PORTLAND TEAMS TO PLAY 10 GAMES HERE

By a unanimous vote the members of the Portland City Bowling League accorded Hood River a most unusual favor, when at the annual meeting held Monday night at the Oregon Bowling Alley, they agreed to transfer ten of the regularly scheduled league matches to the Blue Diamond Alleys.

As there will be six teams in the league again this year that means that the other five teams in the league will roll one match in the fall and one in the spring here with the Blue Diamond team which has been again accorded a place in the Portland League.

Local bowlers are jubilant over this agreement, as it not only saves them ten trips to the city but allows local fans the pleasure of seeing their own representatives in action at home again, one of the Portland teams in turn. When it is understood that the mere admission of the local team last year was revolutionary, Hood River people will appreciate the compliment the Portland men are paying their Hood River friends in this year's arrangement.

The league season this year will cover 30 weeks instead of 25, making a 90 game schedule, and calling for each team to meet every other other times. In order to cover this longer schedule the league bowling will start next Monday night with all six teams bowling at the Oregon Alleys. Teams entered are Hadley-Silver, last year's champions, Zellerbach Paper Co., runners-up, Toke Point Oyster Grill, Hood River-Blue Diamonds, Kelly's Olympians, and the Longshoremans. The first four mentioned were members of the league last year.

Last season with a team composed of part Hood River and part Portland men the Blue Diamonds finished fifth, in spite of the severe handicaps against them. This year they will be minus the services of Charley Kruse, but Manager House is confident that local men have improved and seasoned sufficiently to make a strong all-Hood River line-up. With the opportunity of rolling part of their games on the local alleys, the locals should make a creditable showing, especially as the Portland bowling ranks have lost eight of their high caliber men.

It was the intention of Mr. House to hold a competition of some sort to make up the local team, but the starting of the league so early compels him to make a tentative selection to begin with. This line-up will be subject to change as needed, and other local men who are going good will have opportunity to fill in at various times as the regular members are unable to make the trip.

The Blue Diamond line-up for opening night at Portland will consist of Sherrill, Annals, Green, DeWitt, and House.

YAKIMA BUYERS ENTER LOCAL FIELD

For the first season the C. M. Kopp Co., apple buyers of Yakima, have invaded the Hood River territory. F. E. Ollenman, who has arrived to take charge of the local business, says his concern anticipates the handling of 100 carloads of Hood River fruit this season.

"While we have never dealt directly in Hood River apples before," says Mr. Ollenman, "we have purchased them in former seasons from shippers. We are well pleased with the Oregon apples and hope to increase our business in them each season. We now control the fruit from one local tract, the Middlecrest orchard, located in the Middle Valley."

Apparently angered when Traffic Officer Woods turned a spotlight on him as he clambered through bushes up the Columbia gorge-side from the Highway, a man buried a 30-pound rock at the officer Monday night. Officer Woods had dismounted and was standing beside his motorcycle when he heard a noise at the roadside and saw a man enter the brush. As a suspicious character had been reported in the vicinity earlier in the evening, Mr. Woods at once switched his spotlight on the bushes. The stranger, who wore brown trousers and a black coat, backed out of the rays of the light and before Mr. Woods could rearrange it and bring him again in focus, the big rock was hurled. It struck Mr. Woods' feet.

The officer fired three shot into the bushes and securing a flashlight tried to trail the man through the woods, but he escaped.
