

Gorgeous Mt. Rainier

Mount Rainier is 14,408 feet above the sea-level—the second highest mountain peak in the United States. It is the center of Rainier National Park, Washington—and is situated about seventy-five miles by road east of Tacoma.

This remarkable mountain is of volcanic origin and is now crowned with snow and ice, having the most extensive glaciers to be found in the United States.

The National Parks Highway leads directly from Tacoma to Rainier National Park, and at Longmire Springs—within the Park boundaries—is a Standard Oil service station ready to serve motorists with Red Crown Gasoline.

Wherever you tour in Washington you will see the Red Crown sign on service stations and garages. It is the sign of quality in gasoline.

FRUIT GROWERS PLAN WATER SHIPMENTS

Representatives of deciduous and citrus fruit growers of Washington, Oregon and California having a capital investment of more than $300,000,000 and an annual production of more than 100,000 carloads of fruit, met at Seattle last week to perfect an organization of the All Western committee on water transportation, which will act as a central agency for the routing of Pacific Coast perishables to gulf and eastern markets by water in preference to the all-rail haul.

In addition to electing C. S. Whitcomb, of Los Angeles, as association president, J. H. Wade, of Wenatchee, was made president of the deciduous branch and a vice president of the association; C. De Vere Fairchild, of Yakima, will be secretary-treasurer and the directors at large will be H. F. Davidson, of Hood River, and C. I. Lewis, of Salem. The California growers interested in the association will elect similar officers and there will be bureaus in the various fruit producing sections, with Whitcomb the directing head of all.

A conference will be held with Secretaries Weeks and Hoover by representatives of the committee and with western congressmen to further the cause of harbor improvements and installation of refrigeration on a number of the United States shipping boat vessels in addition to those of privately owned ships.

Representatives of intercoastal steamship services are proposed to make definite rates and provide adequate cooled space when the growers' organization finally pledges a minimum of 9,000 carloads of apples and citrus fruits.

Figures were presented showing 24 leading ports of the United States are equipped to handle this fruit from intercoastal points.

The committee resolution adopted that "water transportation will revolutionize distribution of Pacific coast fruits, stabilize the industry by creation of numerous new markets, save millions annually to the producer and the consumer."

The organization will represent all fruit growers and shippers of fruit in California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, with two bureaus—citrus with headquarters in California, and deciduous, with headquarters in Washington state—each bureau to be a complete organization and self-financed.

THIS MAN DREADED TO SEE NIGHT COME

Was So Restless He Couldn't Sleep And Daylight Was Always Welcome

"With the exception of a little milk toast, which comprised my diet for more than eight weeks, I could not eat anything," said Capt. Geo. W. Womble, residing at 105 Jennings St., Knoxville, Tenn., a highly respected citizen of that city.

"I am now able," continued Captain Womble, "after taking two bottles of Tanlac, to eat practically anything. I had a bad form of stomach and intestinal trouble for a long time and for months my condition had been such that I suffered agony. I got so I could not eat the simplest food. I tried doctor after doctor and all kinds of medicine but nothing that was prescribed for me seemed to do me any good. I had a terrible pain in my breast just over my heart and for weeks and weeks I got no relief.

"I finally got so nervous that I actually dreaded to see night come as I could not sleep and was always so restless that I would rejoice to see daylight come. I was also constipated all of the time. In fact, life seemed a burden and I was so miserable that I was almost on the verge of despair. Several of my neighbors told me about Tanlac and advised me to try it.

"I am personally acquainted with Mr. Dan M. Chambliss, of the firm of Kuhlman & Chambliss, and when I told him of my condition and how I suffered he advised me to begin taking Tanlac without delay and that it had relieved hundreds of the best people in Knoxville. I have now taken two bottles of Tanlac and am giving you this testimonial in the hope that it may induce others to take it. Since taking this medicine I actually feel like I had been made over again with the youth, energy and ambition of a sixteen year old boy."—Adv.
