RED CROSS WORK AMONG BOLSHEVIKS

Dr. W. D. Nickelsen, who is now district physician for the American Red Cross Association at Moscow, in a letter home says conditions are showing improvement in the hunger-stricken land of Bolsheviki. Prospects seem brighter for crop production next year, and it is likely that American aid will soon be withdrawn. Dr. Nickelsen frequently received mention recently by Elinor Franklin Egan, noted woman writer, a series of whose articles on Russian conditions has been running in the Saturday Evening Post.

Dr. Nickelsen in the letter to his parents, written the latter part of June, enclosed one of his monthly medical and sanitary reports. He says: "There has been practically no change in the sanitary condition of the Moscow district except for considerable improvement in street paving and gutters. Housing facilities are somewhat better than last month, because everyone who could afford it has moved to dachas in the country for the summer months. Food prices show a tendency to decrease. The price of flour has dropped from 15,000 rubles per pud to 10,000.

"The matter of clothing is not so serious now as the warm weather has come and only light weight clothing is needed. Children, girls and many women go barefooted in the streets, saving the footwear for colder days. Soap and fuel are exceedingly scarce, and it is next to impossible to keep the clothing clean."

Dr. Nickelsen tells of many interesting visits to public institutions in Moscow. He declares the home for superannuated actors in Sokolniki park, a huge wooded area, formerly a favorite hunting place of the czars, one of the most unique places inspected. The Red Cross has been supplying the home with drugs. The inmates supply their own food wants by raising vegetables and food stuffs on the grounds.

"A very interesting but at the same time very gloomy and pitiful place was the Central Prison Hospital," writes Dr. Nickelsen. "It is the largest prison hospital in Russia and has patients from all over the country and from most nations of the world. The food is the worst I have seen anywhere and as a result much scurvy results. One Chinaman, formerly a cook on a British vessel, had a sunken jaw. When I questioned him he told me he had had scurvy in the prison. He went to his bed and returned with almost a third of his lower jaw which had dropped out as a result of the terrible condition."

"Olginsky Children's hospital, located alongside a large park, impresses one with the benefits to be derived from sunlight in the treatment of tuberculosis of the skin."

"Our bathing campaign is on in full swing. Each child is given a wooden pail full of warm water in a steaming room. Each is supplied with a small bar of soap and a handful of excelsior. They work the lather over their bodies and then two pails of water are dashed over them. On the morning of a recent inspection 750 children passed through a bath house at which we visited. The total number in all of Moscow that morning reached 37,000. This number will increase rapidly from now on. We noted many of the freshly bathed kiddies in line for food kitchens. They were certainly a different appearing group from the former dirty bits of humanity and all with shining, smiling faces greeted us with, 'Bani-bolshevo spassibo'—'Bath—many thanks!'"

White Salmon Boy Passes

Charles Morris, 10-year-old White Salmon boy, died at the Cottage hospital Friday. The child was operated on the Saturday before for removal of his tonsils. Death resulted from infection of the wounds in his throat.

With C. C. Anderson in charge, the funeral was held Sunday from the Methodist church at White Salmon.

Notice of Sheriff's Sale

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Hood River County. C. D. Henrichs, W. J. Henrichs and Lenora B. Larson, Plaintiffs, vs. George L. Slocum, Zoloto C. Slocum and Sanburn Vail & Co., a Corporation, Defendants.

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with an execution and order of sale issued out of the above entitled court by the clerk thereof, dated the 26th day of July, 1922, to me directed, on a decree of foreclosure in favor of the plaintiffs, C. D. Henrichs, W. J. Henrichs and Lenora B. Larson, against the defendants, George L. Slocum, Zoloto C. Slocum and Sanburn Vail & Co., a Corporation, entered the 26th day of July, 1922, wherein the said plaintiffs recovered judgment against the defendants, George L. Slocum and Zoloto C. Slocum for the sum of $800, with interest on the sum of $100 at the rate of eight per cent per annum from the 14th day of December, 1915, and interest on the sum of $700 at the rate of eight per cent per annum since the 14th day of June, 1917, and for interest on the sum of $300 at the rate of eight per cent per annum since the 14th day of December, 1915, and for interest on the sum of $200 at the rate of eight per cent per annum since the 14th day of September, 1915, and for interest on the sum of $100 at the rate of eight per cent per annum since the 14th day of December, 1915, together with the further sum of $100 attorney's fees and for plaintiffs' costs and disbursements, taxed at $45.90, and for the foreclosure of plaintiffs' said mortgage in said suit described:

I will on Saturday, the 26th day of August, 1922, at eleven o'clock a. m., at the front door of the court house, in the City of Hood River, Oregon, sell at public auction to the highest bidder, cash in hand, all the right, title and interest which the said defendants, George L. Slocum, Zoloto C. Slocum and Sanburn Vail & Co., a Corporation, had on the 14th day of March, 1907, or have since acquired in and to the following described real property in Hood River County, Oregon, to-wit:

Lot 8 in Block 19, Hood River Property, situated in the City of Hood River, Oregon; said property will be sold subject to the usual right of redemption. Dated and first published and posted, this 27th day of July, 1922. jyl

LOOP HIGHWAY IS PRAISED BY FRANZ

Although existing road conditions, resulting from the construction of the valley trunk of the Mount Hood Loop Highway, make the 23-mile journey to the bounds of the Oregon national forest difficult, Earl Franz, just back from a week's vacation with a party on the East Fork of Hood river, declares the completed portion of the Mount Hood Loop Highway in the forest marvellously wonderful.

"I have sufficient adjectives of the superlative type on my tongue's end to begin to describe the new road," says Mr. Franz, "but I want to say that it will open a country as picturesque as anything on the Columbia River Highway. The road follows the gorge of the East Fork of Hood river for some six or seven miles, and motorists in the coming few years are going to penetrate that region by the thousands. All that is needed is the connecting road. When once they are started old Mount Hood will be as popular as Multnomah Falls is today. Instead of taking friends on a little jaunt up the Columbia Highway, Portland folk will roll on up through the Hood River valley to the snowline on Mount Hood."

Mr. Franz and his party, consisting of his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Franz, Miss Bessie Wittenberg and Earl Weber, camped in a beautiful wooded spot beside the East Fork. They declare that the had phenomenal luck trout fishing. The headwaters of the stream have formerly been too remote except for the hardiest of fishermen, and it has been fished but little. The pools are fairly filled with huge trout.

PARKDALE HAS NEW WATER SYSTEM

Tapping a spring a mile and a quarter west of the town, citizens of Parkdale have begun construction of a $12,000 water system. For two-thirds of the distance an 8-inch main will be used. The pipe will be reduced the balance of the way to six inches. The system will provide water for irrigation of lawns and gardens and domestic use. The spring is located at an elevation of 100 feet greater than the town, and the force from this fall will give the town adequate fire protection. A volunteer fire department will be formed. R. J. Meisaac, C. C. Walton and A. M. Kelly have been named directors of the stock company controlling the system.

The new company is selling $10 shares to finance its operations. Sufficient money has already been subscribed, it is said, to assure success of the venture. The progressive schools of the district will be fully equipped with running water. The school boards were willing to aid in financing the system, but were prevented from participation by legal restrictions.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord

A Real Cord Tire for Small Cars at a Popular Price

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord in the 30 x 3 1/2 inch clincher type is a tire that the small car owner will warmly welcome.

It gives him, at a price lower than the net price he is asked to pay for many "long discount" tires, every advantage of quality cord tire performance, for it is a quality tire through and through.

It is made of high-grade long-staple cotton; it embodies the reliable Goodyear quality of materials; its clean-cut tread engages the road like a cogwheel.

The scientific distribution of rubber in this tread—the wide center rib and the semi-flat contour—gives a thick, broad surface that is exceedingly slow to wear.

The tough tread stock in this tire is carried down the sidewalls clear to the bead, making it rut-proof to an extraordinary degree.

In every particular it is a representative Goodyear product, built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.

Despite its high quality, and the expertness of its construction, it sells at a price as low or lower than that of tires which lack its important features.

The 30 x 3 1/2 inch Cross-Rib Cord clincher $12.50

This price includes manufacturer's excise tax

Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tires are also made in 6, 7 and 8 inch sizes for trucks
