THE PSYCHOLOGY OF POLITICS

An incident of the friendly repartee of Mr. Koberg and Mr. Butler in their current advertisements may be applied with profit to a consideration of politics. The bit of poem of the bank advertisement relative to the response of the right words at the right time is a powerful truth. The leaders of politics who find the right men at the right time and then proceed to say the right things about them have made an ally of psychology.

This very thing has recently been done by leading Republicans, who have focused the eyes of American people on Gen. Leonard Wood by suggesting him for party nominee. They have made the suggestion, and it does not seem in the least unlikely that American electors are going to be slow in accepting the suggestion. For it is pointed out that Gen. Wood has been the victim of autocrats of the War Department because of the unpleasantness he made for them back in the days of doubt before April 6, 1917. Gen. Wood, glancing the conflict toward which America was inevitably drifting, called for preparedness. Instead of cooperation he received rebuffs. And yet, when America was actually in the war, the man who first spoke for preparedness was shoved into the discard. At least, it so seems.

Indeed, Gen. Wood does not seem to have received fair play. If there is one thing that the American public, once aroused from apathy, demands, it is fair play. Mayhans, that destiny we hear of as shaping the trend of men's careers, was but preparing for greater things to come for Gen. Wood.

PARKS

The influx of motor parties over the Highway indicates that we not only need a park for those who wish to remain overnight or longer, camped out, but that the valley, that is, the Lower Valley section, hasn't available enough open wooded places for those seeking spots to partake of picnic lunches.

We believe parks will be provided for the visitors, but they must resolve, and keep the resolution, not to litter them with trash.

Just what is the status now of the proposed auto camping park?

There is enough water in Hood river for all parties interested in the adjudication now taking shape in procedure before the State Water Board. Indeed, it is rather gratifying to see the spirit shown by the different interests, not a spirit of greed, but rather with the wish to facilitate the progress of the case, the final outcome of which will stabilize Hood river water rights.

The Hood River baseball team is showing pep. More fans are taking an interest in the outcome of games. Let's make Hood River come out of her shell and warm up to such sports. Just get behind the team and they'll do the rest.

In comparison with the service the organization has rendered to American soldiers for Oregon, the quota of $250,000, asked for a continuation of their work in days of reconstruction, is modest. Returned soldiers alone are likely to fill it.

Only a week until Memorial Day. Prepare now for devoting the day toward aiding the Grand Army and Relief Corps members in holding the day sacred.

All praise to Mrs. Henney and her corps of enthusiastic helpers for the excellency of recent entertainments attendant on the close of the city and county schools for the year.

AUTO PARK MOVE GETS STIMULUS

A movement toward securing a free automobile park, for the use of tourists journeying here over the Highway, was furnished Monday when the city council appointed a committee to confer with a similar one from the county. The city committee is composed of E. O. Blanchard, Truman Butler and J. W. Crites. The health committee of the council will make an investigation preparatory to the construction of public comfort stations.

The ordinance providing against parking on Third street between Oak and Cascade avenue received final passage, and Marshal Frazier placed warning signs the next day.

A remonstrance of citizens along Columbia street, who protest against the odor from cooking refuse, being turned into fertilizer at the Filz packing plant, was referred to the health committee.

Hotel and restaurant men asked for a modification in the rules regulating electric street signs.

The petition of the Hood River Fuel Co. for permission to erect a temporary building on the Hartley block was denied.

BUTLER HEADS THE BOY SCOUT DRIVE

Truman Butler, who on receipt of a telegram last week from W. G. McAdoo, accepted chairmanship of the Hood River county Boy Scout drive, to be held June 8-14, has appointed the following citizens to aid him in the work: E. D. Cruikshank, Rev. W. H. Boddy, E. O. Blanchard, E. E. House, Harry Conaway, C. O. Huelet, L. B. Gibson, D. L. Pierson, John C. Duckwall and Frank Davenport.

Hood River county already has four troops of Boy Scouts, and a successful campaign in the interest of the boys' organization is anticipated by all citizens.

BILLY SUNDAY WILL PREACH SUNDAY

Rev. William A. Sunday, whose whirlwind countrywide campaigns resulted in subscriptions in excess of $200,000 for the Victory loan, after a period of recreation on his Odell country home, will preach at the Riverside Congregational church here next Sunday.

A chamberlain was secured in Portland Monday, when Democrats voiced their support of Senator George Chamberlain, who during the past year has experienced some differences with the administration. At the Monday session Dr. J. W. Morrow was elected to the national chairmanship to succeed W. H. Honribrook, recently resigned. Judge Derby, who represented Hood River and Wasco counties at the meeting, was named to preside as chairman in the conspicuous absence of Chairman Starkweather.

The Democrats endorsed the Roosevelt Highway bill.

Misses Clara Haas, aged 17, and Verma Nickelsen, aged 16, members of the year's graduating class of the Hood River High school, have made the remarkable record of completing the four years' course in three years. In addition to the required 16 credits, each girl has a half credit to spare.

While the young women have made excellent grades in their studies they have not sacrificed participation in student body affairs and athletics, both having been prominent officials of their classes and members of basketball teams.

Sunday school 10 a. m. Subject at 11 o'clock, "The Gospel of Christ as a World Power." Special music, Epworth League, 7 p. m. At 8 p. m., "The Influence of Jesus." Hear this subject. It is practical and inspirational. J. D. Lewellen, Pastor.

A special meeting of Pythian Sisters is called for Thursday, May 23, at 2 p. m., at K. of P. Hall, to arrange for Memorial Day. All members requested to be present. For particulars call Mrs. Howell, phone 3012. By order of M. E. C.

While he had been making excellent catches for ten days previous, Ed Wright, the only local commercial salmon fisherman, reported that the run suddenly ceased Friday. That day Mr. Wright caught only 85 pounds of Chinook. He landed from his nets, however, an 80-pound sturgeon, which he sold to W. J. Filz.

J. S. BOOTH BURIED HERE SUNDAY

Funeral services of J. S. Booth, native of The Dalles and local pioneer resident, were held here Sunday, interment following at Islawille cemetery. Mr. Booth, whose body arrived here Saturday night, died Thursday at Carleton, where he has resided for the past three years. In addition to a widow, Mr. Booth leaves surviving two children and three sisters. The latter are Mrs. W. H. Culbertson, of Portland; Mrs. W. H. Sharp, of East St. Louis, Ill., and Mrs. J. T. Wilson, of San Francisco.

Boyhood friends from The Dalles of Mr. Booth, formerly of the rank of major and prominent in Oregon military circles 20 years ago and a veteran of the Spanish-American war, acted as pall bearers at the funeral conducted at the Congregational church, Rev. J. L. Hershner officiating. Maj. Booth was a pioneer merchant. He was 45 years of age. The funeral was directed by S. E. Bartmes.

The school board of the Barrett School District, No. 4, will receive sealed bids for 40 cords of fir wood and 4 cords of 16 inch fir wood to be delivered at the school house. All bids to be in by June 1st.
