 The management of the vinegar concern expects the inauguration of prohibition to increase the sales of fresh cider.

THE QUINCY MANSION, QUINCY, MASS., BUILT IN 1685.
 America's classic example of a shipboard building preserved for over two hundred years by careful and frequent painting. It has secret panels, chimney staircase and hidden passages, said to have been used by smugglers. Later the home of great statesmen and of the famous belle, Dorothy Quincy.

 SAVE THE SURFACE.
 Save the surface and you save all. Disinfectant and decay are combated, which usually start at the surface of any material. Protection against germs, mold or rot of walls, etc., therefore, should begin with care of the exterior. Provided a material does not carry within itself the element of decay, proper surface protection will undoubtedly lengthen its life.

 THE PAINTER'S BEST FRIEND
 Of all the many liquid substances which can be used for the painting of walls or dry substances which when dissolved in water are used as vehicles for pigments more fulfills necessary conditions so well as Glidden oil, the king of the fixed oil, and what is of enormous importance, does it as cheaply. It is the painter's best friend because it makes his work satisfactory.
