HIGH PRICES WARNED AGAINST CONSUMPTION MAY BE CURTAILED

Davidson in Advising Growers to Set Reasonable Prices, Points to Last Season's Apple Deal

H. F. Davidson warns growers against setting exorbitant prices on their product. The canning industry, according to Mr. Davidson, as the result of high cost of raw material, fruit and sugar, is facing the necessity of curtailing the pack the coming season. "The situation is going to rebound ultimately," he says, "to the detriment of the grower. We can find an example of growers overestimating the value of their product and the resultant bad effects in the apple deal of the past season. Growers last year, on the opening of the market, priced their fruit at a figure that curtailed consumption. If the values had been set lower, low enough to have kept apples moving swiftly into actual consumption, northwestern apple growers would be thousands of dollars better off today. The grower must accept a reasonable price for his product or kill the demand. The consumer in the end determines how many apples or how much of a fruit product, or any other product for that matter, is going to be sold. Where the price goes beyond a certain figure the consumer will cease to buy. Growers cannot afford to produce such a situation as this.

"As a vice-president of A. Ruper & Co., who processed nine canneries in Oregon, I have had occasion recently to refer to correspondence from jobbers. These dealers are all ready to curtail orders. They state that the price, both of fruits canned in ordinary cans and preserved product, is going to be so high, according to present indications, that orders are going to be relatively small. Indeed, orders are only a half to a third of expectations. Of course, the high cost of sugar is an element in the canning deal. I have heard the sugar growers being accused of responsibility for the increased cost of the product. In fact, the refiner, in my mind, is doing the larger part of the booting. If sugar planters are wise, they will work to prevent the prohibitive prices, which are certainly going to result on a large carry-over in sugar. The condition is going to result in a boomering that will ultimately be hurtful to growing interests."

Mr. Davidson's warnings are corroborated by the Hood River Canning Co., which specializes on Clark Seedling strawberries. "At a price of 15 and 16 cents per pound for strawberries," says I. R. Acheson, of the canning concern, "a 20-ounce can of our product will cost the consumer about $1 the coming year. This will certainly place it in the luxury class and will be hurtful all around."

G. A. R. MEN TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Canby Post, G. A. R., will celebrate its 28th birthday anniversary Saturday, May 22. Members of the Woman's Relief Corps will serve the veterans with one of their famous dinners at the old Knights of Pythias hall at noon on the day of celebration.

Memorial Sunday will be observed by Canby Post Sunday, May 23, when the annual sermon will be preached by Rev. E. H. Hayden at the Baptist church. The American Legion, Sons of Veterans, Spanish War Veterans, Woman's Relief Corps and members of fraternal organizations have been invited to attend the sermon. A committee composed of John A. Wilson, Rev. J. W. Rigby, Dr. J. Williams, J. R. Cash and James Gorton, has been appointed to arrange for the celebration of Memorial Day Monday, May 31.

LEGION PREPARES FOR GREAT FOURTH

The executive committee of the American Legion Post has appointed R. L. Foust chairman of a committee to prepare for entertainment on the Fourth of July. The Woman's Auxiliary and members of the Hood River Merchants' Association have been invited to participate in the celebration.

The Legion members are planning on a three-day celebration of Independence Day, the city having granted the organization a blanket concession, and all funds will be appropriated toward the construction of a Legion home. Dr. H. D. W. Pines has been appointed to arrange for a celebration of Memorial Day. The Knights of Pythias Lodge has been invited to aid the Legion in preparing a program.

WULLE'S EXPANSION TO COST $100,000

With plans of the S. P. & S. R. R. Co. to make extensive changes in the yards at Underwood, fruit interests have been notified that all apple warehouses there must be moved several hundred feet to the west. Some of the growers have proposed that new locations of buildings be decided by lot, but others declare that the allotment must be left with the railway company. The arrangement of the warehouses will relieve congestion around the passenger station of the fruit section.

Ben Wulle & Co. will erect a warehouse 200 feet long by 50 feet wide at the Underwood station. Other like warehouses of the English firm to be erected here, at Odell and Newberg will bring the concern's expansion bill for the year to $100,000.

GASOLINE IS NOW BEING ALLOTTED

While a carload of gasoline arrived Monday, officials of the Standard Oil Co. declare that it must last for the next two weeks, and the fuel is being rationed to garages and service stations. Dealers are receiving only about a third of their usual supply. Preference is being given ranchers, who demand gasoline for operation of spray rigs and tractors. The oil company, however, is demanding that these machines substitute kerosene wherever possible.

In order to conserve fuel for spray rigs, which must be operated for the next three weeks, the Apple Growers Association is urging conservation of gasoline.

The Merchants Association has been asked to limit deliveries to one trip daily. Orchardists are urged to pool their trips to town. Many business men, who are accustomed to motor from suburban homes each day, temporarily stabled their cars and are now walking.

Many truck drivers say they will run their trucks to White Salmon for gasoline. However, because of the Oregon law specifying gasoline of certain tests, the Washington gasoline cannot be hauled here in tanks. It can only be brought into the state in the tanks of machines.

CLARK BOOSTS OREGON PRODUCTS

WOMEN DECLARED BUYING FACTOR

Local Merchants Decide on Observing Oregon Products Week—Six Holiday Days Scheduled for Closing

If the women of Oregon could be persuaded of the importance of buying Oregon-made goods, manufacturers of the state in 30 days' time would see the change, was the statement Monday night by A. G. Clark, who addressed the Hood River Merchants' Association on the Associated Industries of Oregon.

"We would be sending out of the state for skilled labor," declared the speaker, "and our payrolls would begin to grow. A general period of prosperity would follow."

Following Mr. Clark's address, the Hood River merchants formed definite plans for observing Oregon Products Week June 7-12, inclusive. Prizes of $50, $25 and $15 will be awarded the best show windows.

Mr. Clark was introduced by Dr. Saxe, who took occasion to compliment the members of the Association for their aid in helping the city council in civic matters.

The Association has decided to observe six holidays during the week, when stores will be closed the full day. The days formally selected are: New Year's, Memorial Day, July 4th, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas. Secretary Johnson is now sending out questionnaires to all merchants asking their sentiment on closing the entire day on November 11, Armistice Day.

PAVING CREWS ARE RUSHING THE WORK

Cheering news is given out by the Kibbe Construction Co., now rushing paving of an eight mile stretch of the Highway between here and Viento. The Sonny plant of the company, it is said, is the only paving plant in the state operating two crews of men at capacity, and by the time of the Shriners' convention in Portland the road will be fully paved to a detour road leading into Hood River through the Frankton and Belmont districts.

By July 4, it is said, the highway will be completely paved, and it is expected that camp will be broken. The road under construction, according to present plans, will be open to traffic every Sunday.

The Kern Construction Company, which will complete grading the Mosier extension of the Highway today, will break its camp between here and Mosier this week.

The report recently circulated that it would be necessary to relay 400 yards of paving placed last fall between Cascade Locks and Wyeth, contractors declare as false.

SENIORS WIN UNANIMOUS PLAUDITS

Members of the senior class won the unanimous plaudits of a crowded auditorium Tuesday night when they presented, "The Stoops to Conquer," the vehicle of the class in the annual senior play. Constant recent rehearsal had given the students a confidence and they rendered Goldsmith's comedy with a far better ability than was expected from high school students.

The commencement exercises of the school will be held at the auditorium tonight, when C. N. Clarke will award diplomas to the 26 graduates. Prof. Suter, of the history department of the University of Oregon, will deliver the commencement address.

PINE GROVE WINS COUNTY TRACK MEET

The Pine Grove school won the first interscholastic county track meet held at the Hood River high school athletic field Saturday by a score of 31. The Hood River junior high school was second and Oak Grove third. The interscholastic meet, according to Athletic Director Beck, of the city schools, will be made an annual event. Five schools participated.

The feature of the meet was the work of Laurence Wells, of Pine Grove, who by himself won five firsts, two seconds and one third, giving his school a total of 31 points.

FEW COME HERE TO SEE BLOSSOMS

Blossom festival was celebrated quietly Sunday. As a result of paving work on the Highway between here and Viento, fewer automobile visitors journeyed here than is usual on ordinary Sundays.

While many orchards offered bouquets of blossoms Sunday, the cool weather that prevails will prolong the blooming season, and trees of certain parts of the district should be loaded with blossoms next Sunday.

D. G. JACKSON'S MOTHER PASSES

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary E. Jackson, widow of the late Andrew G. Jackson, were held at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Anderson chapel, Rev. H. A. MacDonald, of Portland, officiating. The body was shipped to Portland for cremation. The ashes will be sent to the old home at Middleville, N. Y., for interment.

Mrs. Jackson, born in Herkimer county, N. Y., on October 29, 1836, has been residing here with her son, D. G. Jackson, for the past 19 years. She died Sunday. Two other sons, Irving and H. Eugene Jackson, both of Middleville, N. Y., survive.

DATE FOR LADY MINSTRELS SET

The date for the Ladies' Minstrels which is being put on by the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion under direction of Mrs. L. L. Murray, has been set for Friday, May 28. Work has started and a great deal of enthusiasm is being shown and much untapped talent has been revealed.

Mrs. Henney Mrs. Root and other recognized soloists, besides about 30 other Hood River ladies are in the cast. An old plantation scene, banjo solos, old fashioned cake walk, fancy dancing, negro waltzing and snappy jokes and choruses will make up an evening of fun and should bring a full house.

The receipts will be used toward a community house for the American Legion.

ONE DELIVERY TO CONSERVE GASOLINE

Merchants of Hood River have agreed to operate but a single delivery daily, in order to conserve gasoline. The delivery will be operated afternoons, beginning today. All orders, it is stated, must be in by noon.

In seeking the office of Secretary of State Sam A. Koser has two outstanding qualifications which commend him to the voters. In the first place, he is qualified by experience for the position, having served for more than eight years as Deputy Secretary of State. Secondly, Mr. Koser is not a politician. He is thoroughly competent to give the strict business administration of the office of Secretary of State that is demanded by the people of the state.—Paid adv.

MULTNOMAH GUARDS TO BE HERE SUNDAY

The American Legion base ball team will play the Multnomah Guards at Columbia Park next Sunday. With the Legion Post backing the local aggregation, added interest is given base ball this season. The local men, who are starting practice it is expected, will give the visiting men a hard fought battle Sunday. The Legion base ball team was defeated in the initial game of the season Sunday by the Homevian team, score, 10 to 3. Quisenberry and Helmitz formed the visitors' battery. Powers pitched for the locals, and Hall caught.

The first half of Sunday's game was fast and even with both teams putting forth all of their efforts to push one score over the plate, which seemed at that time was all that was needed to win the game. If the little god of luck was neutral until then, he certainly threw the Legion down and sniped upon the visitors, for they began to scatter hits at all angles over the outfield and started a parade around the bases. The Legion pitcher, a Portland man contracted for the game, had given all he had and had weakened as a result of insufficient training. While the Portland team ran in 10 scores, the Legion pushed over a scattered three runs.

The break was due in no way to the fault of the pitcher's support, for he was backed by as pretty playing as has ever been seen in Hood River and the infield and outfield both look mighty encouraging for the season. The hitting of the Legion players was decidedly weak and calls for practice, which they realize and are striving to improve.

The grounds were somewhat cut up and dusty as a result of the springing hood-lump imitators, who had sniped forth all of their efforts to push one score over the plate, which seemed at that time was all that was needed to win the game. If the little god of luck was neutral until then, he certainly threw the Legion down and sniped upon the visitors, for they began to scatter hits at all angles over the outfield and started a parade around the bases. The Legion pitcher, a Portland man contracted for the game, had given all he had and had weakened as a result of insufficient training. THIS week we will cut our first Spring-sown spinach. Of all the vegetables grown this is one of the most beneficial to the human system.

Our field grown cabbage plants will also be on the market, and do not neglect to plant some of them if you have a garden. We recommend the Jersey Wakefield for early and the In Season for main crop.

If we can get around to them, we will have some radishes Saturday, but this is the season when one thing crowds another, and some of them must be dropped. That is the greatest trouble with farming. If a schedule could be made out and strictly conformed to, farming could be done sitting in a swivel chair.

Our asparagus is at its prime now, and you should try some of it in cans. Next winter you will wish you had a lot of it.
