SOUTH AMERICAN SALES NEGLIGIBLE

The report from New York city that apples have been selling in South America less than they are in the domestic wholesale prices, local shippers declare should not be considered with alarm by apple growers. South American markets, as well as those of the Orient, are declared peculiar. The high freight rate, approximately $1 per box, has resulted in negligible shipments to South America for the past few years.

No apples, shippers say, have been shipped directly to South America the past season. In a number of instances mercantile establishments dealing with the Latin-American countries, placing their orders by previous canvass, have purchased small quantities of apples for delivery to the South American countries.

According to a New York report an exporter, en route to South America to establish storage plants, stated that apples were selling very cheaply in the south. Shippers say that some operators, unable to dispose of purchases on the domestic market, may have attempted to unload his fruit in Latin America. With no storage plants available there, shippers say, such action would naturally lead to necessity for immediate sales, glut of market and a sacrifice in prices.

Apple shippers, it is said, do not ship directly to South America because of the long time credit system of those countries.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

(By Laura M. Folts)

The report cards came out last Friday. Many are feeling very happy, some others quite the opposite.

Mrs. Henney was sick Monday and Mrs. Cooper took her place in leading the singing at assembly.

Mr. Gibson introduced Marshal Frazier, who spoke to the students on "Traffic." He advised the students to be more careful and to avoid accidents. Everybody enjoyed the talk, because it was a subject that concerns and is vitally important to everyone.

The social committee will give a party for the winner of the outdoor tournament.

Mr. Bailey reminded juniors and frosh of the student body party they are to give the seniors and sophomores.

Mr. Beck made a few announcements. He wants the boys to turn out better and for each one to make the best record they can because it counts for the team.

The outdoor tournament is coming on just fine and it causes no end of amusement and excitement.

Formula for Squirrel Poison Given

Mt. Hood, Feb. 17, 1920.
Editor Glacier: Attached hereto please find Mr. Jamison's formula for poisoning digger squirrels. This is the best time of the year to poison these pests and if you can allot the space for its publication no doubt your readers will find the item of timely interest.
Very truly yours,
W. A. Langille.

The formula follows:
First: Mix dry 1 oz. strychnine (alkaloid), 110 oz. saccharine, 1 oz. baking soda, 4 oz. table salt;
Second: Make one quart starch paste, of consistency of ordinary laundry starch, and mix in heavy corn syrup and 1 oz. glycerine;
Third: Mix No. 1 and No. 2;
Fourth: Add mixture to 16 quarts rolled barley. Scatter in vicinity of the digger squirrel holes.

Slides Delay Road Work

John Elder, who walked here from Mosier last week by way of the new link of the Highway now nearing completion, reports that the rainstorms of last week caused heavy slides near the Hood River-Wasco county line. Some of the enormous slides, of rock and debris, Mr. Elder reports, were as large as city business blocks.

R. A. Josing says the slides will delay the opening of the new highway to traffic until about April 10.
