Williams a Joke as Vice-Chairman

Fithian's opponent, Ralph E. Williams, has been sidetracked by the National Committee to a harmless vice-chairmanship and is useless to Oregon. Carrying kid gloves in one hand and a cane in the other, his hands are full and he has not been able to do a single thing for Oregon during the 14 years he has been on the Committee.

If the hours spent by Williams at Portland's swellest club had been devoted to working for Oregon, he might have accomplished something for our people.

What is Wrong with Williams?

Williams has no chance of becoming National Chairman and running the presidential campaign in 1924, or even the Western end of it.

The reason is that the National Committee seems extremely unwilling to trust Williams with the management of even the Pacific Coast part of the national campaigns. For instance, in 1918, when a Regional Director for the Coast was selected, the Committee turned Williams down in favor of Raymond Benjamin of San Francisco. Then, in 1920, when Harding was running, Williams was again ignored and Elmer E. Dover of Tacoma was chosen to conduct the Campaign on the Coast. What is wrong with Williams?

Is Williams Loyal to Nominees?

All over Oregon Republicans are discussing Williams' connection with the campaigns of certain Republican nominees for United States senator, and are asking the question, DID WILLIAMS DO HIS FULL DUTY BY THEM? This question is being asked by friends of the late Senator Fulton in Astoria. It is being asked in Eugene by friends of Senator R. A. Booth, in Salem by friends of Senator McNary and in Portland by friends of Senator Stanfield.

VOTE FOR FITHIAN

FITHIAN is a successful business man, a live wire, a lifelong Republican who WILL BE LOYAL TO THE REPUBLICAN NOMINEES. FITHIAN WILL GET THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE AND THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT TO HUSTLE FOR OREGON.

SYNOD CELEBRATES DIAMOND JUBILEE

In celebration Sunday of the 75th or Diamond jubilee anniversary of the organization of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, of Missouri, Rev. P. Hilgendorf, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran church of this city cited that the religious organization had its origin in the persecutions of Prussian kings. The Lutheran church during the war, Mr. Hilgendorf declared, was unjustly characterized as being pro-German. In fact, he declared, the church leaders and its members, through knowledge gained through the bitterness of persecution, has ever been hostile to the House of Hohenzollern and displayed sincere American loyalty during the great war.

"In the spring of 1847," said Mr. Hilgendorf in opening his sermon, "twenty-three Lutheran pastors and a dozen lay delegates met in Chicago, then a town of 20,000 inhabitants. That group of men organized the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Missouri, Ohio and other states, now the largest individual Lutheran Synod in existence. It is generally referred to as the Missouri Synod."

Mr. Hilgendorf then cited how in 1817 Frederick William III, of Prussia, by royal proclamation, ordered the Lutheran and Reformed churches to unite under state dominion. Lutherans, who interpreted literally the words of Christ in regard to the communion, refused to submit to the edict, and as a result were cruelly persecuted.

"The real beginning of the Missouri Synod was in Dresden, where was located the congregation of Pastor Martin Stephan, who fearlessly opposed the union of the Lutheran and Reformed churches," said Mr. Hilgendorf. "His firm stand brought him in for great trouble with the government and he was put on the black list. Members of the Lutheran church were driven into the state church by soldiers with fixed bayonets. Frequent arrests and believers were jailed. After innumerable appeals they were given privilege of immigrating. Their property was returned, but they were forced to sell immediately at a great sacrifice. An emigration society was formed. My great grandfather gave $1,000 to this organization for aiding the poor."

"Actual emigration did not begin until 1838. Five ships for New Orleans were chartered. There had been some talk of settling in Australia, but America was finally chosen. The parties embarked at Bremen, numbering approximately 750 men, women and children. One of the ships, the Amalia, was lost at sea, none of her crew or passengers ever having been sighted again. The other four arrived in New Orleans in December, 1838, and January, 1839. The weary pilgrims proceeded up the Mississippi to St. Louis. They purchased 4,440 acres of land in Perry county, Missouri. These folk, who 10 years later took the lead in organizing the Missouri Synod, did not come to America as beggars, although many of them left the homeland at great financial loss. The party consisted not only of Saxon weavers and stocking makers but many merchants, men of the medical profession, jurists, artists and officers of civil government.

"The first experience in their new home was to be a bitter one, but withal a blessing in disguise. In a strange land, confronted by the difficulties of a primeval forest and frontier life, Stephen, their near idolized leader, was exposed as a dishonest character, and when he was unwilling to repent was thrown out of the settlement. Those were troublesome days, but the settlers came forth all the more firmly grounded in faith.

"At once Pastor C. F. W. Walther, one of the younger immigrant pastors, rose to leadership. During the 75 years that have elapsed since he was the first president, the Synod has shown a wonderful growth. Its pastors have increased from the original 12 to 2,900; its congregations from 15 represented in Chicago on the day of the organization to 3,900, with 1,000 additional preaching stations. It has 1,310 parish schools, which are attended by over 73,000 children. The Synod owns and controls 14 colleges and seminaries. The membership of our Synod embraces more than 1,000,000 souls in all parts of the United States and Canada, and together with other synods cooperating with us in doctrine, it forms the largest Lutheran body in the world."

Mr. Hilgendorf stated that mission work was being conducted in every state in the Union except South Carolina. Extensive work is being conducted among the negroes. Foreign missions have been inaugurated in Brazil and Argentina. The organization operates 15 hospitals and two sanitariums, which have a property value of $4,087,000. Some 22,000 patients are treated at these, much of the work being pure charity. Nine orphan homes valued at $550,000 shelter 650 children. Thirteen home-finding societies gather up some 200 waifs a year and place them in Christian homes for adoption. Our Synod has two training schools for children, a school for deaf mutes, and other institutions of mercy for the poor and afflicted. Nine homes for the aged take care of some 400 helpless old people. During the past year the Synod has spent $1,948,716 for charitable purposes.

Mr. Hilgendorf's father, Rev. J. Hilgendorf, a veteran pastor of the church, who makes his home here, was for many years vice president of the Synod. He resigned because his hearing had become defective.

HOTEL MEN WANT SPUR ROAD AT ONCE

A resolution urging the forest service to build as soon as possible a spur road from the Mount Hood loop to the Cloud Cap Inn region has been adopted by the Oregon Hotel Association, according to T. H. Sherrard, supervisor of the Oregon National Forest.

Holding that the beauty of the Mount Hood country is such that it is desirable that a road be built into those sections before improvements are made on existing hotel facilities, the last paragraph of the resolution reads as follows:

"Be it resolved: That it is the sense of this association that the key to the present economic situation is not the immediate expansion of existing hotel facilities, but rather the immediate construction of a properly located branch road of moderate grade, leading from the Loop road to the Cloud Cap Inn region, and that the forest service be and is hereby urged to construct such a road at the earliest possible moment."

The hotel company, according to Sherrard, first should build the road, after which the necessary improvements could be made. In previous similar cases, the procedure always has been for the forest service to withhold its aid until the projected improvements had been completed, Mr. Sherrard states, and to construct the spur road now would be to violate precedent to no appreciable purpose, he said.

Albert Weisendanger, of the United States Forestry Service, who has charge of the Eagle Creek camp ground, will deliver a lecture at the Upper Valley United church at Parkdale Friday evening on fire prevention. The address will be illustrated with stereoscopic views of mountain scenery.

REPUBLICANS!

Shall Oregon continue to hold the pre-eminence that is now hers?

Shall she forge ahead as a leader in the Republican party?

Answer "Yes!"—Vote X13 for Ralph E. Williams for Republican National Committeeman

IN the presidential election of 1916 when there was dissension and division everywhere, Oregon was the only state west of the Missouri river to go Republican. Harmony!

Progressives and Republicans united in giving credit for this remarkable achievement to Ralph E. Williams, National Committeeman since 1908.

In recognition of this and other services, Ralph Williams was elected vice-chairman, the second highest honor within the power of the Republican National Committee to bestow. It is a position of influence to be reached only by years of faithful and intelligent service.

Ralph Williams is the first committeeman representative from any western state to be elected to the vice-chairmanship.

Ralph Williams is a veteran of the national organization. He stands at the head with the leaders. A new man would, of custom and necessity, stand at the foot with the followers.

Republican leaders, in Congress and out, are Ralph Williams' friends. This friendship means much to Oregon and the Northwest. Without ostentation Ralph Williams enlists the aid of these leaders for the things the Northwest needs from the national government.
