HOTEL ASSOCIATION PAYS VALLEY VISIT

The Oregon Hotel Association dispatched 40 members on a "look and eat" party over the Columbia River Highway, Tuesday. Headed by F. W. Beach, editor and manager of the Pacific Northwest Hotel News, the party arrived at 2 p. m. at the Columbia Gorge camp of Samuel C. Lancaster, who served a sumptuous luncheon. Miss May Davidson, manager of the Hotel Oregon, and Mrs. Geo. H. McMullen piloted the visitors here, where they again feasted at 4 p. m. on baked Spitzberg apples, each apple laden with rich whipped cream, cake and coffee, compliments of the Hotel Oregon and the Pheasant.

Following the mid-afternoon repast, the junketers, who were accompanied by Heck Church, prominent San Francisco hotel man, were piloted by E. O. Blanchard on a tour of the West Side orchard district, where they inspected the new golf course of the Hood River Country Club and returned to the Columbia Gorge Hotel by the new Country Club Drive. A banquet was served at the big hotel at 7 p. m. The party indulged in an informal dance after the dinner.

Mr. Lancaster informed his guests that his camp, which has won much renown during the short period it has been open, would continue regular service until November 15. Special Thanksgiving and Christmas service will be offered. Mr. Lancaster stated that the camp would open May 1, 1923, and that as a feature the abutments of the Bridge of the Gods would be lighted semi-monthly and a program, similar to that initiated recently when Geo. Palmer Putnam's "rough writers" were here, would be carried out.

Dorsey B. Smith, president of the Tyroll Trips, who will leave soon for Chicago and New York City, where he will spend the winter in the interest of Oregon tours, stated that his concern had sent 2,500 tourists into the valley this past year. Next year it is planned to increase this number materially. Tourists will stop five days in Portland instead of two, and two of these days will be spent on the Columbia River Highway. The visitors will be taken to Celilo Falls and returned to Hood River hotels on the first day. The next day they will cross the Hood River orchard district and motor to Cold Cap Inn or Coopers Spur.

Mr. Smith was invited to come here at an early date and address the Tuesday Lunch Club.

At the Columbia Gorge banquet an address was made by Leslie Botler, who told of the numerous scenic attractions of the Hood River Valley.

WOLF RIVERS TO GO TO ANDY GUMP

A feature of the celebration of National Apple Week, being promoted for next week by the International Apple Shippers' Association, will be the presentation by the Apple Growers Association of a box of selected Wolf River apples to Hon. Andrew Gump, the state's most popular candidate at large for Congress. E. F. Clark, sales manager of the Association, has already composed the following letter to Col. Bush, of Bull Run, Mr. Gump's campaign manager.

"Col. A. W. Stone, our general manager, and I consider it a rare privilege to be able to couple up this country-wide celebration of our national fruit with the candidacy of Mr. Gump. We trust that you will have a photograph made, showing Mr. Gump lifting the first magnificent Wolf River from the box. We will consider that our apples have never been so honored, although they have fed potatoes and princes. We contemplate with what joy Little Chester will display a Wolf River at school, and perhaps reward the friendship of some little playmate. Mrs. Gump, your candidate's beloved 'Min', will experience new delights in baking them. You may find a need for some of these apples in your campaign. We have had our inspectors, Mr. W. J. A. Baker and Mr. Marsh Isenberg, select several boxes, and we will be glad to dispatch them to you if you desire.

"We are for Mr. Gump strong here in Hood River. We admire a man who is 100 per cent for the people and who wears no man's collar."

It may be explained that the Wolf River is one of the largest varieties of apples known. It is familiarly known to the apple trade as the "tree punkin'."

Articles From Africa Displayed

Mrs. Susie I. Lynn, who has just received the articles from her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Byerlee, who are located at Bolenge, Congo Belge, Africa, in missionary work, has displayed at the First National Bank a lot of articles woven by natives from grasses. The display, which includes a bracelet, made from stiff hairs plucked from the tails of elephants, has created a great deal of interest. Hairs in the ends of elephants' tails, it is declared, are considered as lucky by the native Africans as Afro-Americans consider the left hind feet of rabbits, whose habitat is a graveyard.

Sunday, October 29, Marie Prevost in "Her Night of Nights." Also one reel comedy.

A. S. Kolstad arrived in Hood River Saturday morning about 2 a. m. very tired but with content for all the big road shows at the season in his jeans. Geo. Hood, personal representative of the Klaw & Erlanger interests, will hereafter represent the Rialto theatre in Seattle, assuring this theatre the refusal of every road show that plays the Helling theatre in Portland. Mr. Hood will see that all the biggest and best dramatic and musical attractions are presented in Hood River as long as they are well supported. Last winter many of the shows had to close as the weather conditions were so terrible on the coast, but this winter promises many banner attractions in the territory and with the deal just put over the Rialto will have a representative in Seattle who will see that all the big attractions are routed into Hood River as long as business will justify their showing here.

Owing to the short distance from Portland many of the shows routed from the north will make Hood River their farthest eastern Oregon showing as there will not be time for them to play any other eastern Oregon town, as the shows coming from the north to Portland jump south immediately to Eugene or Medford and then to San Francisco, but with arrangements just completed the Rialto is assured of a chance to book everything.

TRIAL SHIPMENT IS SENT TO ARGENTINE

A shipment of 25 boxes of Newtowns and 15 boxes of Spitzberg apples from Portland to Buenos Aires aboard the steamer West Katan may revolutionize the movement of Pacific Northwest apples to South America. The test shipment is being made in order to determine if the apples will carry to the Argentine without refrigeration by Pacific coastwise vessels.

In former years apples and pears destined for Buenos Aires, a profitable market before the great war, have been shipped to New York City and routed by boat from there. If the trial shipment furnished by the Association reaches its destination in good condition it is expected that a large export business in local fruits may follow.

Braakman Gets New Lang Ranges

A helpful innovation for the housewife may be seen in the New Lang ranges, now being displayed by H. S. Braakman at his Smith building hardware store. The fire box of the new ranges, some of which use wood as fuel exclusively, although others burn both wood and coal, is placed more toward the center of the stove. The arrangement is such that the oven is entirely encircled by the flames.

The range top is of polished steel, just as a restaurant range. Any kind of frying may be done on the top.

NATIONAL APPLE WEEK

October 31st - November 7th

The Northwestern Box Apple originated in Hood River about a quarter century ago. Twenty two years ago the first carload was shipped. This year the tonnage of luscious fruit will reach more than 2,500 cars. It behooves all Hood River, the home of the world's premier apples, to join wholeheartedly in celebrating a week when the nation will be thinking in terms of this king of fruits.

To stimulate interest, the International Apple Shippers' Association will award cash prizes for the best and next best decorated window, the display to place emphasis on apples as a food commodity and to emphasize as well the importance of the industry of growing them. All Hood River merchants are earnestly requested to participate.

All orchardists of the Valley have been invited to join the Tuesday Lunch Club in a luncheon, in honor of THE APPLE at the Columbia Gorge Hotel, next Tuesday at 12 M. It is requested, however, that all who expect to attend the luncheon, notify C. H. Sletton, Secretary of the Lunch Club, before noon, Monday, October 30.

BALDWIN & SWOPE TO BUILD CREAMERY

The Baldwin & Swope Company was awarded the contract last week for building a new concrete home for the Hood River Creamery. Excavation of the 100 by 50 foot site at the intersection of Sixth and Columbia streets has been completed, and work on the new structure, to be one story high, will be started at once.

The creamery building will be ready for occupancy by January 1. The new building will be as handsome as possible from an architectural standpoint, it is said.
