ascend to morrow."

Don't waste time cooking on the Fourth. Go to the Methodist church for a good cafeteria dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Lutzmann motored up from Portland Sunday for a visit. They entertained a number of friends and relatives at a dinner party at the Hotel Oregon.

Take your vacation in the National Park. For information, write Miss Lenore Gregory, 818 Hancock St., Portland. j11f

W. R. Winans says that the mystery of a trunk floating down Hood river has been given undue prominence. "I saw the old trunk submerged near the confluence of the West and Middle Forks," says Mr. Winans. "There was nothing about it to cause alarm. Some logging camp worker simply abandoned an old useless trunk and kicked it into the river."

Alfred C. Locke, an attorney of Ionia, Mich., was here recently to secure depositions of W. W. Clarke, one of the beneficiaries of the will of the late Chauncey J. Ramsey, who left an estate of about $300,000. The will is in litigation for the purpose of getting a judicial interpretation of certain clauses. E. C. Smith, Mr. Clarke's attorney, will probably be called to Michigan on the case.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kollock, of Underwood, were here Monday en route to Las Animas, Colo., where they reside for Mr. Kollock's health. Mr. Kollock, who for a number of years has been manager of a large Underwood orchard tract, was forced to retire from active work because of illness. The place is now in charge of Earl Cummins.

A flat tire on the front wheel of a Ford caused a collision Tuesday evening between an automobile driven by Cecil Lafayette and one of the city's silent cops at Third street and Cascade avenue. Not knowing the tire was flat Mr. Lafayette in turning the corner permitted the wheel to be wrenched from his hands. He and Wm. Parkhurst, who was with him, were both badly shaken up. While the car was being smashed, neither of the men sustained a scratch.

An interesting reunion was participated in last week by J. W. Laraway, Glenwood, Ia., jeweler, who called at the home of Robert Rand, whom he had not seen since 1854, when the two resided in Dodge county, Wis. Mr. Laraway was then less than four years old. Mr. Laraway, member of the Des Moines Shrine Temple, came west for the Portland convalescence and has been here visiting his brother, W. F. Laraway, who participated in the reunion at Wau-Guin-Guin.

T. I. Lewis, assistant potentate of El Zagal Temple of the Shrine at Fargo, N. D., came up from Portland Saturday for a visit with his brother, A. G. Lewis. The latter, just recovering from an illness, accompanied his brother back to Portland to see old friends before their special train pulled out for the east.

Cloud Cap Inn was opened Friday. Homer Rogers reports that the national forest highway connecting the Inn with the county road is in better condition than for a number of years. "George Miller and his crew," says Mr. Rogers, "has the mountain now excellent for climbing. We expect the first parties to make an

J. A. Perry, owner of orchard tracts at Medford, who with his wife came up to Portland for the Shrine convention, came to Hood River following the festivities to study the method of cover crop culture in orchards. He states that water will soon be turned on his places, and he desires to follow Hood River system of raising clover and alfalfa. Mr. Perry, who with his wife visited Mrs. Mary Fletcher while here, says Rogue River orchards were hurt but slightly by the cold weather of last December.

Roy F. Dean, who served throughout the war and who was stationed following the armistice at Washington, D.C., with a branch of the Engineers Corps, was here last week, on his return from the Shrine convention to join his wife at Rufus, there visiting her mother, Mrs. J. R. Fowler. Mr. and Mrs. Dean will proceed to La Grande, where he is manager of the E. W. P. & L. Co. Mr. Dean was formerly connected with the Pacific Power & Light Co. here.

Douglas Sholor, formerly prominent in Portland, where for a number of years he was automobile editor, was here Thursday visiting relatives. Mr. Sholor, who is now secretary of the Western Washington Automobile Association, was en route over the Highway to Maryhill to inspect roads constructed by Samuel Hill. He had just praised for the Columbia River Highway.

Miss Alice Young, who is now living near Granddallas, Wash., was the guest of Miss Frances Moe and other friends over the week end. Miss Young left for Portland Monday morning. Her husband, Mr. H. A. McDonald, and family. Rev. McDonald accepted a call to the pulpit in at Portland, Me., where his aged parents reside, and will leave soon with his family for his new charge, by automobile.

Baptist Church

The members of the First Baptist church will join in the patriotic union service to be held at the open air theatre next Sunday afternoon. No evening service will be held. Services will be held in the morning at the regular hour. When Dr. Hayden will deliver a sermon on the subject, "The Flag and the Faith."

Auxiliary Will Help

Members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion will assist the Post in celebration of the Fourth of July Monday. The women will meet at Library hall Saturday afternoon, when definite plans of their participation in the celebration will be made.

HIGHWAY PAVING AGAIN UNDER WAY

Although crews resumed work Monday following interruption caused by fire at the Sonny plant of the Kibbe Construction Co., no paving was laid on the Highway between here and Mitchell Point tunnel until Tuesday, when 200 feet were placed. With the resumption of paving the Highway is now closed during the day. Traffic is allowed until 7:30 in the morning, between the hours of 11:30 a. m. and 12:30 p. m., and after 5:30 p. m. Crews will lay off for the celebration of the Fourth Sunday and Monday, and the Highway be open to traffic during the full two days.

Pioneers Go to Portland

The following pioneers have left for Portland to attend the annual reunion of the Oregon Pioneer Association: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCully and C. C. Masiker. Mr. Carter, a native Oregonian, whose parents came to the state on an early day missionary ship, is an ex-president of the Pioneer Association. Mr. McCully's family came as pioneers to the Walla Walla county country. Mr. Masiker was a pioneer freighter of eastern Oregon.

Loop Connection Investigated

The Men's Forum of the Upper Valley United Church after deciding on an investigation of claims made by Commissioner Hanson that a substitute route for connecting existing county roads with the Mount Hood Loop at the border of the national forest can be constructed for $1,500, whereas the grade as laid out in a state survey will cost $50,000, visited the district Monday. The committee, composed of Maj. Steinhauser, Col. Dowd and Geo. Monroe, will report back to the Forum.
