FIRE PREVENTION

When you are working on your New Year's resolutions the latter part of this week do not forget one and proceed at once to execute it that will result in elimination of the fire danger Hood River had too many fires last year. Carelessness probably cause many of them. Fire is waste. There fore, if you have rubbish in your base ment, remove it. If you have fearthat your electric wires are not properly insulated see the electrician.

"To Keep the Home Fires Burning, is the title of a short set of sarcast suggestions in a recent bulletin issues by the Oregon fire marshal. They fol-

CLEAN MEN

Seve al years ago the Oregon Social Hygiene Society came into being and turned the light of publicity on the so called social diseases, a plague to mankind as far back as history reaches. Young men were told in plain language the dangers, not to them selves alone, but to unborn genera tions, from veneral diseases. The work of the society to a large extent obliterated that old sense of false modesty that possessed society and prevented, except in hushed tones, the discussion of this red plague. Formerly young men were preached at and told to follow the straight and narrow paths. But the new system of
