

The Flood River Glacier.

VOL. XXX

HOOD RIVER, OREGON, THURSDAY, JANUARY 9, 1919

No. 32

THRIFT OUR MAINSTAY

Yesterday—while the war was raging and extravagance would have meant increased suffering and death "over there."

Today—During the reconstruction period when industry is formulating a new program to meet the present situation;

Tomorrow—When the readjustment shall have taken place and peace conditions again prevail:—

BE THRIFTY
First, Last, and Always

First National Bank
Hood River, Oregon

Kodak Developing and Printing

By our Real Kodak Expert

Now is the time to have your best Negatives Enlarged. We make Enlargements in Black and White and Sepia. We do our own Printing and Enlarging—and do it right. Bring in your best negatives and we can tell you as to size they will best enlarge.

Come in and hear the latest January Records.

THE KRESSE DRUG CO.
The Rexall Store

VALLEY LUMBER CUT IS HEAVY

1918 OUTPUT REACHES 35,647,000

Oregon Lumber Company Heads List with 24,062,000 Feet and Mitchells Point Lumber Company is Second

While the county's annual average lumber cut was greater by several million feet when the Stanley-Smith Lumber Co. the annual output of which was 17,500,000 feet, was operating, seven smaller milling concerns operating last year went far in their aggregate production toward reaching the larger concern's cut. The seven smaller mills, headed by the Mitchells Point Lumber Co. with a cut of 3,500,000, turned out 11,575,000 feet. With the 24,062,000 feet produced by the Oregon Lumber Co.'s mill at Dec, the valley's total lumber output for 1918 reached 35,647,000 feet. The Dec mill cut 2,000,000 more feet than in 1917. The lumber production was chiefly for government orders.

The smallest cut was made by the Standard Lumber Co., of Oak Grove, which produced 225,000 feet, ties and other products on government orders. But other lumbermen consider the record of this small concern as marvelous, for it was almost entirely the work of the three sons of J. Horn, who constructed their mill during times that other busy men could consider leisure moments. In 30 days the past summer these three young men cut, hauled and sawed for timber to the gross value of $1,440. Mr. Horn has three other sons in the army.

The respective outputs of the other five of the eight smaller lumber concerns of the valley for 1918 were as follows: Post Canyon Lumber Co., 1,100,000 feet; Fir Lumber Co., 750,000; Oak Grove Lumber Co., 2,500,000; Mount Hood Milling Co., 1,000,000; the Lost Lake Lumber Co., 2,500,000 feet.

The production of the Mount Hood Milling Co., the plant of which, located south of Parkdale, was destroyed last fall by fire, is contained chiefly in box manufacture and by Upper Valley residents.

Lumber men look forward to a heavy cut next season.

The New 1919 Model COLUMBIA GRAFONOLAS ARE HERE

Many new improvements are included.

- (1) Standard Universal Motor.
- (2) New Hinge Motor Board.
- (3) New Friction Cover Support.
- (4) Bayonet Lock Spring Barrel.

The new Columbia Grafonola cabinet is equipped with the new patented record ejector. This with all of the other new features makes the machine the most appealing on the market today. See for yourself.

Reed-French Piano Co.

G. E. CORSON, Manager

Formerly Red Cross Headquarters, opp. 1st Nat'l Bank

BUTLER BANKING COMPANY

ESTABLISHED 1900

RESOURCES OVER ONE MILLION DOLLARS

Member Federal Reserve System

CROWN FLOUR

MAKES THE BEST BREAD

TAFT TRANSFER CO.
HOOD RIVER, ORE.

Soldiers, Sailors and Marines

WELCOME HOME

We have reserved your favorite corner and we still carry in stock your favorite brand of Clothing and Hoberdashery.

You'll find the other fellow here so come on in and make the reunion complete.

J. G. VOGT.

STANLEY SMITH LUMBER CO.

HAVE JUST RECEIVED A CAR OF

Finish Lumber, Lath Shingles Sash and Doors

We are now in a position to furnish all your requirements.

Roofing Paper
CARRIED IN STOCK

STANLEY SMITH LUMBER CO.

OLIVER CHILLED PLOWS.

Orchard Hay Rakes, Mowers, Disc Plows, Harrows, Winona Wagons, Orchard Trucks.

KELLY BROS., Distributors. Phone 1401.

Death of a Friend

Or neighbor in moderate circumstances and leaving a family, immediately suggests the question—how much life insurance did he leave? The question is natural; it is reasonable; it is not idle curiosity. For we knew if he failed to provide the insurance which he ought that his estate will make but slender provision for his wife and children. Is your life sufficiently insured? If you should die to-night what shape would your estate be in? If you can't answer this question right, better get right today.

See Your Life Insurance Man Today

HOOD RIVER ABSTRACT & INVESTMENT CO.

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY

The Highland Milling Co.

Is helping to develop this Valley Use Its Products

FLOUR—GRAHAMS—WHOLE WHEAT RYE FLOUR—MEALS

AND EVERYTHING IN THIS LINE

POULTRY AND STOCK FOODS

A SPECIALTY

COUNTY COURT HAS IMPORTANT SESSION

At one of the most important meetings the body has recently participated in, the county court at last week's sessions took steps to make possible the beginning of construction of the Hood River-Mosier section of the Columbia River Highway as soon as the contract is let by the State Highway Commission next Tuesday. The court formally began consideration proceedings for all rights of way in this county, and notices were immediately posted by County Engineer Cruikshank.

In accordance with terms of a contract entered into by the county with the O. W. R. & N. Co. in 1914, when rights of way for links of the Highway between here and Cascade Locks were being secured, the county court has adopted resolutions that begin proceedings for the abandonment of two grade crossings between this city and Sonny and all old rights of way north of the rail line. J. W. Morton will protect the release of rights of way north of the rail line, which he says will cut him off from shipping his produce by the Columbia river boat.

"If the old roads are closed to me," says Mr. Morton, "I will have to haul my produce four miles, up hill, to the boat landing, whereas I formerly had a haul of two miles, for less than a quarter of a mile."

The court made the following appointments: W. L. Nichols, county road master; F. H. Stanton, fruit inspector; Dr. Jesse Edgington, county physician; Gus Miller, road inspector.

It was stipulated that the remuneration of the roadmaster and fruit inspector should be $5 per day, each, when actually at work.

COUNTY OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED

One of the interesting incidents of swearing in new county officers Monday afternoon the installation of Mrs. Effie E. Shoemaker as county clerk. Following the call of the husband, Sgt. Kent Shoemaker, to the colors his wife became a deputy and assisted in the efficient conduct of the office. Monday it became necessary for Sgt. Shoemaker to formally surrender the incumbency of the office to his wife and become the deputy himself.

Other county officers sworn in Monday were L. N. Blowers, county judge; F. H. Blackmap, commissioner; Thomas E. Johnson, sheriff; Jasper Wickham, assessor; Mrs. Jessie M. Bishop, treasurer; C. C. Anderson, coroner; A. W. Ontbank, justice of the peace; E. S. Ohinger, constable, and A. R. Cruikshank, engineer.

The oath of office was administered to Mrs. Shoemaker by her husband.

MAYOR ELECT SCOBEE MAKES STATEMENT

Dr. E. L. Scobee, mayor elect, in a statement to the people of Hood River makes no extravagant promises, but declares that it will be the effort of himself and the six members of the city council to give the city a good, business-like administration. Dr. Scobee compliments the men selected to serve on the council with him in administering the city affairs. He says: "I take pleasure at this time to express my appreciation to the good people of Hood River for electing me to the highest office which they have to offer any citizen, and I can assure them that I will give the office my undivided attention. The affairs of the city will be in the hands of the common council, composed of six good citizens and myself as mayor. I will have no more to say about the city affairs than any one of the council. I want each member of the council to feel that it is his work as well as my own.

RECORD OF RED CROSS SURPRISE

HOOD RIVER GAVE $19,331 IN 1918

Secretary's Report Shows Gratiifying Liberality of People and Activity of Women Workers

The 1918 report of the Red Cross Chapter just issued by Chairman B. B. Scher and Secretary Raylin brings a most pleasant surprise to the local Hood River citizen. The report shows that a total of $19,331 was contributed by Hood River people for Red Cross work. The entire report follows:

The showing of the Hood River Chapter of the American Red Cross during the year of 1918 is one that Hood River may well be proud of. Even to those who have been closely identified with the progress of the local Chapter the results achieved, in the midst of so much other war activity, are really remarkable.

The total receipts for the year amounted to $13,761, of which the Chapter treasurer has $8174 on hand, with all bills paid to date; $5590 of this surplus is in a savings account, drawing four per cent interest.

In addition to the above the Chapter sent to the National Headquarters $4100 as Hood River's share in the war bond drive last May and $1150 from the recent membership drive, making a total of all monies contributed and raised by Hood River for Red Cross purposes during 1918 of $19,331.

The principal item of expense was the purchase of raw materials for the use of the workrooms of the Chapter in Hood River, Pine Grove, Ocell, Parkdale, Dec and Cascade Locks. This item amounted to $5872.57.

In the knitting department 354 sweaters and 1930 pairs of socks were produced, using 642 pounds of yarn at a cost of $1719.10. This item of yarn does not include about 500 pounds contributed by this Chapter by the Bremerton navy yard sock fund, which saved the Chapter over $1200.

The surgical dressings department manufactured 38,681 surgical dressings, using 9784 yards of surgical gauze and 1415 pounds of hospital cotton at a total cost of $1087.20. A large number of these were complicated dressings requiring considerable skill in the making. This department also made up 500 flu masks for local use.

In the garment department 2776 garments were made from 6392 yards of cutting flannel, costing $1201.57, 2903 yards of muslin, costing $597.52, and 509 yards of canton flannel, costing $351. These included suits of pajamas, Robinet robes, bath robes, helpless-case shirts, hospital shirts and drawers.

In addition the garment department turned out 389 refugee garments, made up of girls' dresses, boys' suits and women's house gowns at a cost of $52.

The one item of thread amounted to $103.44, and buttons, tape, pins, needles and soap amounted to $271.86.

The workrooms and the Junior Red Cross turned out 265 fracture splints, 21 feather pillows, 75 hotwater outfit covers, 600 waterproof cases, 70 sailor comfort bags, 500 soldiers' contact bags.

The Junior Red Cross contributed 60 complete infants' layettes, valued a $600.

The linen show for the Red Cross hospitals in France netted 328 need towels, 187 bath towels, 76 sheets, 90 pillow slips, 55 handkerchiefs and 210 napkins, valued at $143.25.

The local shipments amounted to 117 standard Red Cross cases including ten for the Junior Red Cross.

In the drive for Belgian relief clothing the local Red Cross gathered in 27 cases, or 5500 pounds of clothing and shoes in good condition.

The work of the canteen committee of the Hood River Chapter during the past year has been very gratifying to the Chapter officials. Frequent members of this committee have been constantly on the job, meeting every train passing through Hood River, both east and west bound, although the duty called for service many times into the middle of the night.

During the year apples, cigarettes, cherries, strawberries and postal cards were passed out to 77,500 soldiers. On a two hours' notice wired in from a troop-train commander, a complete dinner was served at the depot to a train of 400 soldiers by the young ladies of the canteen service. Over 1500 boxes of apples were passed out to the soldiers by this committee, also 5,000 cigarettes, nearly a ton of cherries and many crates of strawberries.

The civilian relief committee has also been doing very efficient work along the line of looking after the dependents of Hood River soldiers and sailors in the service, getting them promptly expedited through the war department; advancing money at times until the allotments were received; getting reports on soldiers overseas for anxious parents; establishing communication between local people and relatives in German prison camps and interned in German cities. The duties of this committee will continue until after the last man has been returned from service.

To the many workers who have assisted in producing the foregoing remarkable achievements; to the many individuals, clubs and organizations who have contributed so generously to Red Cross funds; the Hood River Chapter, on behalf of the American Red Cross, desires to express herewith its deep appreciation and gratitude.

There is a vast work yet to do for the Red Cross in the rehabilitation of the devastated regions of France and Belgium, and in the clothing of the destitute of those countries, as well as looking after American soldiers as long as the army of occupation remains overseas. Local workers are to be asked to do certain specified work in the line of refugee garments, and we make a strong appeal herewith that the response be as ready and willing as it has been in the past.

WATER RIGHTS CASE PROGRESSES SLOWLY

J. H. Hazlett, secretary of the East Fork Irrigation District, a party to litigation that was remanded by the supreme court back to the circuit court for a final adjudication of all water rights on the Hood river water shed, does not expect the case, which was referred back in 1916, to be taken up by the circuit court this year.

In referring the case the supreme court instructed that the State Water Board should have jurisdiction in gathering comprehensive data on all water claims and the amount of flow in the river. The Board is now engaged in securing the classifying conflicting claims.

The original case involved claims of the Oregon Lumber Co. adverse to the irrigation district. The Pacific Power & Light Co. is also making claims adverse to the irrigators.

"The power concern," says Mr. Hazlett, "is claiming 750 second feet of water from Hood river under riparian rights. It maintains that a development of its rights, if irrigation claims are granted, will necessitate large dams on the headwaters of the river to store water. Orchardists are claiming under the law of diversion, and appropriation. They feel that they will have sufficient water for their needs without construction of dams; and that their rights are prior to those of the power concern. The irrigation interests will not submit to any proposition of the power concern to bear any expense of bringing about a storage of water."

INFLUENZA CASES MUST BE REPORTED

County Health Officer Edgington reports the following influenza cases for the week ending Saturday, January 4:

Cascade Locks, 5; Hood River, 14; remainder of Hood River county, 58.

In view of the fact that a number of families have failed to report influenza, Dr. Edgington has issued the following statement:

"Some of the common diseases reportable by law are: Tuberculosis, typhoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox, whooping cough, measles, liberty measles, chicken pox, mumps and influenza. If no physician is in attendance, then a member of the family or one responsible for the charge of the patient must make a report.

"These cases by law are quarantinable, either strict or modified quarantine. The diseases listed above are declared by law to be dangerous to the public health. I respectfully call attention to Section 4728, L. O. L., prescribing penalty for nonobservance of same."

SPAULDING PLAYED ROLE OF "BLESSE"

With the arrival home of Cpl. Lee Spaulding a strange coincidence has been recalled. In April, 1917, at the first local Red Cross rally, Cpl. Spaulding played the role of wounded soldier. In the big show window of the Franz Hardware Co., in order to stimulate membership in the Red Cross, Cpl. Spaulding allowed two girls, Misses Betty Epping and Betty Slide, impersonating Red Cross nurses, to bandage a wounded knee. A photograph made of the scene was found by Secretary Raylin the day after Cpl. Spaulding returned home.

An identical picture might have been made at a base hospital in France, for Cpl. Spaulding sustained wounds in the knee bandaged in the acted scene.

SCHOOLS WILL HELP GET DATA

L. B. Gibson, just back from a convention of superintendents at Salem, says the students of all the county schools will be put to work in gathering data on Oregon soldiers. The work is being promoted by the Oregon Historical Society and the Oregon State Library, engaged in securing data for an Oregon history of the war and its activities as participated in by Oregonians.

The movement was carried into the schools," says Mr. Gibson, "because of the fact that no satisfactory data can be gathered on volunteer enlistments. All records of the draft will soon be sealed, thus shutting us off from another source of information. All children with soldier members in their family, whether the man has been in the American army or one of the Allies, will be given questionnaires which will be returned in February."

Mrs. H. F. Davidson is local war historian.

Sounds First Fire Alarm

The new electric siren sounded on children in their first night of the first time since its installation last month. The department was called to the residence property of Mrs. Leta McLean at Seventy and Pine streets. The fire was controlled before damage resulted.

RECORD OF RED CROSS SURPRISE

HOOD RIVER GAVE $19,331 IN 1918

Secretary's Report Shows Gratiifying Liberality of People and Activity of Women Workers

The 1918 report of the Red Cross Chapter just issued by Chairman B. B. Scher and Secretary Raylin brings a most pleasant surprise to the local Hood River citizen. The report shows that a total of $19,331 was contributed by Hood River people for Red Cross work. The entire report follows:

The showing of the Hood River Chapter of the American Red Cross during the year of 1918 is one that Hood River may well be proud of. Even to those who have been closely identified with the progress of the local Chapter the results achieved, in the midst of so much other war activity, are really remarkable.

The total receipts for the year amounted to $13,761, of which the Chapter treasurer has $8174 on hand, with all bills paid to date; $5590 of this surplus is in a savings account, drawing four per cent interest.

In addition to the above the Chapter sent to the National Headquarters $4100 as Hood River's share in the war bond drive last May and $1150 from the recent membership drive, making a total of all monies contributed and raised by Hood River for Red Cross purposes during 1918 of $19,331.

The principal item of expense was the purchase of raw materials for the use of the workrooms of the Chapter in Hood River, Pine Grove, Ocell, Parkdale, Dec and Cascade Locks. This item amounted to $5872.57.

In the knitting department 354 sweaters and 1930 pairs of socks were produced, using 642 pounds of yarn at a cost of $1719.10. This item of yarn does not include about 500 pounds contributed by this Chapter by the Bremerton navy yard sock fund, which saved the Chapter over $1200.

The surgical dressings department manufactured 38,681 surgical dressings, using 9784 yards of surgical gauze and 1415 pounds of hospital cotton at a total cost of $1087.20. A large number of these were complicated dressings requiring considerable skill in the making. This department also made up 500 flu masks for local use.

In the garment department 2776 garments were made from 6392 yards of cutting flannel, costing $1201.57, 2903 yards of muslin, costing $597.52, and 509 yards of canton flannel, costing $351. These included suits of pajamas, Robinet robes, bath robes, helpless-case shirts, hospital shirts and drawers.

In addition the garment department turned out 389 refugee garments, made up of girls' dresses, boys' suits and women's house gowns at a cost of $52.

The one item of thread amounted to $103.44, and buttons, tape, pins, needles and soap amounted to $271.86.

The workrooms and the Junior Red Cross turned out 265 fracture splints, 21 feather pillows, 75 hotwater outfit covers, 600 waterproof cases, 70 sailor comfort bags, 500 soldiers' contact bags.

The Junior Red Cross contributed 60 complete infants' layettes, valued a $600.

The linen show for the Red Cross hospitals in France netted 328 need towels, 187 bath towels, 76 sheets, 90 pillow slips, 55 handkerchiefs and 210 napkins, valued at $143.25.

The local shipments amounted to 117 standard Red Cross cases including ten for the Junior Red Cross.

In the drive for Belgian relief clothing the local Red Cross gathered in 27 cases, or 5500 pounds of clothing and shoes in good condition.

The work of the canteen committee of the Hood River Chapter during the past year has been very gratifying to the Chapter officials. Frequent members of this committee have been constantly on the job, meeting every train passing through Hood River, both east and west bound, although the duty called for service many times into the middle of the night.

During the year apples, cigarettes, cherries, strawberries and postal cards were passed out to 77,500 soldiers. On a two hours' notice wired in from a troop-train commander, a complete dinner was served at the depot to a train of 400 soldiers by the young ladies of the canteen service. Over 1500 boxes of apples were passed out to the soldiers by this committee, also 5,000 cigarettes, nearly a ton of cherries and many crates of strawberries.

The civilian relief committee has also been doing very efficient work along the line of looking after the dependents of Hood River soldiers and sailors in the service, getting them promptly expedited through the war department; advancing money at times until the allotments were received; getting reports on soldiers overseas for anxious parents; establishing communication between local people and relatives in German prison camps and interned in German cities. The duties of this committee will continue until after the last man has been returned from service.

To the many workers who have assisted in producing the foregoing remarkable achievements; to the many individuals, clubs and organizations who have contributed so generously to Red Cross funds; the Hood River Chapter, on behalf of the American Red Cross, desires to express herewith its deep appreciation and gratitude.

There is a vast work yet to do for the Red Cross in the rehabilitation of the devastated regions of France and Belgium, and in the clothing of the destitute of those countries, as well as looking after American soldiers as long as the army of occupation remains overseas. Local workers are to be asked to do certain specified work in the line of refugee garments, and we make a strong appeal herewith that the response be as ready and willing as it has been in the past.

WATER RIGHTS CASE PROGRESSES SLOWLY

J. H. Hazlett, secretary of the East Fork Irrigation District, a party to litigation that was remanded by the supreme court back to the circuit court for a final adjudication of all water rights on the Hood river water shed, does not expect the case, which was referred back in 1916, to be taken up by the circuit court this year.

In referring the case the supreme court instructed that the State Water Board should have jurisdiction in gathering comprehensive data on all water claims and the amount of flow in the river. The Board is now engaged in securing the classifying conflicting claims.

The original case involved claims of the Oregon Lumber Co. adverse to the irrigation district. The Pacific Power & Light Co. is also making claims adverse to the irrigators.

"The power concern," says Mr. Hazlett, "is claiming 750 second feet of water from Hood river under riparian rights. It maintains that a development of its rights, if irrigation claims are granted, will necessitate large dams on the headwaters of the river to store water. Orchardists are claiming under the law of diversion, and appropriation. They feel that they will have sufficient water for their needs without construction of dams; and that their rights are prior to those of the power concern. The irrigation interests will not submit to any proposition of the power concern to bear any expense of bringing about a storage of water."

INFLUENZA CASES MUST BE REPORTED

County Health Officer Edgington reports the following influenza cases for the week ending Saturday, January 4:

Cascade Locks, 5; Hood River, 14; remainder of Hood River county, 58.

In view of the fact that a number of families have failed to report influenza, Dr. Edgington has issued the following statement:

"Some of the common diseases reportable by law are: Tuberculosis, typhoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox, whooping cough, measles, liberty measles, chicken pox, mumps and influenza. If no physician is in attendance, then a member of the family or one responsible for the charge of the patient must make a report.

"These cases by law are quarantinable, either strict or modified quarantine. The diseases listed above are declared by law to be dangerous to the public health. I respectfully call attention to Section 4728, L. O. L., prescribing penalty for nonobservance of same."

SPAULDING PLAYED ROLE OF "BLESSE"

With the arrival home of Cpl. Lee Spaulding a strange coincidence has been recalled. In April, 1917, at the first local Red Cross rally, Cpl. Spaulding played the role of wounded soldier. In the big show window of the Franz Hardware Co., in order to stimulate membership in the Red Cross, Cpl. Spaulding allowed two girls, Misses Betty Epping and Betty Slide, impersonating Red Cross nurses, to bandage a wounded knee. A photograph made of the scene was found by Secretary Raylin the day after Cpl. Spaulding returned home.

An identical picture might have been made at a base hospital in France, for Cpl. Spaulding sustained wounds in the knee bandaged in the acted scene.

SCHOOLS WILL HELP GET DATA

L. B. Gibson, just back from a convention of superintendents at Salem, says the students of all the county schools will be put to work in gathering data on Oregon soldiers. The work is being promoted by the Oregon Historical Society and the Oregon State Library, engaged in securing data for an Oregon history of the war and its activities as participated in by Oregonians.

The movement was carried into the schools," says Mr. Gibson, "because of the fact that no satisfactory data can be gathered on volunteer enlistments. All records of the draft will soon be sealed, thus shutting us off from another source of information. All children with soldier members in their family, whether the man has been in the American army or one of the Allies, will be given questionnaires which will be returned in February."

Mrs. H. F. Davidson is local war historian.

Sounds First Fire Alarm

The new electric siren sounded on children in their first night of the first time since its installation last month. The department was called to the residence property of Mrs. Leta McLean at Seventy and Pine streets. The fire was controlled before damage resulted.