Mr. Pope at one time lived in Hood River when he was associated with the Taft Feed and Grain concern. Since leaving here he acquired property in Gilliam county and became a successful wheat rancher.
County Clerk Shoemaker Saturday forwarded to Secretary of State Koser $516.50 the total of fees received in May for fishing and hunting licenses. The sum was the largest ever collected here for a single month. Mr. Shoemaker says. While the increase in fishing and hunting licenses resulted in slow purchases of them, in the long run, Mr. Shoemaker thinks, just as many citizens as formerly possessed the $1.50 licenses will buy those of double the price.
About 40 members of the Hood River Lodge of Rebekahs motored to Cascade Locks Wednesday night of last week, when they were guests of the Rebekahs and Odd Fellows of that city. The Cascade I. O. O. F. Lodge as a feature of the meeting presented veteran's jewels to a number of members. A luncheon was served the visitors. BIG BLAST TOUCHED OFF NEAR ROWENA

The Hauser Construction Co. touched off a huge blast of powder and dynamite yesterday near Rowena. The shot tumbled from a Columbia gorge promontory an estimated 18,000 yards of rock which will be crushed for Columbia River highway paving. Five tons of giant powder were exploded. The plant of the Hauser company, which will pave the Highway from the Marsh gravel pits, just east of Mosier, on to The Dalles, are being set up rapidly, and crews will begin laying the surfacing in the next few weeks.

CHEESE CAMPAIGN WILL BE STAGED

The purpose of the campaign is to educate the public to the value of cheese as a food. The second is to call to the mind of the residents of the state, the importance of the cheese industry to the development of Oregon.
All kinds of cheese manufactured within the state are included in the campaign, cream, cottage and others, and appetizing recipes for cheese dishes will be announced each day through the newspapers of the state. The recipes will be tested by the domestic science department of the Oregon Agricultural College, which will also have demonstrators traveling through the state giving first hand information to the housewives on the value of cheese as a food.

PARKDALE EXHAUSTS OFFICIAL BALLOTS

Features of the Tuesday election were heavy votes polled at Parkdale in the Upper Valley, where sentiment favored the bonds, and in Oak Grove, where opposition was marked. Parkdale, with a registration of 185, cast a total of 244 votes, all but nine for the bonds. Ballots were exhausted and six sample ballots were used. These, however, signed on the back by members of the election board, were kept separate, and the canvassing board has asked for instructions on their validity. The ballots, for the bond issue, in no wise affect the favorable result for the bonds. Oak Grove's registration was exceeded by voters being sworn in to oppose the issue.
Speaking of the recent price drops in motor cars, it has been expected for some little time that cars would drop, although in many cases the manufacturers have been forced to drop the price on cars that were built during the era of high labor and material. However, the Buick factory has been far behind in its deliveries for the past three months and the new Buick at $1,823 is without a doubt considered by car users to be one of the best buys in years.
According to Earl Franz, of the Hood River Garage, there have been more prospective purchasers since the drop and more interest shown in buying than at any time during the fall and spring months.
