BENEDICT SPRING TOURNAMENT IS ON

The annual spring tournament of the Benedict Tennis club will begin this week. It is planned for the first round to be completed by June 7 and the second by June 14. Preliminary contests are to be decided by two sets out of three; semi finals and finals, by three out of five. A handsome tennis racket will be given the winner of the tournament. Interest in tennis is keen here this season, and many new players are listed for the tournament. The following is the personnel of the 28 contestants: R. B. Bennett, J. M. Culbertson, E. O. Blanchard, G. A. Mollen, E. C. Smith, K. W. Sinclair, J. H. Hazlett, Dr. V. R. Abraham, Truman Butler, E. A. Franz, S. J. Moore, H. Cooper, Harold Hershner, Dr. H. L. Dumble, F. A. Cram, Floyd Arnold, Glenn Shoemaker, Dr. C. H. Jenkins, Kent Shoemaker, R. W. McCullagh, J. E. Law, J. R. Norton, A. W. Stone, A. H. Olinstead, I. R. Johnson, C. N. Ravlin, H. T. DeWitt and J.W. Crites.

ESCAPED WOUNDS VICTIM OF OAK

Boyd Owens, Fossil sheepman, just back from France, where he braved hun shells and cooties, fell victim to poison oak, while starting a band of sheep on national forests just west of here, and so serious was his affliction that he narrowly escaped death. Mr. Owens was alone when stricken from head to foot. The rash was so virulent that his entire body was frightfully swollen and he was thrown into a high fever. Unattended his sheep wandered out to ranches, raising an alarm. A scouting party found Mr. Owens in a serious condition. Sufficiently recovered to travel, he passed through here yesterday en route home.

THE DALLES HERE NEXT SUNDAY

Because of a rivalry of years, a large crowd is expected at the baseball game Sunday at Columbia Park between the local team and that of The Dalles. At a recent game at The Dalles, Hood River won, shutting out the Wasco team by a score of 2 to 0.

Mrs. Easterly's Father Passes

Following funeral services at the Anderson chapel Monday afternoon, Rev. J. L. Hershner, officiating, the body of Samuel Hayden was buried at Idlewild cemetery. ### SHRINERS APPRECIATE STRAWBERRIES

En route east to their annual convocate members of the Mystic Shrine at Clark Seeding Hood River strawberries, the Apple Growers Association having had a number of especially packed crates sent to Seattle to be placed aboard the special that left Tuesday.

Tethered Cows on Roadside Worry

One of the great inconveniences to Hood River county motoring, it is said, arises from tethered cows. Orchardists, according to complaints made to the county court, stake their cows with ropes or chains of excessive length, and Bossie, fringing the roadside herbage on the side of the highway on which she is staked, proceeds to cross to opposite inviting tufts. Especially at twilight, when the ropes may not be seen by car drivers, have accidents been narrowly averted. County authorities request that cow owners use shorter ropes.

Mrs. Noble Passes

Mrs. Mary Noble, aged 63 years, a pioneer of the county, died suddenly at her home here Tuesday from influenza. Mrs. Noble, widow of the late Frank Noble, is survived by a single son, Leon Noble, of Seattle.

WEDDINGS

Blowers-Davis

Paul M. Blowers, who recently returned from France, and Miss May Davis, who recently arrived from Great Falls, Mont., were married Tuesday night at the home of Mr. Blowers' parents, Judge and Mrs. L. N. Blowers. Rev. J. L. Hershner officiated. The ceremony was a quiet one, and only members of the family were present. Mr. Blowers resided for a year before entering service at Great Falls. He and his bride will make their home here.

CHILDREN OBSERVE FIRST COMMUNION

At an impressive service held Sunday by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Maximilian Klein, a class of 22 children, 11 little boys and 11 girls, received their first communion at St. Mary's Catholic church. The little girls were escorted to the altar by Misses Olive Fisher and Mildred Van Horn. George and Joe Haslinger were escorts for the boys. The church was crowded with parents and friends of the children. The children of the class, one of the largest St. Mary's has ever had, were: Vivian and Thelma Leuz, Ruth and Aleta Beutegard, Hazel and Margaret Sandman, Ica and Edna Wendell, Irma Filz and Rosemary and Vernice Maher and Paul and Francis Sandman, John and Antone Mohr, Eugene and Wesley Wendell, Joseph Peasley, Don and Alois Maudock, Carol Maher and Edward Naumes.

Miss Blanche Aubert was class valedictorian. The commencement address was delivered by Rev. W. H. Boddy. Diplomas were presented by Supt. Gibson.

Columbia Threatens Gardens

The Columbia is rising here at the rate of ten inches daily, and seepage water is beginning to worry Harry Munemoto, Japanese truck gardener, who farms lowlands just east of the city. Munemoto has installed a large motor driven pump with which he expects to keep down the water creeping through his dikes.

Newham to Give Baccalaureate

The Glenwood, Wash., high school, it is stated, will have one of the largest classes in its history. Rev. E. C. Newham will deliver the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning, journeying to the neighboring Washington district by automobile. While Sunday school will be held Sunday morning at the usual hour, the sermon at Pine Grove will be postponed until Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

Bun Lewis Home From Rhine

Engene Lewis, familiarly known to Hood River people as Bun, and son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lewis, arrived home Tuesday night after 18 months' overseas service. Mr. Lewis, who was called to the colors with a North Dakota national guard regiment, went to France with the 164th Regiment, which became a part of the Rainbow Division. Mr. Lewis is the first local man to return from the armies of occupation in Germany. He was stationed along the Rhine near Coblenz.

Japanese Refuse Cash Buyers

Japanese, who control a high percentage of the strawberries of the valley, are expecting record prices this season. The Japanese are declining advances made by cash buyers, who have made efforts to contract the season's output at high prices. I. Ogura, who has 29 acres in strawberries, has refused $3.50 per crate for his crop. The returns of the Apple Growers Association for 1918 averaged $3.33 per crate.

Sinclair Defeats Hazlett

The annual tournament of the Benedict Tennis club, which opened Tuesday night with a game between J. H. Hazlett and K. W. Sinclair, bids fair to draw greater interest than any ever held by the local club. Mr. Sinclair defeated Mr. Hazlett by a very close score.

of new tires of those we have culcated into renewed serviceability. So far as the inner tubes are concerned there will be no difference except that new tubes will cost many times what we charge for making old tires new. Don't be in a hurry to throw damaged tires to the scrap heap. Bring them here. We can probably save them for many miles of service for you yet.
