

POTATO ASSOCIATION GETS ENDORSEMENT

Gordon G. Brown and Leroy Childs are urging potato growers of the Upper Valley to affiliate with the Pacific Northwest Potato Growers Association.

"The Upper Valley," says Mr. Brown, "is ideally located for seed production. Soil and climatic conditions fit the district for producing a seed tuber second to none."

Aims of the Association are cited as follows in a letter to Mr. Childs from M. G. Coe, vice president, of Bend.

"The Pacific Northwest Potato Growers Association, comprising the states of Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon, is an organization of value to every grower within the four states.

It is endeavoring to standardize grades and shipping rules. It seems probable that federal inspection will be established at shipping points with regional headquarters of the Bureau of Markets in the northwest.

The organization has undertaken to do away with the confusion arising from duplication of varieties. It has undertaken to hold shows and conferences and other activities to promote the welfare of the potato industry."

Tuesday the O.-W. R. & N. freight office, with M. F. Mendenhall, A. C. Morrow, F. S. DeWitt, E. A. Kincaid and C. U. Dakin, members of the force, ill with flu, was held down by N. W. Mays. Agent Fredrick is also sick. Toby Morioka, veteran janitor, who has been with the company for 14 years, is chief factotum.

THAW PUTS ROADS IN BAD SHAPE

The thawing of valley dirt roads and a heavy precipitation of soft snow and rain has resulted in numerous complaints from residents of various sections.

Local restaurants are now utilizing apples packed by the Hood River Canning Co. for pie making in preference to the fresh fruit.

Pies Made of Canned Apples

"We have just finished this carload of Spitzenburgs," says the letter, "and we want to tell you that we consider it one of the best carloads of apples we have ever handled."

Iowa Likes Spitzenburgs

John C. Duckwall has just received from an Iowa firm of commission merchants a letter complimenting him on a carload of Spitzenburgs purchased last fall.

"We have just finished this carload of Spitzenburgs," says the letter, "and we want to tell you that we consider it one of the best carloads of apples we have ever handled."

WOMAN'S CLUB NEWS

A valentine party tendered by members of the Woman's club to their husbands Wednesday night of last week drew an attendance from all parts of the valley, despite the inclement weather.

The refreshment committee consisted of Mrs. C. A. Cass, Mrs. Harvey Jones, Mrs. H. G. Ball, Mrs. E. A. Franz, Mrs. B. F. Moses, Mrs. W. E. Kissinger, Mrs. M. Cameron and Mrs. Will Nichols. Mrs. E. H. Hartwig and Mrs. M. E. McCarty had charge of decorations.

Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, secretary of the Oregon State Tuberculosis Association, will address the members of the Woman's club next Wednesday afternoon. "Child Welfare," will be the subject of her talk. The child welfare committee of the local club, headed by Mrs. F. M. Edwards, will be in charge of the event. Members are asked to bring guests, paying the regular guest fees.

"Mrs. Dunbar," says Mrs. William Munroe, "is one of Oregon's leading club women and an eloquent speaker. It will be a treat to hear her. We urge that all attend the meeting next Wednesday and hear the message that she will bring us."

Other Side of Case Presented

Hood River, Or., Feb. 10, 1922. Editor Glacier: I wish to call to your attention an article in your paper of February 9 under the title of "Water Case Creates Interest. The article in question, although a partial statement of facts, gives an impression entirely foreign to the truth.

I also wish to call your attention to the fact that Philip Kollas, whom you mention as plaintiff, was my father, who died in 1912. The only Philip Kollas living now, that I know of, is my son, not quite five years old. Neither of them to my knowledge were plaintiffs in this case. The person evidently meant was Albert Kollas. Alphonse Kollas.

Golf Club Plans Dormant

The proposed Hood River golf club has been temporarily abandoned, and members of a committee, who until last week were going forward with plans for the control by option and purchase of 60 acres of land west of the city owned by Mrs. M. Sue Henderson, say that no course will be available here this summer at least. While it was originally decided that the proposed club would be able to meet financial requirements with a minimum membership of 50, each pledging $100 for launching the organization, the minimum was increased to 80.

With some of the original 50 signers of the club roster displaying a lukewarm attitude, the committee found the task of signing 30 additional members a vain one, and the plans were dropped.

LITTLE RED STRING MAILED BY PAPER

Little bills are easily forgotten. While in the aggregate money owing for subscriptions soon reaches no mean sum, from the view of the rural editor and publisher, the individual debt is comparatively small and the subscriber often forgets it and allows it to lapse indefinitely.

A local merchant, whose home was formerly in New York state, and who although he has resided here for two decades, still reads each week with keen interest his old home town paper, received the other day a unique method of refreshing the memory of subscribers. Attached with a little red sticker was a red string. The letter was as follows:

"Do you remember how, when you were young and your good folks sent you down town after something, they were likely to tie a string about your thumb to make certain you would not forget?"

"But—there's no reason why the days of now should not be as happy as it is just as certain that some of us are today. We find that the little things of today."

"Because of that we are sending you this little reminder—not to forget to pay—the account due. We hope you enjoy it the smile in our letter and that we may have the pleasure of hearing from you promptly."

C. G. C. Makes Suggestions

The Oak Grove Corner Grocery Store club has decided to place a battery of electric fans at the first Mountain to furnish the State Highway Commission a chinook whenever desired, not only to clear the Columbia River Highway but keep it open. During the months of June, July and August sufficient hot air from the North Highway can be stored under Wind Mountain to operate the fans all winter.

The service will be charged for at a small percentage above cost, that a fund may be provided to pay for bond certificates that the Hood River club and busses may be able to operate outside the corporation limits. Biskof, the Chicago finance wizard, has our stocks and bonds listed. We expect to pay a liberal bonus for any suggestions for the improvements on our plans and operation, if adopted. C. G. L., Sec'y.

Swick Says Weather Is Ideal

William Swick, West Side orchardist, who owns a large pear acreage, says that weather conditions, although somewhat unpleasant for the population, have been ideal for fruit the past winter.

"No apple grower," says Mr. Swick, "ought to complain about the weather. Our valley depends on the fruit industry. This continued fall of snow has been an excellent thing for the apple and pear crop. I have never seen trees looking any better. Indeed, we will be better off if the comparatively cold weather and continued snow prevail for a while."

Growers generally, while they are delayed in their pruning and other orchard work, express the opinion that the winter season will be beneficial to orchards.

High School Five Seeks Games

Following a fairly successful close of the schedule with mid-Columbia teams, the Hood River high school basketball team, according to Coach Fleischman, is seeking games with Portland and other outside teams. With the dates, February 24 and 25 and March 3 and 4 open, Mr. Fleischman says his team is ready to meet any team that is a member of the Oregon Interscholastic Association.

"We feel jubilant over our defeat of The Dalles Saturday night," says Mr. Fleischman. "The rival school Friday night, on their floor, defeated us by a one-point margin. On our floor here we won the second of the two-game series by 15 to 12. Hood River took the lead and maintained it throughout the game. Johnson was high point man for Hood River, and Wernmark for The Dalles."

Humphrey Barton Would Aid Golf Club

The necessity of dropping plans for a Hood River golf club for lack of finances would not have arisen, according to Al W. Peters, member of a committee engaged recently on ways and means for raising funds for the organization, had the valley had member Humphrey Barton, St. Paul, Minn., attorney, who owns local orchard acreage. Mr. Peters has received a letter from Mr. Barton, who, without solicitation offered to become a charter member and aid in financing the sport.

They Appeal to Our Sympathies

The bilious and dyspeptic are constant sufferers and appeal to our sympathies. Many such, however, have been completely restored to health by the use of Chamberlain's Tablets. These tablets strengthen the stomach, invigorate the liver and improve the digestion. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels. When you have any trouble with your stomach, give them a trial.

GOLF COMMITTEE MAKES STATEMENT

Although plans for the organization of a golf club here have been temporarily dropped, members of a committee working on the proposed club say they eventually hope to formulate ways and means of financing it.

"Much has been written about the tourist and scenic possibilities of the Hood River valley. We have talked of the day when Hood River would be the Pasadena of the Pacific Northwest. As to our natural resources and undeveloped assets along this line, there can be no question. Every well informed tourist and lover of nature who has visited the valley has unstinted praise and expresses the opinion that Hood River is destined some day to be a mecca for the finest class of tourists in America."

"The establishing of a golf club is just one step in the right direction. The strides which this great outdoor sport has taken in the United States in the past 10 years is beyond the belief of anyone who has not taken the trouble to inform himself. Certain it is that if any one of our hopes along these lines is to be realized, a golf course will have to come very early in our program. The tourists who visit California leave in the city of Los Angeles a million dollars a day. Just a hundredth part of this amount would exceed the entire returns to Hood River valley for apples, pears and strawberries for the year 1921."

"This is not the problem for a handful of golf enthusiasts. It is the serious business of the entire community. Nor is it important what shall be the outcome of this first movement to organize a golf club here. The important thing is, what shall be the attitude and policy of this entire community with reference to the same and orderly development of our possibilities. Shall our light be kept under a bushel, or will we let the world know that here in little Hood River valley nature has bestowed on us a wealth of grandeur and beauty that is not excelled in all this earth. While we are at it let's go to the bottom of the matter and when it has been determined what is best for us and for the entire community, and not any small part of it, let's join forces and go after it."
