

A GOOD MACHINE AND A SQUARE DEAL

Ask B. G. Davidson to put an Avery Orchard Tractor on your ground with the understanding that in the event it does not make a better showing than a competitive machine, you will be under no obligations to buy. Any fair minded man is open to conviction and this proposition puts the entire burden on the seller.

There is no best machine built, but for every condition and territory there is some machine that is the best for a general purpose plant in that particular place. We most emphatically claim that the Avery Orchard Tractor has many advantages for use in Hood River Valley that are found in no other make. All we ask is an opportunity to show you.

The Avery Company build eight different sizes of tractors and the one that is offered for sale here is built solely for orchard work. We do not claim any one size or type to meet conditions everywhere so we build different sizes for different work and offer in each territory size and type best adapted to that particular section.

It costs nothing to investigate the Avery and you are certainly not giving yourself a square deal, if you buy a tractor without first learning all you can about all of them. If you own an Avery you are a satisfied tractor owner. Ask the following owners.

U. OF O. GIRLS' GLEE CLUB WINS PLAUDITS

On their first tour of eastern Oregon the Girls' Glee Club of the University of Oregon was heartily greeted here Saturday night. Many alumni of the university and students, home for Easter vacation were in the audience. Numerous Oregon Agricultural College students were also present and joined in plaudits for the young women singers.

While the program rendered by the visiting choristers included numbers that showed their mastery of musical technique, enough of simple ballads and melodies were sung to make the concert a treat for unexpert members of the audience. Director Leland A. Coon, too, is to be congratulated for the spontaneity with which his students sang. From the beginning to the end of their program the 22 bright-eyed, smiling women held their audience and for the most part those present were surprised at the swiftness with which the 30 minutes of concert passed. Every number brought ready applause, and soloists, quartette and the girls, ensemble, were called back for encores. Miss Imogene Letcher, Portland girl, and accompanist, by the preparation and presentation of an original stunt, "When the Clock Strikes Twelve," offers the audience a unique little sketch, in which the girls appear as animated dolls.

The stunt was the most interesting part of the program. Miss Laura Rand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rand, of Portland, a former Hood River resident, was given an ovation, when she sang "A Rose in the Bud." During the intermission Don D. Davis, assistant manager of the organization, invited all high school students and others of the city to attend the annual Junior Week End festivities of the university to be held soon. One Hood River girl, Miss Alberta Carson, accompanied the university singers.

JACK ANDERSON IS HERE ON FURLOUGH

Jack Anderson, who, although only 23 years old, holds a military record, is home from Washington D. C., on a furlough visiting his foster mother, Mrs. J. H. Duker. Mr. Anderson is now a member of the Third Cavalry regiment, known as the President's own. This regiment was the only military organization to participate in the parade at President Harding's inauguration, although, Mr. Anderson says, members of an infantry regiment acted as traffic officers in Washington on the day of the inauguration.

Jack Anderson is a veteran of the Mexican border campaign of 1916, having been a member of Troop A, Oregon Cavalry at that time. He was overseas with the 148th Regiment, Field Artillery, and was wounded in action. Following the armistice Mr. Anderson was in Paris when American soldiers conceived the plans of the American Legion. He, along with Colonel George A. White, was present at a meeting at which plans that have resulted in the nationwide organization of ex-service men were launched.

On returning home Mr. Anderson was employed for a part of 1919 in inspecting heater service of cars carrying Hood River apples. But civilian life palled on him and he berthed in Portland as assistant steward of a vessel bound through the Panama Canal for London. When the ship returned to New York he re-enlisted and was assigned to the Third Cavalry. During the past year Mr. Anderson has been studying preparatory to taking examination for entrance to West Point.

GLEE CLUB GIRLS INVITED TO LOTUS

Following their interesting program at the high school Saturday night, the members of the Girls' Glee Club of U. of O. called at the Lotus Grille, where they and their friends were invited as special guests of H. M. Hicks the proprietor. The young women and friends participated in a pleasant informal party.

Mr. Hicks threw the grille open to the visitors, making no charge for their entertainment and refreshment.

All Churches Celebrate Easter

All Hood River churches observed Easter Sunday with special musical programs. At Riverside church members of the Commandery, Knights Templar, attended in a uniformed body, their entrance forming an impressive moment. Sunday evening an oratorio was given by the children of Riverside church, closing the series of programs given throughout the winter by the Sunday Evening club of the church.

At Abury Methodist church a special musical program was given by the choir Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Oxborrow were in charge of the service. At the Christian and Baptist churches children's programs were given. During high mass at the Catholic church the choir, under direction of Mrs. G. P. Morden, rendered special music.

Special services were held at the Immanuel Lutheran church.

Has He a Future?

When Professor Evvard, the distinguished authority on swine breeding and feeding, asks "Has the Hog a Future?" he is concerned not with the hog's immortality, but with farm profits. That is why you will want to read his illuminating discussion of this important question in next week's issue of

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

The drop in pork has hit the farmer hard. It is time to pause a minute and take stock, in order to know exactly where he stands.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is the national weekly of profitable farming—its purpose is to show the farmer how to succeed. And it's not just a fair-weather friend of the man on the soil; it will tackle his problems with him when those problems are hardest to solve. Professor Evvard's timely article is just typical of an ahead-of-the-minute service that covers every farm interest. A full year of this service—with wholesome entertainment for the whole family thrown in—costs but a single dollar. If you send me $1.00 today, the first of 52 weekly copies will reach you in next Thursday's mail.
