DIES SUDDENLY AT LONG BEACH, CALIF.

News of the sudden death, at Long Beach, Calif., of Mrs. Thomas Tracy, formerly Miss Midge Otis, a niece of Mrs. A. D. Moe and Mrs. Laura Clapp, was received here last week. Mrs. Tracy, who left here over three years ago with her mother, Mrs. Ella Ahern, and sister, Miss Helene Otis, both of whom survive, for Long Beach, succumbed to an operation. Her wedding occurred on Easter Sunday.

The circumstances surrounding Mrs. Tracy's death are particularly sad. Just beginning the great adventure of life, the fatal operation became a necessity. Mrs. Tracy had many friends here, who were shocked at news of her death. For several years she was engaged at the Laraway jewelry store here. She was a popular member of the Business Girls' Club, an allied organization of the Woman's Club. Funeral services were held at Long Beach last Thursday.

Mrs. Tracy is also survived by her grandfather, Capt. C. S. Otis, of Spokane, and an uncle, E. G. Walther, of Riverside, Cal., both former residents of Hood River.

Dethman's Truck Runs Away

Alfred Dethman's motor truck played the principal part in a near serious accident the other day, when the brakes worked loose and the machine dashed down grade into the home of Dr. Guttery. Mr. Dethman had run his truck up a steep driveway on Oak street at the home of his father, C. Dethman. The car backed down the incline and ran across the street into the Guttery home. But for Mr. Dethman's quick action in running alongside the car and applying the brakes, the truck would have plunged into the Guttery living room.

Mrs. Berglund Passes

Funeral services for Mrs. C. A. Berglund, aged 74, who died Tuesday at the West Side home of her daughter, Mrs. H. F. Morse, will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Anderson chapel at 2 o'clock. Big Fruit Deal Reported

The second largest orchard sale in the history of north central Washington, was completed recently when the American Fruit Growers, Inc., took over the 160 acres owned by Wells & Wade Orchard Co., at Malott, paying $156,000. There are about 110 acres of orchard just coming into bearing, and 20 acres in alfalfa included in the tract purchased. The orchard was set out to winter apples in 1912 and produced 24000 boxes last year.

Good Prices Expected

Prof. C. I. Lewis, formerly chief of the horticultural division of the college, who has been visiting the college, reports that the new Oregon Growers' Cooperative Association has about 25,000 acres of bearing fruit land signed up under a five year contract ready for the marketing campaign of 1920.

Prices for fruits of all kinds will undoubtedly be very good this year, as canneries and buyers believe that the Bartlett pears will bring from $100 to $110 a ton.

Auxiliary to Be Formed

Mothers, wives, daughters and sisters of veterans of the great war will meet at Library hall Saturday afternoon for permanent organization of a Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion. Officers will be nominated at the Saturday meeting.

Old School Draws No Bids

Anticipations of the city school board that the old Park street school, which will be replaced by a new modern building soon, might be bought and removed to another lot for an apartment structure, have come to naught. The school board called for bids on the old two-story building, but to date no reply has been received. It is estimated that the old building and the structure are worth several thousand dollars at the present high cost of such material.

April Rainfall Heavy

While light showers fell over lower levels, the high places of the mid-Columbia were left white with snow Tuesday night. April of this season, according to Leroy Childs, is wetter than usual. To date the total April precipitation has reached 2.30 inches. The average rainfall for the entire month is only 1.84 inches.
