SILVER WEDDING CELEBRATION HELD

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wallace surprised them Wednesday night of last week in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary. At a ceremony, with guests taking part as attendants and officiating minister, the wedding vows were renewed. Each guest presented Mr. and Mrs. Wallace with a silver dollar. A luncheon of sandwiches, cake and coffee was served. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wallace are pioneers of the valley. The former, now 49 years old, came to the valley when he was only three. His father, the late James Wallace, was one of the builders of the old State road, the forerunner of the highway.

Guests present for the event were: Mr. and Mrs. Tony Frohn, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Eastman and son, Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Burns Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Turpin, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Shere, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young and children, Pearl, Eunice, Merle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutson, Lee Smith, Harry Barker, Edwin Bryan and Archie Eastman.

Strange Motorist Kills Dog

An unidentified motorist, a stranger driving through town, aroused the ire of local citizens last week when he ran down and killed an Airedale puppy on Cascade avenue near the corner of Fourth street. The young dog, the ownership of which was not determined, was running playfully ahead of a team driven by Victor Beauregard, East Side rancher, when it dashed under a rear wheel of the automobile. The street was covered with snow and the pup was dragged by the skidding wheel for nearly a block before finally passing over the animal, breaking its neck. The driver then stopped the car within two feet of the dying dog, while citizens who had witnessed the accident denounced him for too speedy driving on the snowy streets.

The motorist declared that a sign at the west edge of the city permitted a speed of 20 miles, and that he was within this limit. He promised to report the killing of the dog to the sheriff's office, but so far he has not appeared.

Judge Castner Home from Visit

Judge Castner, who has just returned from Penticton, B. C., where he visited the family of his son, John B. Castner, now engaged in the fruit business, says the Canadian district received record prices the past year for peaches, apricots and cherries. The district suffered no frost damage, and fair yields were harvested. The apple crop, however, he says, was only 40 per cent of normal. The crop has been sold for an average of $1.90 per box. Crop prospects for 1921 are reported good.

Judge Castner says the weather of the provincial district has been very similar to that of Hood River. The temperature had not dropped low enough when he left to freeze a new curling rink just constructed. Deep snows in the Hope mountains, however, had blocked rail traffic between Penticton and Vancouver.

Schoolmate Inquires About Mr. Smith

Postmaster Reavis has received a letter from F. M. Kimball, of Redlands, Calif., asking information about the late E. L. Smith. Mr. Kimball writes: "Was E. L. Smith who recently died in your town named Ezra L. Smith? Did he originally come from Vermont. I am anxious to know. Many years ago, before the Civil war, I had a friend and schoolmate by the name of Ezra L. Smith in Vermont. He went west, and I learned later on the Pacific coast. I lost track of him. His age would be about that of the E. L. Smith who has just died in Hood River." Mr. Reavis feels sure that the late Mr. Smith, who was a native of Vermont, is the friend of the writer's youth.

Footpads Active in Seattle

Excitement over the activities of footpads was the all-absorbing feature of life in Seattle last week, according to E. O. Blancher, who with Mrs. Blancher returned the latter part of the week from the Sound city where he had been called to visit a brother who was ill. The slaying of three policemen by John Schmitt, since sentenced to hang, caused a widespread sensation, he says, and feeling ran high.

Mr. Blancher saw the funeral procession of the officers, who were buried simultaneously. He declares he never saw a more impressive service. The men were veteran officers and popular. Citizens lining the streets shed tears, he said, as the cortege passed.

Union Organization Grows

Officials of an organization of local skilled and unskilled labor, which is applied to the American Federation of Labor for a charter, report that applications for membership are on the increase. The organization now has in excess of 140 members, it is said.
