SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. McCormick of the manual training department, was notified Tuesday of the critical illness of his mother, who lives in Douglas county.

Miss Freyer, who will have charge of the home economics work this year, is working with the girls who enrolled for the canning work at the close of school. The two methods of canning will be demonstrated throughout the work, viz: The "boiler method," that commonly used at home, and the steam pressure method, which does the same work in less than one-third the time and does it better. The canning will be done for home use as well as for exhibition. The girls taking this work will furnish their own cans, fruit, etc., but the work will be under the direct supervision of Miss Freyer. Meetings will be held twice each week and as much time taken each day as will be required to do the work.

The library room is undergoing modifications for more effective use for students. It will be under the direct control at all times by a regular teacher, assisted by students who have some knowledge of library work.

Instead of a full recess of two weeks, the custom for the past two years, the Hood River high school will observe half day sessions this year during apple harvest. The day's work will begin earlier and close at noon, permitting the students to assist in saving the big apple crop.
