This is the very last call to get your apples to market while there is some chance of getting something out of them. Within a short time it will be too late as strawberries and other early fruits as well as Spring tonics will take their place.

If you consign to us you will get the best possible returns for apples.

We want your business because we know we can give you better net returns than others. We move stock quickly, take a very small profit and immediately send you your returns.

BILL HART GETS BILL HART'S PHOTO

William Hart, city marshal, who became confused last year with William Hart, the internationally known movie actor, has just received from the latter a handsome autographed photograph. The confusion in identity of the men arose over factiousness of Hood River county Democrats in writing in the name of Bill Hart (the local man) as their choice for candidate for sheriff in the May primaries in 1920. When the office of the secretary of state was canvassing the returns it was concluded that Bill Hart the movie had man had admirers in Hood River, and news stories went forth accordingly. These stories have wide dissemination in France, for since the election last year the local Bill Hart has received numerous romantic epistles from abroad. He has forwarded all the letters to Hollywood, Calif., the home address of the actor, declaring that the secrets they held are secure, as he cannot read French.

The photograph just received from the movie actor by the police officer was forwarded here through C. W. Hooker, Los Angeles sales manager of the Apple Growers Association, and Hollywood neighbor of Bill Hart, the actor.

SIGNS OF SPRING ON EVERY HAND

Hood River orchardists have never been busier than at present. The past few days of sunshine, following three weeks of almost incessant rain, delaying application of miscible oil sprays, which must be done before the foliage bursts, has dried out tracts, and hundreds of power spray rigs are chugging in orchards. Pruning crews are cleaning up spring work and burning clippings in many fields. Tractors and horsedrawn plows, have begun spring cultivation, which has been held up unusually long because of heavy precipitation.

County Roadmaster Nichols, too, is making the most of the first sunshiny days and crews are busy repairing ravages of winter of highways throughout the county.

With the advent of spring the motor traffic over the Highway, which, however, has been blocked only twice during the winter by slides, and then for only a few hours, has shown a marked increase. The other day a family party, headed east, the machine carrying on running board and tied to the rear an accumulation of household goods, sped through the city. A canary, in an open cage, was suspended from the canopy, a sure harbinger of spring.

TWO NEW LUMBER CONCERNS ORGANIZE

Two new lumber concerns have been organized here. One, with Harry DeWitt and Banks Mortimer as organizers, has taken over the interests of the Fir Mill & Construction Co. and the Post Canyon Lumber Co. Yards will be secured here and the company has made arrangements with Portland manufacturers to handle finished lumber products. The concern plans on employing about 30 men and cutting approximately 20,000 feet per day.

Mr. Mortimer and Mr. DeWitt, associated with J. R. Phillips, the latter owner of a box plant destroyed by fire recently, have leased the Filz meat packing plant and will equip the place with machinery for box making. The new box factory, it is said, will be ready for operation in the next two weeks.

Mrs. Jones Seeks Divorce

Mrs. Marjorie Jones has filed suit for divorce from Alan V. Jones. The couple was married April 6, 1917.

Mrs. Jones alleges a failure on the part of her husband to provide for herself and two children, a girl aged 3 and a boy a year old. She claims that he has expended earnings on clothes for himself and that he has made it a practice to absent himself from home in the evenings, attending dances in association with unmarried women. She asks the custody of the children and $40 a month alimony. A petition for $300 attorney's fees and $50 court expenses has been filed.

Car Held for License

Traffic Officer Murray last week apprehended E. H. James, who was accompanied by his son, driving his automobile with 1920 Iowa license. Although the men declared that they had applied for a license in Iowa they were unable to display a receipt. Justice of the Peace Onthank instructed them to apply for an Oregon license. They explained that they were en route to Pendleton and that they did not have sufficient funds to purchase the license at present. Their car was held and the men were asked to find work and earn enough to pay for license plates.

Carey Finds Peasants Prospering

Jack Carey, in charge of the White Salmon office of Dan Wylie & Co., was here Saturday, having just returned from a visit in England. Mr. Carey, a veteran of the great war, while abroad visited the portions of France where he participated in service. Except in the zones of extreme devastation he says the French are fast recuperating from the four years of conflict. Especially, he says, are the French peasants prospering. With food stuffs in keen demand, he says the peasants are fast getting into the capitalist class.

THE HAYES PAYS

WHY? Because it is equipped with the Fairbanks-Morse Z-type Engine

Hood River county has a new fruit inspector. His work is going to result in inestimable benefits if all growers give him the measure of co-operation he deserves.

Every grower of the Valley can afford to give this co-operation. Indeed, he cannot afford not to. The future prosperity of the Valley depends on careful, consistent application of spray materials.

The Hayes Sprayer will help along with the campaign outlined, if growers will only give it a chance. You do not have to "bust the bank" when you buy a Hayes and yet you get equipment for as thorough and effective work as though you paid out a large sum for mechanical elaboration and complication.

We mean it, when we say the HAYES PAYS. It pays from the standpoint of original investment and by the results obtained.
