A. Thornsbury, of the Belmont orchard district. Mr. Thornsbury, who is formally listed as assistant in charge of the details of managing the Battle Creek camp, has just received notice of promotion to a lieutenant.

SCHOOL BILL DEBATE TOMORROW NIGHT

Under auspices of the Men's Club of the First Christian church, a debate will be held Friday (tomorrow) evening on the "compulsory" educational bill. Rev. J. B. Lister and F. H. Blagg will uphold the affirmative, while the bill will be opposed by County School Superintendent Gibson and S. J. Moore. The meeting will be enlivened by a program of music, according to F. G. Coe, who is arranging for the session.

SCHOOL NEWS

Friday our eleven will journey to Goldendale to meet the high school bunch there. This will be one of our hardest games. If we win it we shall be in good trim to meet The Dalles Armistice Day. The report cards covering the first six weeks of actual school were given out Wednesday to all pupils from school to Coe primary inclusive. The parents are urged to inspect these cards closely and encourage their children to do the best possible school work. Not over 12 per cent of the high school students were absent during the apple-picking season, and most of these are back in school now. This shows the highest percentage of attendance during this rush period for the past several years. For many years an iron fire-escape has been stored in the basement of the Coe school building. Supt. Cannon dug this out from the rubbish and had it installed on the new junior high building.

SCHOOL NEWS

The annual teachers' dinner at the Columbia Gorge Hotel was held last Friday night. There were 37 city teachers and members of the school board present. Short addresses were made by Dr. V. R. Abraham, chairman of the school board, J. W. Crites, principal of the high school, and Supt. A. M. Cannon. After the feast and speaking the evening was spent in music, dancing and other sociability. Friday night the senior class will give the first class party at the high school auditorium, to which the parents of students are invited and urged to be present. Each class in turn will give one party per year to all high school students and their parents. The paper drive by the pupils of Park Street school will close this week. They are not permitted to make a house to house canvass because of the annoyance. However, if you have old papers or magazines for them, please call the school and give your name and address; the pupils will then come or send for your bundles. Thank you.

CENTRAL VALE

Such a beautiful world just now, with the brilliant autumn foliage and warm sunshine. Mr. Shultz, Mrs. Fawbush's father, who has been here from Kansas during the summer, met with a near accident last week. In taking a load of apples to Odell he met a truck and one of the horses jumped when the horn sounded, breaking the tongue of the wagon. Fortunately the wagon struck a rock which kept it from going over the Massee grade. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Moss. They have broken up house-keeping and Mr. Smith will go to southern Oregon soon, where he will be engaged in evangelistic work. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Thompson's little daughter, Bay Helen, met with a painful accident last week. She was carrying a glass jar and fell, breaking it, and cut a bad gash in her hand. The doctor had to take three stitches in it. There is tragedy and comedy in the work of the apple harvest as well as on the stage. When a rack broke, containing 12 nicely packed boxes and precipitated them all on the floor scattered in all directions, that was a comedy. When a Sunkey helping to load apples on a wagon suddenly made a dash for out of doors, frantically tearing off his clothing, having ignited his cigarette matches, that was a tragedy, which might have been a tragedy. O. H. Hill, Harry Furrow and William Sheppard drove to Ballock for a day's goose hunting and never saw a goose. Esther Thelman fell from a tree and hurt her hip so that she was unable to walk for a few days. The doctor pronounced no bones broken, just badly bruised. She has recovered enough to attend school again.

Registration 3,361

A complete compilation by County Clerk Shoemaker shows Hood River's registered voters to number 3,361. They are segregated as follows: Republicans, 2,384; Democrats, 803; Miscellaneous, 274. The registration is the highest in the county, former high figures having been 3,174.

Children's Skepticism Denied

Rev. C. R. Delepine, in a strong sermon at the First Baptist church last week, denied the modern tendency of youth toward skepticism. He declared that children have a need for greater teaching and reverence of the Bible. The full text of Mr. Delepine's sermon will be given next week.
