PIONEER SPEECHES AT ASBURY CHURCH

"We do not wish to go back to the old ox trains and the tallow dips of pioneer days," said Mrs. Alma L. Howe, in a talk Sunday night at Asbury Methodist church, "but we would be better if we had more of the kindness of heart and brotherly helpfulness of the pioneer day. In those early times the spirit of unselfishness prevailed."

Mrs. Howe was principal speaker at "Pioneer Night," arranged by the Men's club of the church. J. K. Forden presided at the session. Mrs. Howe recalled experiences of members of a wagon train, in which relatives of hers came to Oregon. Her own parents, she stated, came to the state by one of the early trains. She told of the incidents of hardship characterizing the long 2,000-mile journey by the slow ox-drawn prairie schooners. The trip required six months, and the new settlers, arriving in the new land in late fall had to provide themselves for a full year, as the late arrival prevented the harvest of a crop until the second year.

Mrs. Howe cited how the wagon trains in almost all incidents were accompanied by ministers. She told of the constant fear the travelers were in from Indians, but, the speaker declared, much of the trouble with the aborigines might have been eliminated if the whites had understood the Indians better.

Mrs. Howe expressed the belief that the California gold rush in the late 40s had a decided effect on Oregon citizenship. It resulted, she declared, in a culling out process, leaving here the home-loving and taking away the restless spirits who never yet done had an effect on California life leaving it of a more turbulent nature.

It had been anticipated that Rev. G. W. Kennedy, pioneer who came to the state with his parents 60 years ago and who was an early day circuit rider, having traveled 80,000 miles in his work, would give reminiscences of early day life. Mr. Kennedy, however, was ill and unable to attend. Rev. Gabriel Sykes read extracts from a book on pioneer times published by Mr. Kennedy several years ago. Mr. Kennedy prepared a jargon poem for the occasion. The poem, entitled "Nesika Klose Hlahe," follows:

In eighteen hundred and fifty-three, Nika Charco,
Across the pains and mountains grand,
Nika Charco,
Hio Siwash nanich Nika,
Halo white-man milite yaka,
The emigrant journey not yet done,
The prize which he so nobly won,
Was farther towards the setting-sun.

In eighteen hundred and sixty-three, Nika Charco!
Up from Willamette illahe,
Nika Charco,
Hio Siwash milite yaka;
Halo white-man nanich nika;
The miner then with spirit bold,
True pattern of the western mould,
Went eastward to the fields of gold.

In eighteen hundred and seventy-seven, Nika Charco,
Up Columbia's dashing river,
Nika Charco,
Tenas white-man nanich Nika,
Hio wigwam milite yaka,
The pioneers had brought their cattle,
The war-whoop and the war-dance rattle.

In eighteen hundred and eighty-one, Nika Charco,
To this wild Hood River town,
Nika Charco,
Siwash tiliacum hio clatawa,
White-man mome hio wauwau;
Thus the civil empire grows,
Thus this commonwealth arose,
All brothers now, no longer foes.

GUN CLUB NEWS

On account of a large number of the Gun club boys going to Portland to attend the Rose City Hundred shoot, the attendance at the local traps last Sunday was small, and it is safe to say that a few others had their enthusiasm taken away by the hard wind that stayed with us nearly all day and made shooting a hard game. The scores in the different classes are as follows, each member shooting at 25 targets.

Class	Broke	Per Cent
Fred Rand	23	92
Dumbolton	21	84
Loughery	20	80
Button	19	76
Pooley	19	76
Class B
Haviland	19	76
Bishop	19	76
Peters	17	68
Class C
Carl Rand	18	72

The Vogt championship belt went from Marshall to Fred Rand. Next Sunday a free membership in the Gun club will be given to the two non-members making the two highest scores.

Howell Bros. Install "Breaker"

Howell Bros. have installed a unique machine at their shop for breaking in newly rebored automobile cylinders. The cylinders, when the reboring is finished, are bolted to a frame work like the chassis of a car, and are attached to a shaft driven from an overhead pulley. This operation enables the mechanics to detect any irregularity in the reboring, and all adjustments can be made before the cylinders are placed in the automobile.

If you have any kind of auto electrical trouble, R. D. Canby, 1212 Columbia St., where it is and fit it for you or it will cost you nothing if it fails at Cascade Garage.

TEACHER COMMITTEE REPORTS FINDINGS

One of the immediate results of the Hood River County Division of the Oregon State Teachers' Association, which was organized at the county institute recently, was the appointment of a committee on the teacher situation for this county. This committee, composed of Geo. Axtelle, principal of the Pine Grove school and president of the county association; Mrs. Clara Steele, of Barrett; Miss Esther Holtzinger, of Parkdale; Mrs. Grace T. Laraway, of Pine Grove; W. E. Nichol, principal of Odell high school, and Supt. A. M. Cannon, of Hood River, chairman of the committee, made its report after securing information from every school teacher and every board of directors in the county, excepting two schools. In substance the committee reports as follows:

From one-third to one-half of the teachers will leave the county for other positions elsewhere, some of them at better salaries.

No school boards in the county intend to lower the present scale of teachers' salaries.

Some school boards are prepared and willing to pay even better salaries for better teachers. "A dollar of salary for a dollar of service" is the motto.

There is little or no sentiment outside school circles to lower teachers' salaries.

All persons interviewed, both board members and patrons, expressed firm conviction that nothing should be done to lower the present efficiency of the schools; but that better teachers and better equipment should be had whenever and wherever possible to raise the standard already maintained in Hood River county.

JUDGE CASTNER SEEKS HIGH G. A. R. OFFICE

Judge Geo. R. Castner, who with his bride has just returned from a visit in southern California, has announced his active candidacy for the command of the Oregon Department, G. A. R., at the annual election to be held at the state encampment at Newport in June. Judge Castner, past commander of the local Grand Army Post, a pioneer horticulturist and for many years prominent in public life here, served through the war in a Michigan regiment. He was persuaded to make the trip to the department command by his comrades here and at other posts.

"Replies from various posts to whom we as a body recently communicated," said Judge Castner, "indicates that Judge Castner has a strong statewide support."

MORGAN HAS BEEN FIREMAN 25 YEARS

City Fire Marshal L. G. Morgan last Thursday celebrated the 25th anniversary of becoming a member of a volunteer fire department. He began his activities as a fire fighter at Marceline, Mo. Mr. Morgan has been a member of the local volunteer fire company since its organization in 1904. As fire marshal he has worked incessantly for the elimination of fire hazards. During the past year the city's fire loss has been limited to only one blaze that caused heavy loss. That occurred last fall at the old junior high school building burned.

Deputy State Fire Marshals Stokes, Gleason and Sykes, here on inspection work, in congratulating Mr. Morgan on his 25 years as a fireman, complimented him on the work he has conducted here in cleaning up fire hazards.

FOREST PROTECTION WEEK, APRIL 16-22

In celebration of Forest Protection Week, President Harding has issued the following proclamation:

Whereas, the protection and perpetuation of our forests are vital to our continued industrial welfare and national strength and to our individual health, comfort and prosperity, and

Whereas, a period of 50 years has passed since in April, 1872, there was instituted in the state of Nebraska observance of a day especially set apart and consecrated for tree planting and known as Arbor day, and

Whereas, both through widespread annual celebration of Arbor day and through the increasing observance of Forest Protection Week public attention has been commendably directed to the value of trees, the unnecessary waste of our diminishing forests through preventable fires, the deplorable effects of forest devastation and the need for remedial measures against depletion of an essential natural resource,

Therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, do urge upon the governors of the various states to designate and set apart the week of April 16-22, 1922, as Forest Protection Week and the last day of that week, April 22, as the golden anniversary of Arbor day, and to request officers of public instruction of counties, cities and towns and of civic and commercial organizations to unite in thought and action for the preservation of our common heritage by planning such educational and instructive exercises as shall bring before the people the disastrous effects of the present waste by forest fires and the need of individual and collective effort to conserve the forests and increase our tree growth for ornament and use.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done in the District of Columbia, this 21st day of March, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-two and of the Independence of the United States of America the One Hundred and Forty-sixth.

Warren G. Harding.

NUMEROUS ENGLISH MINISTERS EXPLAINED

"I have often wondered," said J. R. Forden, presiding the other night at a session of the Men's club, an organization of Asbury Methodist church, "why we have so many English preachers out here. Perhaps it is that they wish to come among us as pioneers in ideas."

The coming of the young English clergymen, however, was explained by Rev. Gabriel Sykes, himself an Englishman.

"While over in Pullman, Wash.," said Mr. Sykes, "I became superintendent of a district. I found that I did not have enough ministers to go around. I communicated with eastern churchmen, and found that they were not willing to come to the northwest unless they could find things 'so and so.' I wrote back that we could offer them unlimited opportunities, but that I was afraid that we couldn't furnish the 'so and so.' I happened then to think of England and I sent an advertisement to a paper that I knew there, seeking young ministers who wished new opportunities but who would not expect things 'so and so.' I soon had a lot of young English preachers with me."

"Here in the northwest we have been so busy doing other things, in developing the wonderful resources of our country, that we haven't had time to develop preachers. We have been behind in this duty."

Hicks is Deputy Fruit Inspector

J. W. Hicks has been appointed temporary deputy fruit inspector by the county court. Mr. Hicks has charge of nursery stock inspections and will officiate during strawberry season in case a permanent appointment is not made.

Judge Hasbrouck states that the court is seeking the services of a skilled horticulturist to succeed M. D. Armstrong who recently resigned to accept a more lucrative position with the Washington state department of agriculture.
