THE PAVING CELEBRATION

When the Hauser Construction Co. pours the last truckload of hotstuff on the Rowena section of the Columbia River Highway east of Mosier, the residents of The Dalles propose to stage a celebration memorializing the completion of more than 200 miles of paved thoroughfare from the Pacific ocean to the vast expanses of eastern Oregon.

But we of Hood River should feel a little ashamed of ourselves in our apathy over some 1,000 feet of unpaved highway at the west edge of town. As long as this bit of city street remains unsurfaced, it cannot be truthfully said that an unbroken paving extends from Astoria to The Dalles.

Frankly, we believe the city stretches should be considered, insofar as the paving goes, as state highways, and that state funds should be expended in the paving of them.

The argument may be advanced by other sections that Hood River cannot gracefully ask for such state aid in view of past benefactions. It is true that the valley has been peculiarly fortunate because of strategic position.

Be careful. This is the season of firecrackers. Let's play safe and not have any burned homes, or mangled hands, or burned faces or sightless eyes.

A SON OF HIS FATHER

Amos Benson has purchased the Columbia Gorge Hotel. He will give his personal attention to the development of the magnificent tourist hostelry.

S. Benson, builder of the great tourist resort and father of the Columbia River Highway, will continue to make his summer home in the valley. He will continue his kindly interest in our region, and will give us the benefit of his advice on matters of good roads and civic problems.

Amos S. Benson is the son of his father. His absorbing interest is centered in the development of the great Oregon out of doors through the construction of highways.

Company C boys will arrive home tomorrow. Give them a rousing welcome.

from the Lost Lake country fully determined to go there again after the snow banks have disappeared and when the summer sun shimmers on the bosom of the placid lake, mirroring the snow fields of Mount Hood.

Amos S. Benson has become a leading booster for the Yakima-Glenwood highway. To this also he has donated $250. He realizes the value of such a route to the Hood River valley.

We beg to disagree. We can have mid-summer snowfield sports on the slopes of our own Mount Hood. The Hood River American Legion Post, in its annual Mount Hood Climb, is endeavoring to make known such possibilities to the American people.

The Hood River Legion Post is not merely offering an opportunity for pleasant recreation to people of the nation. Their activity is going to bring new popularization of old Mount Hood.

THE CHAUTAUQUA

The annual chautauqua begins tomorrow. It is not necessary here any longer to appeal to Hood River folk to patronize these annual programs of entertainment and education.

THE GRANGE CELEBRATION

Usually Fourth of July celebrations here are under auspices of some city organization. This year the residents of the rural districts of the West Side are in charge.

BE CAREFUL

Be careful. This is the season of firecrackers. Let's play safe and not have any burned homes, or mangled hands, or burned faces or sightless eyes.

Sunday The Dalles, with its Kiwanis Club in charge, will celebrate completion of the Columbia River Highway paving from the Pacific to the heart of Wasco county.

A cigarette stump last week almost resulted in a serious forest fire in the Upper Valley. If you are a thoughtless or indifferent individual, you should be made to placard yourself when you enter a northwestern forest.

Pack up the car with a picnic lunch and join The Dalles folk Sunday in a celebration of a paved Columbia River Highway from the Pacific to Wasco county capital.
