HOW MUCH WOOD IS IN A CORD?

A citizen asked this question of County Clerk Shoemaker last week. Mr. Shoemaker to confirm his own reply sought information of the department of weights and measures and he received the following reply from Deputy Wm. A. Dalziel:

"In answering your inquiry of October 26 relative to the following question, 'If a person buys a cord of 16-inch wood how many cubic feet should he receive?' I would say that according to the Oregon state law and opinion rendered by the attorney general, he should receive 128 cubic feet.

"I am inclosing you a copy of our pamphlet pertaining to laws of Weights and Measures Department and will refer you to pages 11 and 12 which I think will give you the desired information."

The laws cited are: Firewood shall be sold by the cord or fraction of a cord; coal shall be sold by the ton or fraction of a ton; ice shall be sold by weight, and in all sales of firewood, coal or ice, definite statement shall be made to the purchaser as to the amounts or quantities thereof. (Oregon Laws, Sec. 8115.)

Buy wood by the cord or fractional part thereof; ordering "by the load" is meaningless. A "load" of wood hauled in a small wagon might consist of less than half cord, and yet be a large load for that particular wagon. Under the "law" you are entitled to know the correct measure of the wood delivered; it must also be well piled, which means that "bulk heading," "bridging," and other "methods" of piling wood in a loose manner, are unlawful.

In order that wood dealers and consumers be treated fairly and impartially regarding the shrinkage of wood, this office advises that (unless sold by special contract) the wood carefully piled it should contain 128 cubic feet, but if the wood is sawed into 16-inch lengths after delivery and when repiled contains 116 cubic feet the wood dealer has delivered a legal cord of wood.

An order to a wood dealer for a cord of four-foot wood means that when the dealer delivers the wood carefully piled it should contain 128 cubic feet, but if the wood is sawed into 16-inch lengths after delivery and when repiled contains 116 cubic feet the wood dealer has delivered a legal cord of wood.

An order placed for a cord of wood which is sold in 16-inch lengths or other short wood of similar lengths such as block wood or chain wood from saw mills means that the dealer must deliver 128 cubic feet of wood.

When an order is placed for a cord of 4-foot wood with the request that the dealer saw it into 16 inch lengths before delivery, 116 cubic feet will constitute a legal cord.

Wood delivered in the condition in which it is purchased must contain 128 cubic feet to constitute a legal cord.

BLACK IS AT PORTLAND CONVENTION

W. M. Black, manager of the Hood River Creamery, left yesterday for Portland, where he will attend the annual convention of the Oregon State Buttermakers' Association. Mr. Black's creamery, which is now making preparations to move to a $10,000 new home January 1, has probably made greater headway in the past five years than any other institution of its kind in the state. The output has advanced from about 25,000 pounds annually to more than 200,000 pounds.

Mr. Black, before leaving for Portland prepared for exhibit at the Pacific Land Products Show an entry in the butter contest. He also entered a complimentary exhibit of butter. The entries were made from regular commercial churning.

BOWLING NEWS

Hood River wins again. The Blue Diamonds went to Portland Monday night and made another clean sweep by taking all three games from Uncle's Pies team and also bowled the high score so far this season of any team in the league, total 2889, beating the other team 120 pins per game. House was high with 612. Shy next with 593 and the other boys also right up there with good scores. This was Mr. House's last trip down and it will be hard to find a man to fill his shoes, as he bowls a very strong game. The boys all say, however, that they will do their best to keep the team on top where they are now and have been all season. They have won 18 games and lost six.

Scores were as follows:

Blue Diamonds—
House	179	197	236	612
Shy	220	190	183	593
Smith	164	189	189	542
Sherrill	120	213	163	576
Goodwin	173	203	191	567
Totals	535	992	9622	889
Uncle's Pies—
Meier	196	167	189	542
Boenje	180	148	189	517
Watkins	229	182	187	497
Hubbard	147	170	146	463
Flannagan	169	179	185	533
Totals	828	793	891	2512

LUTHERAN LADIES GIVE CHURCH ALTAR

The Ladies Aid of the Immanuel Lutheran church has donated to the church a handsome oak altar. Dedication exercises have been held. The altar is of solid oak, in a dark finish and harmonizing with the finish of the church's other interior woodwork. A handsome painting of Christ in the Garden of Gethsemane, executed by St. Paul, Minn., artist, adorns its center. The Young Peoples' Society of the church have presented the congregation with a stereopticon outfit, and Sunday evening the pastor, Rev. P. Bilgendorf, will give an illustrated lecture on "Moses the Emancipator." He plans on illustrated lectures twice monthly.

PHOENIX CAMP NOTES

The Phoenix Utility Co., which has been delayed in construction of a dam for the Pacific Power & Light Co., reports that adequate material is now available. The construction, which has completed the heaviest of the work on the new system, which will develop 10,000 horse power, has reduced its crew to 190 men. Later, when a three-mile pipe line is being laid, an additional 100 men will be needed for a short time.

Tourists All Head West

Although winter has made its appearance in the mid-Columbia district, a considerable traffic of motor tourists is noticeable here, and the municipal auto park is still occupied each night. For two weeks, however, the park has not been occupied by a party of motorists heading east. The traffic now is all toward the west.

"Most of those who now stop here," says Glen Sloan, custodian of the park, "are tourists from the middle west, who are headed by this route to California for the winter."
