STUDENTS WORK FOR MILLAGE BILL

Students of the University of Oregon are hard at work for the Higher Education Millage bill. Letters have been written by students to all parts of the state, urging support. The following letter was received last week by the Glacier from Wilbur Hoyt, a student at Eugene:

I wish to call your attention to the fact that it is your duty to register and to give all your support to the millage bill. The state schools of higher education are in a perilous condition, due to the lack of funds, which condition, unless remedied, of a necessity will result upon the present high school pupils of the state and give opportunity to fewer of them to partake of the advantages of higher education.

Under the present conditions it will be necessary to reduce the number of the faculty at the various state schools, in order that the institutions may be able to run under their present income. In doing this, the chances for the individual will be greatly reduced, as the colleges will need to cut down on the number of students. This will automatically drive Oregonians to colleges of other states and will react upon the well known and recognized maxim, current throughout the states, that the state of Oregon is one of the most progressive in the Union.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING SUCCESS

With 85 delegates present from all rural sections, the 10th annual Hood River County Sunday school convention here Wednesday of last week was declared the most successful ever held. Addresses were delivered by Rev. W. O. Bentin, pastor of the Upper Valley Union church; Rev. Harold Lambert, of Portland, state Sunday School secretary, and Miss Georgia Parker, of Portland, assistant secretary. Officers elected for the ensuing year follow: G. A. Weber, pres.; Mrs. R. J. McIsaac, 1st vice-pres.; Ray C. Samuel, 2d vice-pres.; Mrs. S. G. Campbell, sec.-treas. Mrs. J. E. Ferguson, who was a Sunday school worker in Clatsop county before coming here, was elected for the 20th successive time a member of the state executive Sunday School board.

A feature of the meeting was a song program by Rev. D. M. Carpenter and wife, whose renditions so touched the state secretary that he persuaded them to participate in the state Sunday school convention in Portland, May 6-9. Twenty Hood River delegates will attend the Portland convention from Hood River county.

An ovation was given at the meeting for Mrs. Ferguson, retiring president. For the past year she had worked indefatigably for the organization and her fellow workers expressed sincere thanks. Resolutions of thanks for the use of Riverside church, where the convention was held, and for the banquet luncheon served by the women of the church, were adopted. Resolutions also thanked all officials for their efforts.

Anent Sunday Spraying

Hood River, April 19.
Editor Glacier: In today's Oregonian under a Hood River heading I read as follows: "Warm sunshine and a calm made today ideal for spraying and scores of orchardists... for-sunk church services and sprayed apple trees." A similar article appeared in last week's Glacier referring to the previous Sunday. It is true that the two Sundays mentioned were very fine days; in fact, so far as the weather consideration about the only days during the past three weeks suitable for applying spray material. But to my mind it is doubtful whether there was such an abandonment of church services for this purpose as a casual reading of these articles would appear to convey. Some observations have been made in one of our heaviest producing sections in which it is necessary to apply the oil spray to every orchard. Several persons in this community sprayed on the last two Sundays. Doubtless there were among the number some who in a general way approve of the principles and ideals of the church and also support it financially. However, they ought not to be accused of forsaking church services to spray, since perhaps the great majority of them are not regular church attendants. Neither does it seem fair to appear to include by so sweeping a statement the great number of church going people who never spray on Sunday, no matter how fine the day nor how inclement the preceding ones have been. At the Pine Grove church, where I am privileged to worship, on neither of the two Sundays mentioned was a single man from among the regular attendants absent from the services for the purpose of spraying. And is it not reasonable to suppose that what is true of the membership of this congregation applies also to the regular church going people throughout the valley? Yours very truly,
W. C. Keck.

Little Bear is Demonstrated

Upper Valley and Des Flat orchardists were present in numbers last week for a demonstration of the Little Bear tractor, the mid-Columbia agency of which has been established with the Transfer & Livery Co. The machine was put through paces, plowing, disking and drawing other orchard farm machinery. Hood River, dealers state, will be made a distributing center for the new tractor, which is manufactured in Los Angeles. The machine has been designed especially for orchard work, and demonstrations are planned in all mid-Columbia Oregon and Washington fruit sections.

Park Street Building to Be Salvaged

No bids having been received from contractors or house wreckers, the city school board plans salvaging timbers from the old Park street school structure for improvements at the junior high school building.

"We consider the timbers worth at least $2,000," says C. N. Clarke, "and no bid for less than this amount would be considered." The school board will call for bids on the new school as soon as architects have completed plans and specifications.

For a Severe Cold

"Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured my daughter, Anna, of a severe cold and cough a few years ago and ever since then I have never missed an opportunity to recommend this medicine to anyone suffering from throat or lung troubles. I cannot speak too highly in praise of it," writes Mrs. D. J. Sfeley, Earlville, N. Y. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no narcotic and may be given to children with perfect confidence. It is a pleasant syrup so they do not object to taking it.

How much should I give to make this a better world?

A CERTAIN man in New York filled out his income tax report.

It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

Our average daily gift for all church causes is

- less than we spend for daily papers
- less than a local telephone call
- less than a third of the day's car fare
- less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty denominations. They have surveyed their whole task, no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men or women who love America—to you—this week asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be.

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better will the world be because you passed through?
