

Cider or Sauce?

Does the bulk of your Apple crop go into CIDER at a low price, or SAUCE at a high price?

You can't get rich raising Apples for Cider. But Cider Apples consist largely of once good Apples ruined by preventable insect injury. Cider Apples take just as much vitality of your tree—just as much time to grow and harvest, as good Apples.

Ineffective spraying such as is given by illy constructed or worn out machines costs you more for the spraying operation and yet will never give you the freedom from insect ravages that you can get by using a

AT THE LIBERTY

Today J. Stuart Blackton's photoplay, "The Judgment House," another of the famous Sir Gilbert Parker stories, The story deals with a social butterfly who finds herself sought by two admirers, both of whom have large interests in South Africa. Ian Stafford is a quiet, reserved man of great intellectual attainments, while Rodard Byng is a forceful, powerful type and in the end he wins the girl. After three years, neglected by her husband, she engages in a flirtation with his secretary. Byng's treacherous servant informs him of his wife's affairs with Fellows and Stafford. Byng finally realizes the fault is not all his wife's. At this point the Boer war breaks out and both Byng and Stafford go to South Africa. Jasmine goes also as a nurse, and after months of strain and struggle husband and wife at last find each other again. Regular prices, 10 and 20 cents.

Friday and Saturday Senseu Hayakawa, the wonderful Japanese actor, will be shown in "Hiden Pearls," his latest Paramount picture. Also an Official Allied War Review in which you see the victorious armies of the Allies delivering the final smashing blows at the Hun armies. Every week this Review will show you all the happenings in Europe. Sunday Alice Joyce, favorite of millions, will again make her appearance at the Hood River in "The Business of Life." They met by chance in the whirl of business life. The world pointed him out as unworthy. He had been loved by many women, but loved none until he found Alice. Then he loved the gay house parties at Silverwood, his imposing country estate, the hiding place in the old suit of armor, the jealousy of the object of one of his former affairs, the doubt as to the permanence of his affection. But her love was of the immortal kind that survives all worldly influences. Also a big two reel comedy, "Huns and Hyphens."

Monday and Tuesday Wm. S. Hart in "Wolves of the Rail," another of those wonderful stories of the great west that have made this star so popular. Also an Animated Weekly fest of the latest news events in pictures, and a one reel comedy, "Her Rustic Romeo."

Wednesday and Thursday Dorothy Dalton in "Tyrant Fear," another of those pictures that are so adapted to her wonderful ability. Also a Fox two reel Sunshine comedy, "Her Husband's Wife."

Deputy Health Officer Resigns Because, as he states, the Odell school board has refused to cooperate with him in observing rules of the State Board of Health in fighting the influenza epidemic, Dr. E. O. Dutro, appointed deputy health officer for the Odell district, has tendered his resignation to Dr. Jesse Edgington. Dr. Dutro characterizes the Odell schools as a clearinghouse for influenza contagion. Primarily as a result of the failure of the school board to furnish him aid, he says, Odell influenza cases in the past three weeks have reached a total of 60. In every family, he declares, are several school children ill with the disease.

BETTER BABIES MOVE FOSTERED BY WOMEN

The Women's Committee of Defense is fostering a movement for the examination of babies. As a result of such work in other states many infants have been found ill or defective. The local campaign of education is in charge of Mrs. L. W. Bishop.

To show the character of the work proposed, Bishop submits the following item from an Elgin, Ill., paper: From records, now virtually complete, from 25 to 33 per cent of Elgin children under 6 years are afflicted with some form of disease, in most cases curable and necessitating only advice and proper care.

Child health conferences which are held every Thursday afternoon at the free community dispensary are the solution of the problem, declares those who have been conducting the government test in order that Elgin may have a 100 per cent child health record. Competent physicians, who donate their services as their patriotic bill, are in attendance at these child health conferences and are assisted by the community nurse. Their advice has been largely sought by scores and more are looked for as the work is becoming better known. The free dispensary has the record of every deficient Elgin child and in consultation and conference welfare of the committee of the council of national defense is able to extend its help to those most in need of it. This work is in addition to the regular work of the dispensary in helping all in need of medical advice or attention.

The committee in charge of the weighing and measuring test urges parents to take children, declare those who are subnormal to their family physician or to the children's clinics for a thorough examination and if necessary for treatment.

Thousands of undernourished children were found in the national weighing and measuring test which includes more than 5,000,000 children. The problem which confronts the committee is what to do with these undernourished children so that they can grow up to be strong, healthy citizens.

"Mothers must do the saving," has been one of the Children's Year slogans. But they can not do it alone. They must have the help of a community organized to see that every mother has the care she needs before her child is born and at confinement, so that the baby may have a fair start in life. They need child consultation centers, prepared to give the mothers the most expert advice as to the care of the baby and as to methods of feeding. Feeding used to be considered as natural as breathing, but many of the ills of adult life now are traced to poorly chosen food in childhood.

The children's bureau of the U. S. department of labor believes that there is one sort of worker who above any other is qualified to save the lives of babies, and that is the community nurse. The bureau urges that every community which has no such worker make an effort to secure one as its part in the campaign to save children. And communities which have the protection of public health nurses now should, the bureau declares, take stock of themselves, and see whether it is reasonable to expect that every baby can receive the attention it needs with the staff of nurses they have made available.

All bond sales were confirmed, including a recent refunding issue of $187,000. The Hood River Irrigation District, of which J. H. Hazlett is now attorney, covers the Oak Grove and other West Side orchard districts.

No Great Act of Heroism Required

If some great act of heroism was necessary to protect a child from cough, no mother would hesitate to protect her offspring, but when it is only necessary to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and give it as soon as the first indication of cough appears, there are many who neglect it. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is within the reach of all and is prompt and effectual.
