HOOD RIVER

OREGON

A NATION-WIDE INSTITUTION

ODELL

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Howard motored from their home in Portland and arrived here Tuesday of last week. They are visiting at the home of their son, Fred J. Howard. Mr. Howard, Sr., will look after property interests while here.

Dr., where she will spend a week visiting friends.

Mrs. Geo. W. Meyer and daughter, Miss Doris, of Denver, spent several days of the past week visiting Mrs. Meyer's sister, Mrs. Wm. Lester.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Copple have purchased a fine new piano for their daughter, little Miss Helen.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hoskin have placed a new player piano in their living rooms at the rear of the pool room.

After having stopped for a longer summer vacation than usual, Rev. and Mrs. Wm. A. Sunday and sons, Wm. Jr., and Paul, left Hood River last Thursday, eastbound.

Mrs. G. E. Bowerman, Miss Letta Bowerman and Irwin Bowerman, Mrs. Irma Bowerman and Miss Eleanor Coe, will leave Odell Wednesday, August 14, for a motor trip. They will first go east as far as Ontario, Ore., where Miss Coe and Miss Irma will go by railroad to Rupert, Idaho, for the school year.

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

NEVER was such right-handed-two-fisted smokejoy as you puff out of a jimmy pipe packed with Prince Albert! That's because P. A. has the quality!

You can't fool your taste apparatus any more than you can get five aces out of a family deck! So, when you hit Prince Albert, coming and going, and get up half an hour earlier just to start stoking your pipe or rolling cigarettes, you know you've got the big prize on the end of your line!

Prince Albert's quality alone puts it in a class of its own, but when you figure that P. A. is made by our exclusive patented process that cuts out bite and parch—well—you feel like getting a flock of dictionaries to find enough words to express your happy days sentiments!

Topsy red bags, tidy red tins, handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors—and—that classic, practical pound crystal glass humidor with sponge moisture top that keeps the tobacco in such perfect condition.

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

FRANKTON.

The heavy winds which have prevailed several days have caused the apples and pears to drop badly. There is a fine clean crop of apples in this district this year.

Mr. Phelps, who with his wife has been camped by Post Canyon cutting wood for Mr. Phillips, has been quite sick with ptomaine poisoning. He is improving and is able to be about once more. His daughter, Mrs. Croff, of Vancouver, Wash., is here visiting him. Mrs. Croff expects to take her father with her to Vancouver to rest up.

Roy Rash made a trip to Prosser last week. He expected to go up there to live, but was not able to get a house in which to move his family, so returned to Hood River.

Wardna Isbell, after a two weeks' visit with her grandparents at Hermiston, is at home again.

The Clover Leaf Club met at Mrs. Price's last Thursday.

Sixteen of the Frankton school children met at the schoolhouse last Friday with Mrs. Melvin Foley, she being their industrial club advisor. After their meeting they enjoyed a picnic lunch on the school house lawn. The club will meet again August 22.

Steve Eby is seen driving about now in a new Chevrolet. On Sunday he and his family were out on the highway enjoying a ride.

Mr. and Mrs. Foley and son, Melvin, and Mrs. Foley's mother, Mrs. Vaughan, drove to Trout Lake Sunday. They visited the ice cave and other points of interest and came back the same day.

Marion Phillips and Malcolm Hebard are very desirous of killing a bear. Having seen signs of bear on their trip to Green Point a week ago they spent the past Sunday there hunting, but came back empty-handed.

PARKDALE

Everett Brown has a new Buick. Geo. Blodgett came back from the war a few days ago.

John McConn is superintending the construction of a large apple house for Henry Steinhauser. Mr. McConn has just completed an apple house for Chas. Howe and will build a tenant house for Mr. Howe, on the ten acre tract purchased from Mr. Dodd.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McConn are the proud parents of a baby boy born Aug. 3, at the Cottage hospital in Hood River.

Chas. Bowe purchased a team from J. F. Thompson.

Lody Kyle, another soldier boy, is home again.

A. C. Sallenbach is building a large apple house. Mr. London is also building an apple house. L. C. Baldwin has the contract for both buildings.

The funeral of little Dorothy Redford was held at the house last Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

W. L. Rowland, of Mosier, has moved to the Upper Valley and will work for Chas. Howe. J. B. Duggett is cutting grass around Parkdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mann were Hood River visitors one day last week.

Miss Florence Eddy was visiting friends in this vicinity last week.

Col. and Mrs. W. F. Tucker are spending a few days at the Mt. Hood hotel. They will go from there to Portland for a little vacation.

BELMONT

Mr. and Mrs. Cy. Hoskins have sold their ranch to Mr. Thorpe, of the Oak Grove district. Mr. and Mrs. Hoskins intend to locate at Gresham.

Mrs. L. L. Barber and daughter, Mrs. Perry, were in Hood River Saturday.

Miss Ruth Nicholson has entertained two afternoons a number of friends as well as Miss Louise Nelson, who is her house guest. Miss Nelson formerly resided in Belmont. Her home at present is in Silverton, Ore.

Mrs. F. G. Church was a caller Sunday at the Somerville home. Mrs. Somerville was on the sick list Sunday.

Mrs. Osgood and daughter, Miss May, are spending the summer in Belmont, their ranch being rented. They are living on part of the E. J. Nicholson ranch.

H. T. Regnell is busy pruning on the Colton ranch. Tom Lee is manager of the place.

Geo. Gallaway took Will Somerville and wife auto riding Wednesday evening.

Mrs. S. T. Aitken and Mrs. Crites, of Hood River, entertained a large company of friends last Wednesday evening on the lawn of the Aitken home in honor of Mrs. Crites' sisters, Misses Virginia and Helen Griffiths, who are spending the summer here with their sister's family. Miss Helen gave the very pretty fancy dances on the lawn, which was decorated with electric lights and Japanese lanterns. The decorations were done by G. I. Sargent. Delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Root, assisting at the punch bowl. Mrs. Kanaga served the ice cream with the assistance of Misses Florence Gould, Miriam Flagger and others. Every one present enjoyed the evening leaving at a late hour for their homes.

A lack of news has been due to the fact that the weather has been busy spraying and getting ready for the pear picking which begins this week.

MOUNT HOOD.

George Wenner is ill with bronchitis. Mr. Perry and family and Mr. Pasch and family, of the Pine Grove district, spent Sunday at the C. W. Kitchel home.

F. H. Miller and family were up from Hood River Sunday to spend the day with his brother, E. C. Miller, and family.

Mrs. J. D. Smullin is entertaining a friend from Pennsylvania this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lenz were Sunday visitors at J. B. Dimmick's.

YOUTHS SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY

Under an amendment adopted by the last legislature, circuit judges in sentencing defendants found guilty of felonies must assess a maximum term in the penitentiary. When the prisoner has served a fourth of the term, however, he may apply for a parole.

When J. C. Jameser, a youth who confessed the robbery of his aged bunkmate, a Swede carpenter at the Dece mill of the Oregon Lumber Co., has served a year of the four year sentence passed on him Tuesday by Circuit Judge Wilson, of The Dalles, he may not apply for a parole unless he has been cured of a disease that now threatens life affliction. Judge Wilson in a kindly lecture when the boy stood to hear sentence pronounced, called attention to the disease, and declared that the youth would serve himself better, if not cured at the end of a year, if he remained for further treatment.

"You are right, sir," replied Jameser.

Andrew Rose, a young man, accused of a similar charge at the Bridal Veil Lumber Company mill at Cascade Locks, received a similar sentence. Both were escorted to Salem Tuesday by Sheriff Johnson.

No other indictments were returned by the grand jury, and the men were dismissed until the next term of circuit court. The jury was composed of the following: H. M. Vanner, F. W. Radford, F. L. Mack, C. C. Walton, C. W. Road, Lee F. Smith, and Chas. Sonnicksen.

Mountain Flowers Appeal

"The flower-covered meadows on the west base of Mount Hood from a veritable paradise," declares A. J. Brunquist, of Parkdale, who has just returned with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Rockhold, of San Francisco, who own an Upper Valley ranch, from an outing near the foot of Barrett Spur.

"I never thought the meadows of the east base of the snow peak could be improved upon," says Mr. Brunquist, "but they are far less gorgeous than the acres and acres of varicolored bloom met with near the snowfields around the foot of Barrett's Spur. In a walk of less than a half mile we counted 79 species of handsome blooming plants. The heather seemed at its best when we were there, and anemones were pushing their white heads through the lingering snowbanks. Mrs. Rockhold for years has made a study of mountain flora, and she was captivated by the specimens on the west base of Hood. They are wonderful."

Boxes Made up by Machine

Hood River orchardists are for the first time having their boxes made by machinery this year. Joe Peterson, who worked last year on the orchard place of Geo. T. Galligan, has brought a power driven molder here, and declares that he already has contracts for more work than he can do. He expects to employ two machinists next year.

"When I first sought work," says Mr. Peterson, "growers would not let me make their boxes for nothing. A few demonstrations brought me more than I could handle. Warehousemen commend the machine made boxes, declaring that the power-driven molder never protrude from sides of box ends, a frequently found fault with hand-driven molder. These protruding nails often wounded warehouse men severely in the hands, as boxes were passed from wagon to trucks. Mr. Peterson is contracting boxmaking at one cent each."

Forestry Crews Sleep on Springs

The Forestry Service, now employing many crews of men in national forests around the base of Mount Hood, according to vacationists who have returned from mountain outings, never has labor troubles. Men working on trails and in other forestry work are provided with more comforts than most vacation parties. Rangers pack in fresh provisions at frequent intervals. The men have plenty of leisure for fishing and mountain trout cease to be a luxury. When night comes the workers sleep on real springs. The forestry service has bought dozens of pairs of mattresses and springs at local stores this year for use of its mountain crews.

First Carload of Melons Arrive

The first carload of watermelons ever distributed in Hood River was received last week by the Hood River Produce Exchange. The melons, grown in California, are of excellent quality and find a ready demand on the local market. The car carried 15 tons, and a delivery truck of the produce company spent the day distributing the melons to local grocers. Melons are now retailing here at 24 cents per pound.

Within two weeks watermelons from The Dalles are expected here. Shipments from the neighboring district arrive by boat.

O. W. Employees to Climb Mt. Hood.

The Mt. Hood R. R. Co. has received notice from O. W. E. & N. employees of Portland that a party of 50 of them will arrive here on Saturday evening, August 30, en route for an outing on Mount Hood's snowfields. The local road will furnish special equipment to transport the recreationists, who will return here on the evening of Labor Day, arriving in Portland early Tuesday morning.
