

UMPUVA VALLEY FRUIT MAN HERE

The Umpqua Valley Fruit Union, of Roseburg, will ship 100,000 boxes of apples, compared with 20,000 last year, says R. H. C. Wood, manager of the sales organization, who arrived Tuesday night to make a study of community packing houses of Hood River.

Mr. Wood, formerly a local resident and first manager of the Hood River telephone system, says his concern is planning to erect a large packing house. A cannery will also be erected at Roseburg to handle the annually increasing fruit products.

"We are just beginning in a horticultural way in the Umpqua valley," says Mr. Wood. "We set a greater store by our prunes than any other fruit. Our prunes are world leaders."

Mr. Wood motored here. He declares that the roads of his own section are fine, and that all highways encountered, except near Woodburn, where construction is in progress, are excellent.

"And you may just tell all the rest of Oregon that Douglas county is going to give the Roosevelt Highway a 100 percent vote," said Mr. Wood. "We look on this highway as an actual necessity."

The Gifford Spray Gun Will pay for itself at a single spraying. It has points that count with the Orchardist. It is adapted to all kinds of spray. It requires less pressure. It is non-clogging. It never leaks. It saves labor.

Remember these are features that not only appeal to the Fruit Growers and have made the Gifford Gun a winner, but they are exclusive features on which United States and Foreign Patents are now pending. The Gifford Spray Gun is built, polished and built by and under the supervision of skilled mechanics and made of the best quality brass tubing and high pressure bronze, the best that money can buy.

Although reasonably priced, there is nothing cheap about the Gifford Spray Gun. See them A. J. GRAHAM in the Jackson Building.

POND PROP HOOKS BECOME POPULAR

Russell G. Pond, of the Upper Valley, has filled another order for 10,000 prop hooks to be sent to Yakima, Wn. A few weeks ago a similar order was shipped to a California fruit grower. Mr. Pond says, "These orders came from men entirely strangers to me, they evidently having seen the prop hooks utilized by a friend or having chanced across some of my advertising. Inquiry by telegraph was received today concerning prices and date of shipment on 50,000 Pond screw eyes. This inquiry also was unsolicited, the 'eyes' apparently having advertised themselves. All of this goes to show that people are expecting high prices for their fruit and are trying to reduce to a minimum loss from breakage, limb rub, wind fall, etc. Again, with the high price of labor, these labor saving devices are more popular than props."

R. N. Hannah Badly Hurt Richard N. Hannah, Upper Valley young man, who fell 16 feet into a pile of boulders at Underwood, Wash., remains unconscious at the Cottage hospital. Mr. Hannah, with local friends was attending a dance at Underwood Saturday night, when he stepped from a platform, falling on his head. A bad concussion or internal fracture was sustained.

ODELL

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Skibbe, son-in-law and daughter of C. H. Sprout, will very soon be at home on the C. H. Sprout property, formerly known as the Dan Smith place.

G. F. Purdy motored to Fossil Monday. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Eva Morgan, his niece, Miss Eva Teague and his son, Leiland and daughter, Elma. All expect to enjoy the week visiting relatives.

Noel and Aubrey Davis and Sherman Lafferty motored to the Deschutes Monday for a few days fishing.

Purdy & Haskins have sold their general merchandise business in Odell to Carl Johnson, who was formerly associated with his brother in the store at Van Horn. We regret losing Purdy & Haskins as merchants in our little village, but gladly welcome Mr. Johnson, of whom we have heard good reports.

The relatives of Thorlo Tompkins are rejoicing because of his return home, he having served for the past year in the Quartermaster Corps. He has been stationed in California during almost the entire time of service.

W. H. Ehrick is driving a new car which is a beauty—an Elgin Six, which he secured through H. D. Emery, demonstrator and agent.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Shirley, who purchased the Stewart property and came here not long since from Portland, are very happy since they received a message stating that their son, Harold, who has seen almost two years service overseas landed well and safe in Boston, May 19.

Thomas Cameron has sold to O. M. Mull his cottage and tract of land in Odell. Mr. Mull has been employed by R. H. Weber during his residence in Odell. The family will occupy their new property soon.

C. R. Masiker has sold to Mrs. E. O. Dutro the property which is at present occupied by J. W. Dakan and family. S. P. Waldorf will complete a house which he had partially built and Dr. and Mrs. Dutro and daughters will reside there.

J. C. Johnson and his wife motored from The Dalles Saturday for a short week end visit at the home of Mr. Johnson's cousin, Mrs. W. P. Kemp. They returned home Sunday.

Ed Ward was seriously injured Sunday when a horse either kicked him or stepped on his head fracturing the skull across the forehead just above the eyes. The injuries were taken to Dr. Dutro's home where a hasty examination convinced the physician that the hospital was the proper place.

Mr. Spencer, who is employed on the Middle Valley ranch owned by Ralph Root and Louis Rhoades, a neighbor who lives near the Frank Clemmons home where the accident occurred, took the boy all the way to Hood River. At this time it is impossible to say what the outcome may be.

Mrs. Rook, who has been for several months seriously ill at her home near the home of O. H. Rhoades, was taken to Portland Tuesday in an ambulance summoned from that city. The program which marked the close of the grammar school of Odell reflected credit on all who contributed towards its success. There were many attractive specialties and it would be difficult to choose any one feature and say that was best. To Mrs. Henney, musical director, we must give first honor and then follows by granting appreciation of the faithful practice on the part of pupils and the cooperation of teachers. We are glad to note that all the teachers in the grades were re-elected and with one exception, Mrs. Kitchel, the teachers have expressed themselves as expecting to return to Odell next year.

Next week we expect to note the commencement program for Odell Union high school beginning with the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening followed by the opera Tuesday evening and finally the program of Friday evening.

Miss Ruth Blowers returned to her home at Hood River Saturday, having finished teaching a successful year of school.

Miss Mary Olinger was up from Portland Friday to visit her friend, Miss Ruth Blowers.

Miss Irma Miller left Friday for a ten days' trip to the coast and other points of interest with relatives, via the Highway.

BELMONT

Mrs. and Mrs. Clarence Carnes spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marsh Isenberg and family. Mr. and Mrs. Carnes have moved from Wyoth to Dee, where they will make their home this summer.

Elmer Isenberg and family, Floyd Arnold and family, W. A. Leeburg and Mr. Williams spent Sunday with Mrs. M. P. Isenberg at the old home.

Set. Van Alfred Norder, we are glad to learn, has been discharged from the base hospital at Camp Lewis and will be in the convalescent ward four or five days, when he will get his discharge. His wounded limb, after seven months, has healed and he can walk as well as ever. He expects soon to see the home folks again.

Frank Davenport, Jr., has sold his 10 acres on Methodist Lane to a Mr. Mitchell, who will move onto the place as soon as it is vacated. We shall be sorry to lose Emery Davenport and family, who have been our good neighbors for many years.

Harriet school will reopen its doors next Wednesday and continue for the rest of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Pettit, who have leased the Ramsey orchards, have been called to give up the little daughter who passed away last Thursday. Funeral services were held last Sunday on the lawn of the Ramsey home. Our sympathy is extended to the sorrowing parents.

We were hoping the flu had folded its wings and left our community, but we hear now of several new cases.

H. C. Hasbrouck, of Alameda Way, who has been quite ill with the flu, was able to be in town Saturday.

Miss True spent Monday at the home of her friend, Miss Emma Wollam.

Mrs. Sarah Davis, who has spent the winter in Hood River, is back again on the ranch.

Mrs. M. P. Isenberg returned last week from a three months' visit at the homes of her daughters in Maupin and Wamee.

T. W. Berry, of Fairview Road, is sick. We hope soon to hear he is better. Sickness is also present in the home of A. Krick.

L. W. Bishop and family are enjoying their new Buick car.

Misses Pearl and Irene Chubb are staying for the present at the home of Mrs. M. P. Isenberg.

MOUNT HOOD.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Duggett returned home Saturday, having spent the week attending Grand Lodge at Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bell were over night visitors at Mount Hood Friday. They were accompanied by little Miss Mary.

Miss Ruth Blowers returned to her home at Hood River Saturday, having finished teaching a successful year of school.

Miss Mary Olinger was up from Portland Friday to visit her friend, Miss Ruth Blowers.

Miss Irma Miller left Friday for a ten days' trip to the coast and other points of interest with relatives, via the Highway.

Chas. Lott and family were Hood River visitors Saturday. They are entertaining their son and his family, from Fossil, this week.

Mrs. Belle Smidt, of Fossil, is here this week visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Kitchel.

School closed Friday with the annual picnic. Everybody reported a good time and beautiful out.

Clara Lenz left Hood River Sunday for Montana to claim Miss Cleo Shoup as his bride.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hanna enjoyed a visit from their daughter, Mabel, and husband, from Spokane, last week.

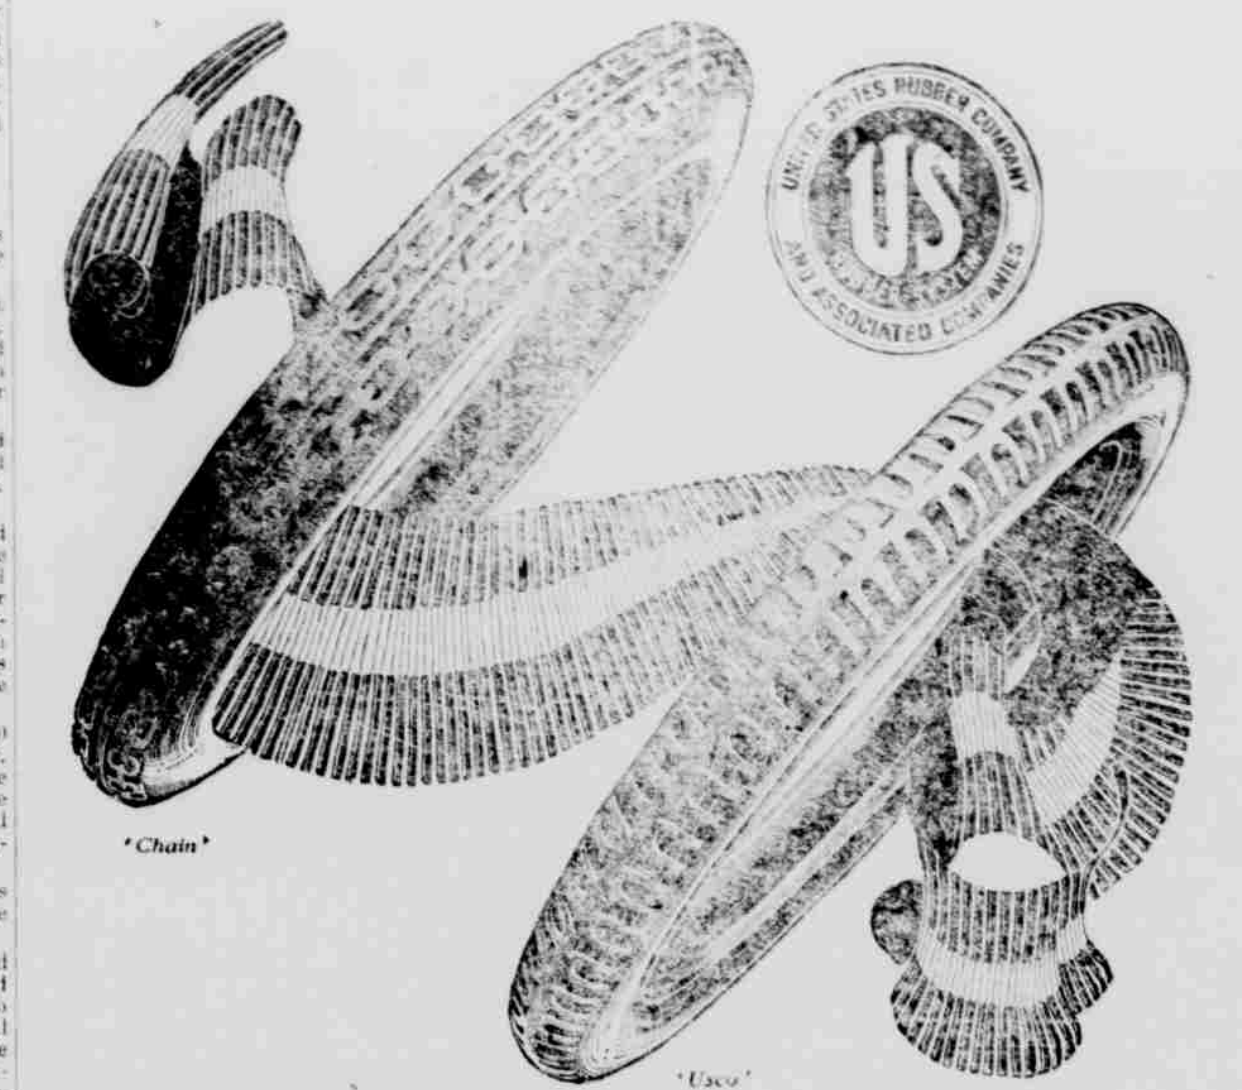

Richard Hanna was seriously injured at Underwood Saturday night when he fell through a trap door in a warehouse where a dance was being held.

The young ladies of the Comrades class entertained the young ladies' Sunday school class of Parkdale at the J. D. Smullen home at six o'clock dinner Saturday. Those present were Misses Bees Owens, Grace Allen, Grace Stahler, Eliza Conklin, Mabel Phillips, Florence Craven, Alma Kitchel, Hazel Miller, Gladys Aubert and Cloy Smith.

W. T. Wyatt took a party of 22 from here to Parkdale in his truck Sunday evening to hear the baccalaureate sermon.

Parents and friends of the graduates attended the class day exercises Monday evening on the high school lawn at Parkdale.

Graduation exercises will be held tonight, Thursday, at McEasac hall at Parkdale. Mount Hood has two representatives this year, Misses Gladys and Blanch Auert.

Rastus Elisha Jimpsonweed Brown janitored for a lawyer in a southern town. One Saturday afternoon he turned to be excused to play a match game of baseball. He was centerfielder. Rastus was allowed to go with the understanding that he return at four o'clock for some pressing errand. The specified time arrived but no Rastus. At five o'clock the lawyer motored out to the ball ground, arriving in time to see Rastus run in spirals beneath a falling fly. He muffed it, and with a sickly grin bowed to his employer. Before reprimanding his patron the lawyer inquired about the game. "What's the score?" he asked. "Oh, she's comin' fine, Boss," Rastus replied. "It's 62."

"Sixty-two to what?" inquired the lawyer. "Sixty-two to nothin'," said Rastus. "But our chances is good. You just wait. We ain't been to bat yet."
