the most valuable thing and should not be used carelessly. Keep your most forceful language for special occasions. Before a foreman can control others successfully he must control himself.
6. Always Hear the Other Side. Never blame a worker until he has been given a chance to give his point of view.
7. Don't Hold Spite. Forgive. When you lay down a rule, a worker, go to him later, in a friendly way. There should always be blue sky and sunshine after a storm.
8. Never Show Discouragement. A foreman must have perseverance, and never say die.
9. Notice Good Work as Well as Bad. Mingle praise and blame. Let the workers see that you can appreciate as well as condemn.
10. Watch for Attitudes. Take a keen human interest in your workers. Notice them. Study them. Put each one where he can do best.
11. Be an Optimist. Don't let your worries and troubles deform you into a pessimist. Inspire confidence. Put the "right" spirit into the works. Say, "Come along, men, all together!"
12. Take Full Share of the Blame. It is heroic, but the foreman who can share both blame and praise with his workers will have discovered the secret of managing his men.

Two Hurt in Accidents

Hood River had two sensational accidents the past week, however, without serious injuries.

Art Hukari, Oak Grove boy, is recovering at the Cottage hospital from a broken rib and bruises, sustained Sunday when he fell 60 feet from the Columbia slide near the Koberg place. Parr, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Apple, stepped from behind a wood wagon Monday morning in the path of an automobile. Although a wheel passed over his shoulder no bones were broken.

Coughed Fifteen Years

Coughs that hang on and grow worse in the night and weaken the sufferer are relieved by Foley's Honey and Tar oftener than by any other remedy. R. F. Hall, Mabe, Va., writes: "For 15 years I was afflicted with a troublesome bronchial cough and irritation of the throat. Foley's Honey and Tar relieved me; after taking one bottle the cough ceased and has not returned." No medicine stands higher as a family remedy for colds for children and grown-ups.

Registrars Treated

The registrars of city precincts were gratified last Thursday to receive a gift of a box of cigars from F. G. Lindsey, the genial "Pat." Robert Porigo treated the registrars to a big Dallas watermelon.

Men Feel Tired, Too

While much is said about tired women, it must be remembered that men also pay the penalty of overwork. When the kidneys are weak, inactive or sluggish, when one feels tired and miserable, lacks energy and ambition, Foley's Kidney Pills are tonic and strengthening. Wm. H. Clark, Springfield, Ohio, writes: "I found no relief from kidney trouble until I discovered Foley's Kidney Pills. Now I am in A-1 shape." They act quickly and surely.

SILVER WEDDING CELEBRATION HELD

With a party of pioneer friends present Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Davidson celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Saturday evening. The couple was married 25 years ago at Canton, Ill. The journey to Hood River formed their honeymoon trip.

Mr. Davidson had moved to the valley three years before he returned to Illinois to claim his bride. They made their first home on the West Side about three miles from the city, then a sparsely settled community, and there Mr. Davidson developed an orchard, the forerunner of the hundreds of acres now bearing fruit.

Later Mr. Davidson became interested in the manufacture of apple boxes. In a modest way he started a vinegar and strawberry preserving plant. He became interested in the shipping business, and while he was developing one of the largest individual holdings of Hood River apples, he at the same time became one of the most prominent of Northwestern shippers. Mr. Davidson for many years operated the Davidson Fruit Co. Later he became president of the North Pacific Fruit Distributors. For the past several years he has conducted offices in New York city, where he has represented his own interests and sales organizations of a number of Northwestern districts in the Atlantic coast and export trade.

Mrs. Davidson is prominent in civic and social life. She is past president of the Woman's club and for four years was recording secretary of the Oregon State Federation, the convention of which will attend this week in Portland. Mrs. Davidson accompanies her husband to New York city each winter. Since the war began she has taken a very prominent part in work of providing comfort for soldiers. While she was in New York she greeted hundreds of Oregon boys on the way across, presented them with boxes of home fruits and brought back messages to loved ones. Mrs. Davidson is one of the Oregonians to receive a letter carried by the new aerial post established between Washington and New York city. The letter, from the Aerial League, was addressed to her at St. Nicholas Apartments, New York City. It bore the new 36 cent aerial stamp. The letter was forwarded to her here.

Out of town guests here for the jubilee celebration were Miss Helen Davidson, who is teaching the department of domestic science at Wasco, Moro and Kent high schools; Mrs. I. N. Miner, Mrs. Davidson's sister, and husband and daughter, Miss Deborah, of Portland; and Mrs. Rose Shelley, of Carson, Wash., an old neighbor of the early orchard days.

Alaska Attorney Has Praise

Accompanying his son-in-law, Grover Slusher and family, of Dufur, and Mr. Slusher's brother, Harvey Slusher, home from a motor tour of Puget Sound districts, F. M. Saxton, ex-United States district attorney for Alaska, has been here visiting the family of C. N. Clarke. Messrs. Slusher are Mrs. Clarke's brothers.

Mr. Saxton pays unstinted praise to the Columbia river scenery, and declares the highway one of the finest pieces of highway engineering he has ever seen.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express to our friends and neighbors our sincere thanks and appreciation of their expressions of sympathy and many thoughtful and kind acts at the time of our recent bereavement attendant on the death and funeral services of our wife, mother and sister.

SOLDIER LOSES LIFE FIGHTING FOREST FIRE

First news of the death, Monday night, of Pvt. Edward C. Lutzau, member of the First Provisional Regiment, spruce division, detailed from Vancouver Barracks to fight the Mitchell's Point forest fire, was brought here Wednesday afternoon of last week by Forest Ranger Albert Weisenburger, of Portland, who, as a deputy registrar of Hood River county, enrolled 12 fire fighters, engaged in guarding the burn.

The soldier, whose home is Detroit, Mich., was returning to camp at 6.30 o'clock. It is believed that he became dizzy at the top of a cliff. Following an oil can he carried, his body, the tragedy witnessed by his comrades, tumbled 250 feet to the bottom of the canyon.

Lieut. W. E. Mogan, medical officer attached to the fire fighters who reached the side of the soldier 20 minutes following the accident, accompanied Ranger Weisenburger to Hood River Wednesday evening.

"I found the young man gasping, and administered a hypodermic, but he died in a few seconds," said Lt. Mogan. "His skull had been crushed."

The soldiers, who returned last Thursday, did excellent work. They were in high spirits until the fatal accident. They body was sent at once to Vancouver Barracks.
