KEEP YOUR HEAD UP
Courage strengthens, Fear weakens, Courage wins, Fear loses; Courage inspires the confidence of others, Fear invites their contempt. Sentiment is contagious. Talk panic and you foster panic. Talk optimism and you inspire optimism. Last new year saw us soaring further and further away from economic sanity. This year sees us moving steadily nearer economic sanity. The shortsighted are most pessimistic today. The far sighted the most optimistic. Let us go about our business with courage and faith and vision; with cool heads, clear eyes and stout hearts.

SCHOOL NEWS
By Roberta C. Lane

The freshman class gave their annual party to the high school students and their parents last Friday night. The high school auditorium was decorated with the class colors, purple and white. The evening was spent in games, contests and dancing. Punch and wafers were served for refreshment. The faculty advisors were in charge of the program during the evening. The class officers, Wilmoth Gibson, president, and Frances Zoils, were chairmen of the program committee.

The preliminary tryouts to represent Hood River high school in the county oratorical contest, will be held next Monday. From this preliminary final contestants will be chosen. Some number of Junior high will be chosen in like manner to represent the grades.

Last Monday the pupils of Park Street school, Junior high, and mid-year freshmen, a total of 500 pupils, were shown three educational films in the high school auditorium. Two reels were on the milk industry and one on St. Augustine. The history classes of the high school were shown slides covering English history from the Rome occupation to the end of the Tudor period and set of slides covering the Crusades.

Last Saturday morning about 20 Junior high boys gathered at the Pleasantview school building with their principal, C. C. Newhouse, and cleaned walls and ceilings, halls and classrooms. In appreciation of their good work, the school board allowed them a small sum to help out their athletic fund.

Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock Miss Frances E. Baker, instructor in physical training, will give a girls' gymnasium exhibition in the high school auditorium. This exhibition will consist of drills and contests, ending with a basket ball game with the girls of Cascade Locks. An admission fee of 25c will be charged. The proceeds will be used in fitting up the rest room of the high school.

On Saturday night one of the best and largest basketball games of the season will be played in the high school auditorium, when the local team will play the Pendleton team. Coach Fleiselman expects to trim the visitors and thus even up his defeat in football at Pendleton last fall.

There will be no school Friday as the teachers will be in attendance at the County Institute called by Supt. L. B. Gibson in the high school building.

VAN HORN RENAMED HEAD OF LEGION

Officers of the local American Legion Post have been elected for the ensuing year as follows: Edw. W. Van Horn, commander; Walter Ford, vice commander; Robert G. McNary, a lieutenant; Sidney B. Carnine, finance officer; Geo. R. Wilbur and Harold Hersher, members of the executive committee; Dr. V. R. Abraham, chaplain; and Stewart Kimball, historian.

The Post states that a bulletin board will soon be erected at a prominent business corner, where all bulletins from state and national headquarters will be placed immediately on receipt. The local organization now has a membership of more than 200. It stands rated in membership in the state. A new entertainment committee, it is stated, will be appointed this week, and arrangements will be made for a dance on the night of Washington's birthday. The Legion is also planning a second get-together party of its members and members of the Women's Auxiliary at an early date.

LOCAL UNION WILL GET ITS CHARTER

C. O. Young, organizer for the American Federation of Labor, will be here from Portland Saturday evening to present to a local organization of men a charter and to install Hood River's first union, J. H. McKee, temporary president of the local organization, states that the charter roll contains about 100 names. Local carpenters have applied for a separate charter.

Cyrus C. Sparks Passes
Funeral services for Cyrus C. Sparks, aged 30 and native of Wisconsin, were held Tuesday afternoon at the Anderson chapel. Interment followed at Jewell cemetery. Mr. Sparks, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sparks, died Sunday from tuberculosis. In addition to his parents the young man is survived by three brothers and four sisters. The family has resided here for the past 12 years, having lived in the Upper Valley formerly. Mr. Sparks was a popular young man. While his death was not unexpected for several weeks, news of his passing brought sincere grief to a host of friends.

Rev. M. R. Cutting, a Portland pastor, officiated at the service.

J. C. Hayward Passes
Charles E. Hayward, aged 64, died suddenly from heart trouble at his home on Columbia street Tuesday evening. Although he has been ill for some time, his friends thought he was showing improvement recently. Mr. Hayward was a native of Chautauque county, New York. He came here with his family 19 years ago and had resided here continuously since except for three years spent in Lafayette. In 1915 he was mayor of Lafayette.

Mr. Hayward is survived by a sister, Mrs. Pearl Rowan, of Cherryville; his widow and the following five children: Mrs. O. A. Lakin, J. C. Hayward, Millard Hayward, Miss Blanche Chandler, and Miss Mattie Hayward, all of Hood River.

White Salmon Grade Progresses
A steam shovel crew is completing a new grade, connecting the old road on the south bank of the White Salmon river and a new steel bridge across the stream and linking the Kamasan and Klickitat county, Wash., portions of the North Bank Highway. The work has been under way for more than three months. A heavy blast, discharged to remove a rocky point of the canyon, caused a heavy vibration of local residences early one morning last week.

FAGEOL RECOMMENDED
A Hood River Farmer Claims It Does 100 Per Cent On Hillside Work

Mr. E. A. Jaku, Hood River, Oregon, May 7, 1920:

Last February I witnessed a FAGEOL tractor demonstration held at Vancouver, Washington, and, from my observation, I concluded that the machine would do at least 75 per cent of the hill work on my farm in Hood River.

We accordingly purchased a FAGEOL, and have worked it continuously since that time, and I am frank to say that it has not only done 100 per cent of our work, but we have employed all of our available spare time in doing the work of our neighbors.

I think that this machine has done more work this Spring than any other tractor in Hood River County, and we have not yet changed a spark plug, and she seems to have more power than ever. We are strong for the FAGEOL.

For Demonstration See HIGHWAY AUTO CO.

WOMAN'S CLUB NEWS

In an address before the Hood River Women's Club Wednesday afternoon of last week, A. M. Cannon, city school superintendent, urged parents to urge their daughters to study domestic science. Mr. Cannon says the percentage of young women taking such courses is far too small.

The club members on next Thursday evening will entertain their husbands at the Lotus Grille. Home talent, directed by Mrs. L. L. Murphy, will present a dramatic sketch. Refreshments will be served.

Highway Brings Peddler
Recently Portland commission men reported that as a result of the Highway peddlers with motor trucks were visiting the orchard districts, where they purchased low grade fruit, hauling it to Portland and selling it as growers. On Saturday Portland peddlers, with a motor truck loaded with oranges, appeared here, secured a city license and began peddling their fruit on the streets. The peddlers stated that they will deal in other similar products from time to time.

Rigby Case Under Adversement
Circuit Judge Fred W. Wilson has taken under advisement the case of Rigby versus S. A. Mitchell, L. A. Henderson et al., testimony in which was concluded last week. The plaintiff, a pioneer Methodist minister, alleges that the defendants as trustees of his estate were involved in a conspiracy against him in the transfer of houses and lots to H. M. Hicks, who is also made a party to the suit. Mr. Rigby asks that the conveyances be set aside. The defendants introduced testimony to show that the transfer of the property was regular and to show that Mr. Rigby participated in conferences leading up to the deal and in its execution.

Judge Wilson has announced that he will render a decision next Saturday.

Philippine Lecture Tonight
"Yesterday and Today in the Philippine Islands" will be the subject of a lecture by Miss Beattie Agnes Dwyer, of Texas and Washington, D. C., who for 16 years resided at Manila, at the high school auditorium this afternoon. The address will be given under auspices of the Philippine Press Bureau. The lecture will be illustrated with many pictures, illustrating island modes of living and depicting agricultural methods and tropical scenery.
