STUDENTS URGED TO BUY SCHOOL BOOKS

For the first time in years the Book and Art Store, handling school books in this county, has secured a full supply of books a week in advance of the opening of school, and all students who know what their needs will be have been urged by school authorities to visit the store at once and secure their books. The store has received two tons of new books.

The close margin of profit on books necessitates their sale for cash. Another rule that is strictly enforced is that no book may be returned after once taken from the store.

GUN CLUB NEWS

(By H. S. Dumbolton)

On August 13 one of the biggest shoots ever held on the grounds of the Hood River Gun Club was staged when 12 men from the Portland Gun Club and four from The Dalles shouldered their muskets and came to Hood River to compete in the team race between Portland and Hood River and a general merchandise shoot open to all shooters. A fine silver trophy cup was given to the winning ten-man team, a pair of high top boots to high gun, a shooting jacket to second high gun, and a pair of leather puttees to third high man. Just to finish a nice list of prizes, a Marble's Safety Hunting axe was given to low man on one of the teams and was won by J. C. Morris, of Portland.

The team race consisted of 50 targets per man, or 500 to the team and was won by the Hood River team, with a score of 448 against Portland's 438. O. N. Ford, of Portland, won first prize with 49 out of 50. Marshall and Gibson, Davenport and Dimmick tied for second prize by busting 47 out of 50 the first ten targets, and the quartet smiled at each other and started in for the real trouble of wearing each other down on a miss and out. Dimmick quit them early in the game but Marshall, Gibson and Davenport annihilated one string of 25 straight and started in on another one. Davenport dropped out on his sixth bird and Marshall on his 12th, leaving Gibson the winner of the second prize. Uden, Dumbolton, Button and Spence tied for third prize with a 46 out of their 50, and in the shoot-off of 25 targets Dumbolton and Button dropped three and eight, respectively, leaving Uden and Spence still tied with 23 each. They got tired of shooting and tossed a coin for the decision, Uden losing to Spence.

In the 50-target match the following list will show some very good scores: Ford 49; Marshall, Gibson, Davenport, Dimmick and Chas. Vogel, 47; Button, Spence, Dumbolton and Uden, 46; Foreman, Anabel and Pooley, 45; Ingram, 44; Frank and Preston, 43; Broadhead, Loughery, Huston and Dawson, 42; Haviland and Carl Rand, 41; Moller, 39; Jaeger, Smith, Peters, Manning and Fred Vogel, 38; Alexander, and Poe, 37; J. C. Morris and Poland, 36; Legg, 27; Bishop, 16x25.

After the 50-target match from the 16-yard line, a 25-target handicap event was introduced, in which two pair of spring fry chickens were put up as prizes for the two high men, and the spectators could see right from the start that those chickens didn't have any show at all. Anabel proved to be the best man in the back yard, and won the first pair of chickens with a straight score of 25 from the 18-yard mark. The second pair of chickens had a harder time to find an owner, as nine shooters tied with a 23 out of the 25. In the shoot-off, miss and out, Marshall proved to be the most consistent shooter and tucking the chickens under his arm, started for home. The individual scores in the event are as follows:

Anabel, 18 yards, 25; J. C. Morris, 16, 23; Haviland, 17, 23; Ingram, 18, 23; Ford, 22, 23; Huston, 17, 23; Gibson, 19, 23; Marshall, 21, 23; Spence, 18, 23; Uden, 17, 23; Foreman, 19, 22; Davenport, 17, 22; Dumbolton, 18, 22; Dimmick, 19, 22; Carl Rand, 18, 19; Loughery, 18, 19; Preston, 19, 19; Legg, 16, 18; Button, 18, 17; Chas. Vogel, 19, 17; Frank, 19, 16; Broadhead, 16, 16.

Who could expect a real live bunch of sportmen to come to a clay target shooting match when both the deer and grouse season open on the same day? Such was the condition at the club last Sunday, but nevertheless a few of the fans that could not go hunting afield had to have something to shoot at and did quite creditable work over the trap.

The second three months' money prize competition closed last Sunday, A. F. Davenport winning the $10 in Class A, and Frank Bishop winning in Class B. We cannot speak too highly of a man like Frank Bishop, who, over three-score and ten years of age, is able to step up to the traps in open competition with a lot of young shooters and win first prize in his class with a general percentage of 82. To say the least, it is a mighty good work.

The Pooley contest, in which a fine Mannlicher, 9MM rifle is to be given as first prize, a shooting jacket as second prize, and a fishing reel for third prize, gives promise of being a most interesting competition as the four leaders in the contest have a difference of only one per cent between them, and some others are so close that they are likely to be at the head before it is over. The scores for the last shoot, shooting at 25 birds, are:

Added target	Men	Broke	Per cent
Dumbolton	0	25	100
Davenport	1	22	92
Frank	1	20	84
Loughery	1	20	84
Haviland	2	20	80
Peters	2	15	68

The Vogt championship belt had easy traveling and was won from Frank by Davenport with a straight run of 15 targets. There will be no regular shoot at the grounds next Sunday.

Koberg Beach Attracts Many

Koberg's Beach, a long stretch of sand bar along the Columbia a little over a mile east of the city, is now daily attracting scores of women and children. Mr. Koberg has developed the beach considerably, having constructed a slide for the children and adequate bath houses. Huge tables have been arranged for the convenience of picnickers.

Sunday an estimated 200 visited the pleasant beach, and as many adults as children enjoyed the swimming. While Mr. Koberg has arranged a net-enclosed area, that is shallow and safe for children, skilled swimmers may plunge in a deep protected cove beside Stanley Rock, a landmark of the mid-Columbia.

The beach is reached by a private road maintained by Mr. Koberg. The way is now in good condition.
