OPPORTUNITY FOR SUMMER VACATION

Young men who love outdoor life are invited to become the guests of Uncle Sam from July 27 to August 25, 1922, at either of the Citizens' Military Training Camps which will be conducted at Camp Lewis and Fort Worden during this period.

The Government will provide transportation to and from camp, board, lodging, medical attention, uniforms, equipment, arms, ammunition, laundry, athletics, recreation and religious service privileges in the various creeds.
Applications for the Red Cross, which requires no previous military experience, are especially desired.

Successful applicants for these summer outing privileges will incur no obligation for future military service, the purpose of these camps being to stimulate and promote citizenship, patriotism and Americanism, besides returning these young men to their homes physically benefited through expert physical direction and athletic coaching.

The age limit is 17 to 27 years, ex-service men to 35 years.

Almost any average healthy young man can meet the physical requirements for admission to these camps.
Applications must be in on or before May 31. For necessary information folders, write Chief of Staff, 96th Division, Portland, Oregon, Room 323 New Post Office Building.

Radio Rex Latest Toy

Radio toys are coming to be the rage.
The latest thing seen here, called "Radio Rex," was shown last week by Cecil Lafferty at the Franz store. It was a bulldog in a small kennel. The dog's tail was pressed against a trap that was released by an arrangement on the side of the kennel, agitated by vibration of the voice. When one cried, "Here, Rex!" the bulldog fairly jumped at him.

Evils of Constipation

Perhaps the most serious of the diseases caused by constipation is appendicitis. If you would avoid this dangerous disease, keep your bowels regular. For this purpose Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent, easy to take and mild and gentle in effect.

Careful attention paid to repairing automobiles. Howell Bros., Tel. 2551. 415

ELLIOTT ANNOUNCES EARLY LOOP FINISH

By the middle of next summer the Mount Hood Loop road will be passable for motorists the entire distance from Portland up the Sandy river and thence by the Barlow road around the East Side of the mountain to the Hood River valley and back over the Columbia River Highway. Such was the information given last week by J. A.
Elliott, chief engineer for the Bureau of Public Roads of the Northwestern Department, including Alaska, who had just returned from a tour of inspection of the Hood River end of the 23-mile link of the highway in the Oregon National Forest.

Mr. Elliott, who has supervision of forestry road work, will cost an aggregate of about $15,000,000 this year, declared that he was an enthusiastic over the Mount Hood Loop as any of the many roads under his supervision. He declared that it would add new wonders to Oregon scenery already available to the motorist. Mr.
Elliott, who was stationed here in 1915 in charge of construction of Mitchell's Point tunnel, said:

"The people of Hood River ought to greet with jubilation announcements of the Bureau of Public Roads in hastening the Mount Hood Loop, for the opening of this scenic thoroughfare will attract as many people to the valley as the Columbia River Highway.
It will be a new and climactic chapter in Oregon road building."

"We found that Contractor J. E.
Clarkson, who last year graded six miles within the forest bounds, now has a crew of six men on the new grade engaged in breaking the snow and in opening ditches. Twenty more will be dispatched at once from Portland to make ready for grading the additional 17 miles."

Plans call for completion of the grading this fall, and as soon as the road is open next year bridges will be built. Mr. Elliott says that the most appealing span of the route will be a concrete arch across a small creek, tributary to the East Fork of Hood river. The bridge will set just below a beautiful waterfall. The longest span will be that across the White river. This bridge will probably be of steel construction.

While on the tour of inspection Mr.
Elliott, accompanied by W. G. Peters who will succeed J. E. Andrews as engineer in charge of the work, Mr. Andrews having been dispatched to Missoula, Mont., to take charge of a sub-office, inspected quarries. Two locations for crusher set-ups were chosen. Bids on the rock surfacing of 10 miles of the road will be advertised at once, Mr. Elliott stated.

He was surprised at the way the snow was melting on the high elevations," said Mr. Elliott. "The midday temperature the first of the week was as high as during mid-summer, and one grew uncomfortably hot hiking over trails. Warm winds will melt the snow more rapidly than the sun, now that the crust has softened."

HANNUM IS BUILDING ELABORATE RESORT

J. O. Hannum, former county commissioner, has started on his Upper Valley homestead place, located at a high wooded elevation above Parkland on the Mount Hood Loop Highway, the construction of a summer hotel 123 by 30 feet. Mr. Hannum says that he will equip his hostelry with all modern conveniences.

"I do not propose anything luxurious," he says, "but it will be substantial and comfortable. All rooms will be heated with steam, and in a large living room, we will provide a huge fireplace. We will not attempt to give our guests anything fancy in the eating line but will set our table with plenty of good home-cooked foods."

The new resort will be known as "The Homestead." It is located but a short distance from Coopers Spur.
The American Legion camp is located not far from Mr. Hannum's place.
Several years ago Mr. Hannum offered the Masamans a location on his place for a summer lodge.

POWER CONSTRUCTION MAKES PROSPERITY

The Pacific Power & Light Co. is making active preparations for launching the largest construction project ever undertaken in the Hood River valley. Crews are now engaged on preliminary surveys for a 7,500 horsepower hydro-electric plant, the approximate cost of which will be $1,250,000. The company has just purchased from Evan Evans, of Chicago, a 67-acre orchard place, which includes the Hood river canyon about three miles south of the city. A dam will be constructed there.
A pipeline will extend to a powerhouse site about a half-mile south of the city limits. The orchard place was bought for $30,000.

With several hundred men here on the power construction and road crews in the valley reaching nearly 300, merchants are expecting a prosperous season.

Minstrel Lady Arrested in Portland

Maud Myrtle Johnson, 39, here last week with a minstrel show, known to the police throughout the United States a decade ago as "Queen of the Sakers," was arrested Tuesday in Portland by Police Detective Swennes on a charge of passing bad checks.
She confessed to passing nine checks totaling $223.50 on Portland merchants, according to the police.

Mr. Johnson, whose record and habits are known to railroad claim agents throughout the country, collected a toll of many thousands of dollars through her story to fake injuries while riding on railroad trains. Her downfall came at Vancouver, Wash., in 1912 when she was convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses and was sent to the state penitentiary at Walla Walla for a five-year term.

Whooping Cough

This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age, but when no paregoric, codine or other opiate is given, it can be cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.

ceived by School Dist. No. 4. The wood later than June 10th. A. G. Wing, Clerk

KOBERG'S 20TH CEN-TURY GARDEN BUSY

One of the busiest places in the Hood River valley at the present time is the Twentieth Century Truck Farm, owned by J. H. Koberg, pioneer of the valley, who was an exception to the rule and followed the development of gardens instead of fruits. Mr. Koberg, who has diked in fertile acres along the Columbia east of the city, is now employing 17 people in his gardens. The asparagus season is at its height, and the Twentieth Century, which took the first award at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco in 1915, is forwarding the grass in ton quantities to Northwestern metropolitan centers. The product always demands a premium in the city markets.

Mr. Koberg, one of the leaders in the organization of the Hood River Valley Anti-Asiatic Association, practices what he preaches. All of his help are full blooded Americans. Mr. Koberg is not a believer in the federal free seeds, distributed annually by congressmen. He says:

"Progressive business men and farmers are always looking for something better. It is especially so with us gardeners, who wish to improve our seed. While we wouldn't give five cents per pound for Uncle Sam's free seeds, we have just paid at the rate of $50 per pound for some tomato seed.
We have developed a tomato excellent for our purposes, calling it the Hood River Special. If we can secure a tomato that will ripen 10 days or two weeks earlier and still retain its quality, we will have a gold mine. We have secured some highly developed foreign seeds, which we have mixed with ours this year. These are being distributed among our city garden friends."

In order to increase an interest among the vacant lot gardeners, Mr.
Koberg has offered a prize of $2.50 for the season's first ripe tomato grown from his plants.

Barber Praises Morgan

State Fire Marshal A. C. Barber has written here asking the city council to continue the office of fire marshal, the work of this department, according to the letter, having been of a high character. The letter praises the personal record of City Fire Marshal L. G. Morgan, and Mr. Barber declares that he would regret to see a change.

The city government, however, it is announced, has decided to make E. R.
Bradley, who has charge of the fire station during the night shift, fire marshal, in order to effect economy.

Fire Department Is Fast

The Volunteer Fire Department made short work of the season's first roof fire discovered at 8 o'clock last Thursday morning at the Tum-A-Lum Lumber Company's office. The department was on the scene in three minutes with its motor engine, and the blaze was extinguished with a chemical hose before the fire had gained any great headway.

ONE PRICE TO ALL

To correct an erroneous impression to the effect that Grange members buy for less from us, that has somehow gained credence among a few, we wish to announce that the Grange Cooperative Store has one price.
We sell for exactly the same money to to Grangers, city residents, country folk and all others.

Thru our affiliation with a large Grange buying agency and our elimination of the expense of bookkeeping and delivery, we are able to sell our goods for less than the business organization that must necessarily bear all of these items of overhead expense.

We will appreciate having you call and get acquainted.
